

Mrs. McGee Postmistress; Warren Injured

(By Mrs. Gail Karns)
ORENCO—Monday morning Mrs. John McGee took over her new position as postmistress in the former Oregon Electric depot. She has all new equipment.

LeRoy Warren Injured
LeRoy Warren was injured in an automobile accident on the Canyon road just outside the city limits of Portland last Saturday. An account of the injury was given in the paper of the day. Letter from Flood Area is Shared
By Mrs. Ida Kays of Scholls
As a personal touch brings things to closer view I am sending part of a Cincinnati letter: "We are living in a suburb far from the river, so are not directly affected except from inconveniences of electric power cut off, and water rationed. The children are quite excited about the candle experience. It is surprising in how many ways we depend upon electricity in our modern day living, and we do not realize how great a blessing it is until we are left without it. So true of all our blessings, isn't it? "Cincinnati is a city of hills and valleys, an abundance of beautiful scenery. Until cars, not in emergency service, were banned from streets we made a number of trips to lofty peaks where we got bird's eye views of many inundated sections, complete suburbs submerged, with only roof-peaks and chimneys of two-story houses showing above the water. In the business districts, the water on many streets is up to second floors. Mr. D. has been out on relief service for several days."

Mrs. Woodward Home
Mrs. L. T. Woodward returned home from the hospital last Wednesday. Mrs. Woodward is much improved, but is still confined to her bed. Mrs. F. E. Kenyon of Longview, Wash., is taking care of her.

Mother, Baby Home
Mrs. Richard Baughman and small daughter Dixie Rochelle returned home Monday. Mrs. John Gottlieb, mother of Mrs. Baughman, is spending several days with them.

Miss Tontz, painted a very vivid word picture of the work at the mission and displayed articles of clothing and other things of interest from there. Miss Tontz is on a year's furlough. She arrived in Portland last fall. The Beaverton church contributes to the support of Mt. Schindler station.
