Kansans Visits at Rock Creek Homes

(By Mrs. Frank Pezoldt)
ROCK CREEK—Mrs. Rose Wilson of Alida, Kan., visited relatives here the past week, among whom were her aunt, Mrs. Louisa Fugy, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Waeffer and Mr. and Mrs. John Schneider. Mrs. Wilson had been visiting her daughter in Seattle since October. She plans to visit another daughter in San Francisco and a sister in Denver, Colo., before returning home. Mrs. Wilson and her relatives here are members of the Peter Gfeller family, which, according to a Junction City, Kan., newspaper, held their fourth family reunion at Logan's Grove, Kan., last August 16. About 320 members were present. The paper also gave a short historical sketch of Peter and Anna Moser Gfeller.

Mrs. Louisa Fugy of this section is a daughter of Peter and Anna Moser Gfeller. She and one other daughter and two sons of the eleven children of Peter and Anna Gfeller are still living. A "family tree" was made and consists of about 1000 members. The "family tree branch" of Mrs. Louisa Fugy numbers 67 at the present time. Nine of these are living in the states of Washington and California. The rest are living in Oregon with the largest percent of these living in this county and a few in this community.

Eleanor Zuercher is teaching in a high school near Eugene. She is teaching several subjects. Miss Zuercher attended Reed and Linfield colleges. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zuercher.

Electricity Turned On

Local Youth Makes Progress in Army
PORTLAND—Major H. D. Bagwell, the army recruiting officer, 322 New Post Office building, Portland, announced today that a recent survey of the enlisted personnel of the 7th Infantry, stationed at Vancouver Barracks, Wash., reveals the fact that of the 1200 enlisted men assigned to the organization, no less than 200 are former Oregon residents.

One of these Oregon men, the major said, is Raymond A. Freel, son of Mrs. Emma P. Freel of Hillsboro. Freel completed three years service with this famous old organization on May 5, 1936, and liked it so well that he reenlisted the following day for the same outfit. On June 27, 1936, he qualified as expert rifleman, automatically increasing his pay by $5 per month. On August 5, 1936, he was promoted to the grade of corporal increasing his pay by another $12 per month.

All reports indicate that this soldier has an excellent record and that he will probably go far in the army.

Freel is now a member of Company G of the 7th Infantry.

Cyrus Speaker at Rotary Luncheon
Need of sufficient acreage for profitable farming operations was stressed in a talk before the Rotary club Thursday by County Agent W. F. Cyrus, who declared that many people have come here from the middle west with exaggerated possibilities of this country.

Cyrus said that 10 to 15 acres was not sufficient to support a family and that it was better for a person to put their money in equipment and rent a larger place, rather than to expect to make a living on a small tract.

Some of the logged-off land that has been settled would much better have been left idle, he said. It would in many cases be cheaper for the county and taxpayer if the land was classified in such a way that no attempt would be made to farm it.

As for farming opportunities there is little room for other than replacements or when larger units are divided, he said.

The 1937 federal program will mean approximately $200,000 earned in this county through revamping of farming system, Cyrus declared.

Freel is now a member of Company G of the 7th Infantry.
