Library News

Two new novels on the rental shelf, both by authors whose books you have enjoyed, "Sound of Running Feet," by Joseph Lawrence, author of "If I Had Four Apples." This is the third great story of American life and enlightenment, an engrossing and enlightening story of people we all know; built upon the ever present conflict between our personal hopes and ambitions and the demands of our daily job.

"Sand Castles" by Janet Beith whose novel "No Second Spring" won a $20,000 prize Her latest book "Sand Castles" is a full blooded story of two brothers, who came from their Scotch country home to seek their fortunes in Manchester. They made their way in the cotton trade and both of them fell in love with the same girl. The changes of the period following the Boer war bring fortune to the surviving brother. The story is told with force and sympathy.

Federal grants as may be available through the Public Works administration.

Authority is also to be vested in the board of control to purchase an office building in Portland for state purposes. Such a building would be financed without cost to the taxpayer, the cost to be met through rentals to be paid by departments occupying the building. Several Portland buildings are being offered the state, including the Oregon building, now partly occupied by state departments, and the Elks Temple.

Easy Death Promise

The hangman's noose which served Oregon for these many years in carrying out the death penalty is now to be retired in favor of lethal gas. The legislature has authorized the change. Cost of the gas chamber and necessary equipment is estimated at $300.

The criminal syndicalism law, which has been on the Oregon statute books ever since the days of the World war, has been repealed at last. In its place the legislators have written a new statute defining the crime of conspiracy which makes it a crime for two or more persons to conspire together to commit a felony.

Vote Again

It now looks as though the people of Oregon were to have another chance to vote on an increase in the pay of the legislators. A resolution which has the backing of the State Grange, Federation of Labor and American Legion has been introduced. It bears the names of 12 senators and 32 representatives, which practically insure its passage without much difficulty.

Let This Be a WARNING

(Reprinted from Hillsboro Argus, February 25, 1937)

When a son of Ed Wendt, farmer near Hillsboro, became suspicious that $4.20 was an excessive charge for a radio tube, despite the fact that the farm radio was made to speak up like a politician at a rally, a search was begun by state policeman, Walt Hadfield, which brought the salesman into the hands of the law near Newberg last week.

The salesman, appearing at the Wendt home, explained carefully that he was checking the performance of radios for one of the large manufacturers. A bad tube was discovered and replaced by a new one. The new tube, the salesman said, was a very special make, guaranteed for nearly five years of service and was worth $4.20.

A check of all catalogues and advice from nearby radio stores, failed to disclose any new tubes worth that much, and the police were notified. The son also had taken the number of the car.

Save money by dealing with a reputable, established Radio Service Dealer near you. We use the highest quality parts and tubes at standard prices and will be here ready and anxious to back up our guarantee.
