

Hill and Dale Club Elects New Officers

(By Mrs. John Haase)
 FIRDALE IOWA HILL.—Mrs. Don Pearson entertained the Hill and Dale club December 9. Following officers were elected: Mrs. Don Pearson, president; Mrs. Will Hurler, vice-president; Mrs. Will Hurler, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Elmer Hoge, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Walbel, sewing leader. There were 12 members present. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Will Hurler January 13. Mr. and Mrs. W. Amann and son Walter, who formerly lived on the Dave Aradis place, have left this community.
 The Firdale card club met with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gurske Saturday night. High scores were won by Alvin Haase and Mrs. Sam Gerig, and low scores by Frank Walbel and Mrs. Tenna Pyle.

Christmas Seals Aid Girl to Health

 Found pencil and paper, and the next day the letter went on its way.
 Each day she watched the road, and then the car came, rolling to a stop before the house. The nurse alighted and came to the door. Eagerly the woman swung the door open and invited her visitor in.
 "I stopped on my way here," the nurse began, "and brought Mary along with me. We are going to see the doctor. Now don't you worry, and I'll bring her back as soon as the doctor has finished. She shouldn't have been in school and I am afraid she will need a long rest."
 The woman smiled and brushed a tear from the corner of one eye. There was relief in her voice when she answered.
 "I'm sorry. She should have been to a doctor, but you see, doctors and examinations cost money and I don't have the work I need to do."
 The nurse nodded. Her experiences of the last year or two had enlightened her in a number of ways, including an understanding of the pride which forbade charity.
 An hour later in the doctor's office awaiting their turn to enter the X-ray room, the nurse remarked:
 "This will be your Christmas present from the health association. Mary, this is Christmas Eve, you know, and the cost of the X-ray for your lungs will be paid for by the Christmas Seals."
 Slowly a smile lighted the pinched features and the thin, little shoulders lifted.
 "Then when I sold Christmas Seals, I was helping some other girl to the examination she needed."
 "Yes," replied the nurse, "and you helped yourself too."
 And there in the doctor's office the red, double barred cross took on celestial light to a little patient who the seals were starting back on the long road to health and happiness.
 She did return to health and happiness, too, the health records reveal, though the road was long and the battle hard fought, to bring the injured lungs back to life again.

Herbert L. Cowles Buried at Gaston

FOREST GROVE.—Herbert L. Cowles, 81, retired millwright, died at Salem December 9 and funeral services were held at the Forest Grove Undertaking company chapel Saturday. Interment was at Hill cemetery at Gaston.
 He was born in Illinois June 22, 1855, and married Hannah A. Hill at Gaston October 31, 1878. Deceased is survived by the following children: Mrs. Emily Churchill, Mrs. Bessie Coon, Hillsboro; Mrs. Mary Hanna, Sacramento, Cal.; Chester C. Cowles, Townsend, Mont.; Mrs. Sarah Rhombert, W 1113 Cowles, Portland; Elba Cowles, San Francisco; Mrs. Ruth Testerman, Eureka, Cal.

Romance That Rocked an Empire!

Friendship of Britain's King Edward shown above in royal regalia, for Mrs. Wallis Simpson, left, precipitated a "constitutional crisis" in the empire's affairs when he abdicated so that he might go into voluntary exile and wed the attractive former Baltimore divorcee. Without "special considerations" Mrs. Simpson's decree cannot become final before next April. When the story first broke on England Mrs. Simpson fled to Cannes, France, over the zigzag route shown by the map above, and went into seclusion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers, wealthy American friends.

Cornelius Resident 20 Years Passes

FOREST GROVE.—Edgar Alaven Sharp, 78, died in Hillsboro Friday and the body was sent to Williston, North Dakota, for burial. The Masonic lodge at Williston was in charge of the services. He had been a resident of Cornelius for 20 years.
 Mr. Sharp was born in Wisconsin January 21, 1858, and came to Oregon in 1916. Deceased is survived by the widow and two daughters, Mrs. O. R. Prible, Billings, Mont., and Mrs. E. E. Simonson, Fargo, N. D.

RIVER CHEATED

At that hour this man's body would have been in the waters of the Willamette. Instead there he was kneeling up front in the Mission hall pouring out his prayer in rich rounded tone and in no mean chance of words.
 As usual in the fall, the place was crowded and under the spell of the prayer going up, the men sat in respectful awe. One of their number was confessing his deliverance from self-destruction and along with it crying for help. It was such a prayer as the Apostle Paul made behind closed doors when he laid hold on the God of mercy for deliverance from that horn in the flesh—Too holy and intimate was that prayer for outside ears and yet the man prayed on.
 When he arose and the line began to move out from the benches and to shuffle toward the coffee, he told his story. Liquor had him and along with the curse of the thing, he felt a shame too. For—Back in the old country was his father holding high office in the state church—"And I studied for the priesthood myself," which accounted for his choice of words. There is a big swing of the pendulum from the father in high service abroad to the son in the grip of grog and about to end it all off the Burnside bridge.
 "How I came in here I do not know," the man told us. But God knew, and the river was cheated. And now we ask a question—Do you sleep under warm coverlets tonight? Then lift a prayer for this man and his kind who wander and sink unless we pray them through. And do you believe in Jesus Christ through whom pray.

ers for wayward sons are answered?

1. Christ was a great Teacher; you sit at his feet.
2. He was a great Pattern. You copy Him.
3. He was a great Martyr, some say, showing men how to die. And with Him as Teacher, Pattern and Martyr you can go on an unforgiven sinner all dressed in the robes of culture and good-citizenship to die lost. You will meet your life-sins at the Judgment throne unless you have Christ as Saviour—George N. Taylor, Beaverton.—Paid adv.
