

Banks Woman Celebrates Her 88th Birthday

(By Miss Mary Sandy)
BANKS—Mrs. M. A. Dodds celebrated her 88th birthday anniversary Monday. Mrs. Dodds is one of Oregon's oldest, if not the oldest native born citizen, having been born near Greenville in 1848. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Kimzey. Mrs. Dodds is the last of seven children, her last brother, Lerry Kimzey, having died a few years ago in Prairie City. When Mrs. Dodds was a little girl her family moved to Shasta Valley, Cal. Here she lived until she married John Dodds in 1864, when they moved back to Oregon, settling near what is now Cornelius. Later Mr. and Mrs. Dodds homesteaded the farm now known as the Davison farm, and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davison. They also lived ten years on the farm now known as the John Prickett place. Here Mr. Dodds died. Mrs. Dodds later lived in Hillsboro and then in Montana, where she nursed for ten years. She has lived in Banks for 26 years. She has two daughters, Mrs. Nora Dooley and Mrs. Hattie Davison, who live in Forest Grove, eight grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren, and a great-great-grandchild. Mrs. Dodds wants all her friends in the neighborhood to know she is well and doing her own housework.

U. X. COMPOUND. He writes:

Was Unable to Get Out of Bed Until R. U. X. Relieved Him.

"For several years I have been troubled with Rheumatic Pains in my arms and hands—sometimes so bad that I was forced to give up my work. Not long ago I was so bad I couldn't get out of bed! "I tried every treatment available—with no results. Then I bought WILLIAMS R. U. X. COMPOUND that I decided to try a bottle. In no time at all IT WORKED—and I realized that I had at last found the medicine for my trouble. It was amazing how quickly the muscular pains left my arms and hands. I was able to sleep nights without pain, have regained my appetite and have been able to return to work."—MR. DAVID MONROE, 2201 South Virginia, Reno, Nevada.

Lorraine Chase Helen Sahlfeld

Winners in the travel contest last year, pictured above, reported a "whale of a time" when they returned. Both expressed the opinion that the reward was worth the labor. Said Miss Chase: "This is a trip I always shall remember," and Miss Sahlfeld: "Our trip ended all too soon. We all were reluctant to go home." You, too, can see the sunny southland with all its alluring places. Read how on another page of this newspaper.

Argus Offers Trip South for Winner

 8:30 p. m. when the party will assemble for the beginning of the return trip. The Pullmans will be attached to the Klamath limited.

None Can Lose
 The contest has been so arranged that none can lose anything by the effort. While the girl obtaining the most credits will win, all others who abide by the rules governing the contest, will be eligible to a commission of 10 per cent on collections.

In connection with entering the contest, you are eligible if you are between the ages of 18 and 30 years, inclusive, and have no relatives employed on the Argus. However, correspondents for the Argus, or relatives, are eligible to enter.

Special prize of $5 is offered to the first person to nominate a successful candidate, thus giving a very special reason for getting your candidate into the field at once. An early start means an early lead. It is pointed out.

Example Given
 Here is an example of how the credits operate: For a one-year-advance new subscription at $1.50 the candidate receives 1000 credits, and for a renewal for the same period, 750 credits. Credits increase rapidly as the amount of the subscription increases, as for example, the three-year new subscription at $4.50 makes 6000 credits and a renewal for the same period allows 5000 credits. Only subscriptions inside the county will count toward credits.

For each club of $10 turned in by a candidate prior to February 27, 10,000 extra credits will be awarded. Nomination blank and complete rules will be found on another page. Read the rules carefully.

One rule, which all contestants should be familiar with, deals with reporting all collections for the Pass with his family until he finds a new location. Dean Sellers, son of the late W. T. Sellers, is a former resident of Banks and a graduate of Pacific university.

Miss Ruth Bailey spent the latter part of last week at the home of her parents on Green Mountain. Her father, Frank Bailey, is very ill. She reports that there is about four feet of snow on Green Mountain.
