

Green Mountain Grange Plans for Activities

(By Mrs. Jesse Meyers)

BUXTON—Green Mountain Grange met at their hall March 20. Hillsboro and Riverside Granges were represented. Master Craft of Riverside Grange presented this Grange with the state traveling gavel. Green Mountain Grange in turn will present the gavel to Gale Grange.

County Council to Meet

April 14 the Grange county council will meet here and April 25 Washington County Pomona Grange will meet with this Grange. Next regular meeting of the Grange will be April 17. The lecturer's hour was in recognition of the foreign born members present. Overseer, Mrs. Rose Bellish, gave a demonstration of Bohemia showing how a mother carried her baby from the shawl tied on her head and neck leaving the mother's arms free. She also told of the cookery there. Mrs. L. L. Crawford, a native of Nova Scotia, told of the strict religious lives and observance of Sunday in the homes when she was a girl and of hearing the tides come in from the Bay of Fundy. Mrs. Charles Goodrich, native of Sweden, told of spinning, weaving, knitting in the long winter nights of that region by kerosene lights. Mrs. Alfred Nordgren of Forest Grove, also a native of Sweden, was impressed more by the beauty of the sunrise at the time of the midnight sun when she was a girl.

Mrs. Emma Maynard, Canadian born 75 years ago, who was unable to attend on account of illness, sent a prepared speech emphasizing the peace between these two countries through a period of 100 years. Her exhibit consisted of a shirt and a piece of linen made by her grandmother more than 80 years ago and a photograph of her mother, who made the shirt.

Joe Pongratz Sr. told of his former home in Bavaria. He came from Bavaria in 1883.

A sleeping beauty drama was given by the school children. Alpha Mae Peterson was the sleeping beauty; LeRoy Whiteside, prince; Wauneta Cearley, wicked fairy; Lester Moen and Shirley White, courtiers. A harmonica quartet was given by four of the children. Edwin Quier, and Dan Burkhalter, 73 years old, a Hillsboro gave a hermonic solo. Both solos were accompanied by Mrs. Hiatt of Forest Grove.
