

West Half of Sunset League Changes Name

Changes in the county baseball setup, effected this week, abandon the two divisions of the Sunset league and bring into being the Tualatin Valley league to replace the Western Sunset.

Teams of the Eastern Sunset remain the same, with six towns represented, while the new Tualatin Valley group has added Carlton and Amity making eight teams. The original six included North Plains, Reedville, Twin Oaks, Beaverton, Aloha and Cornelius. Beaverton, Aloha and Cornelius have been postponed and will be played later in the season, while present plans call for the season to open with the scheduled games of April 25.

Last year this group of teams was rated at least third best league in the state although there was some question as to whether or not the league should be rated in second place, topped only by the Greater Portland league.

Official schedule for the season was announced this week as follows:

- April 18 Cornelius at Reedville, Carlton at Amity, Aloha at Twin Oaks, Beaverton at North Plains.
- April 25 Reedville at Carlton, North Plains at Aloha, Amity at Beaverton, Twin Oaks at Cornelius.
- May 2 Beaverton at Twin Oaks, Aloha at Reedville, Cornelius at Amity, Carlton at North Plains.
- May 9 North Plains at Twin Oaks, Reedville at Beaverton, Aloha at Aloha, Carlton at Beaverton.
- May 16 Twin Oaks at Reedville, Beaverton at Carlton, Aloha at Cornelius, Amity at North Plains.
- May 23 Twin Oaks at Amity, North Plains at Reedville, Cornelius at Beaverton, Aloha at Carlton.
- May 30 Carlton at Twin Oaks, Beaverton at Aloha, Reedville at Amity, Cornelius at North Plains.
- June 6 Reedville at Cornelius, Amity at Carlton, Twin Oaks at Aloha, North Plains at Beaverton.
- June 13 Carlton at Reedville, Aloha at North Plains, Beaverton at Amity, Cornelius at Twin Oaks.
- June 20 Twin Oaks at Beaverton, Reedville at Aloha, Amity at Cornelius, North Plains at Carlton.

Out of Texas Comes Byron Nelson, Newest Flash on the Golf Horizon

Meteoric Rise Is Threat to Big Pro Titles

BY PHILIP MARTIN

METEORICALLY, a new figure has flashed across the golf horizon. A rough-riding, hell-for-leather Texan named Byron Nelson, by virtue of his sensational victory in the annual Augusta, Ga., Masters' tournament, has "histed" himself by his bootstraps into the top flight of the professional golfers' ranks.

But victory alone didn't qualify the Lone Star golfer for fame; rather the manner in which he achieved his triumph marked him as a great linksmen.

Trailing Ralph Guldahl by four strokes on the last nine in the 72-hole tournament, Nelson came on like a house afire to pick up six strokes on two holes and turn in one of the greatest competitive cards in the game's annals—a performance the golfing world will have occasion to remember for a long time.

On the short 12th and the long 13th of Bobby Jones' layout, the slim fellow scored a birdie two and an eagle three, to blast the heart out of Guldahl and card 283 for a two-stroke victory.

Nelson's victory was no flash in the pan. Last year he served ample notice on the old guard that he was going to cause plenty of trouble when he won the Metropolitan Open at Mamaronock, N. Y. There again a 283 score was good enough to best such tournament golfers as Craig Picard, Paul Runyan, and Henry Picard, the defending champion. And, to observers, Nelson's game was flawless.

Byron Nelson... his victory was no flash in the pan.

PICARD himself gave experts an inkling of what was to come after that tournament. "That Texan is a gambler when it comes to making risky shots," he stated. "Bold is hardy the word for it. He is downright reckless, but he has the skill to get away with it.

Scores One of Greatest Cards Ever Made

"I believe in going for everything within reason, but I weigh the odds in each case, take the lay of the ground into consideration, and act accordingly. If the pin is cut right on the edge of a deep bunker, I will play for the flag is open, I'll take a whack at it.

"This wild buckaroo from Texas, however, goes all out for the flag, no matter how many hazards are around it. With Byron, it's either a 3 or a 6. I surely admire the kid's nerve."

This season, Nelson, a much improved golfer, is getting his 6's with marked irregularity, and pros are finding him a very tough customer to beat.

The 25-year-old former Fort Worth railroad clerk has taken the place of Picard and Paul Runyan, who have come on at a fast pace the last couple of years to lead the money-winning pros and establish themselves as netoplers.

Nelson, if he continues to improve, will be a big problem in the National Open and P. G. A. this year. He has the ideal pro temperament; he is cool, willing to gamble, and long of the tee. —and anyone who can come close to being half as good as the stocky Italian was in his prime, or even as he was two years ago when he scored his famous double-eagle at Augusta, is good enough to keep company with the best golfers in the country today.

County League Will Postpone Opening Here

Grand opening of the Washington county baseball league, scheduled for Hillsboro Sunday with all six teams playing, following a program which included a parade through the downtown streets and speaking, has been definitely postponed until April 25, because of heavy rains and the condition of the playing field, it was announced.

Future of the Hillsboro team of the new league seems bright with Wes Claussen, coach, prepared to present a team of young high school stars, which will make one of the youngest teams in the league and furnish a speedy brand of baseball.

Banks, Roy and Verboort will be represented by H. C. McDonald, Ed Bernard and Bill Soher, tried veterans of last year's Sunset aggregation. Gaston, with Al Smith, is presenting a strong team of experienced men and the Farmers' Union team of Laurel, with Charles Robinson and Farmer Union league.

Members of last year's squad reporting this year for practice include Allen Sigler, Clifford Betzer, Wesley Kuehman, Paul Rucker, Henry Teguhawa, Bob Sutherland, Don Kerkman, Homer Churchley, Walter Foelker and Tokio Inohara. New candidates trying for positions include Elmer Rollins, Bob Heinrich, Harry Wolahn, Harold Wolahn, Earl Fields, Billy McNay, Ted Gardner, Leo Spiering, Kenneth George, Ed Grogan, Edward Henry and Bud Hines.

The pitching staff probably will be selected from Harold Wolahn, Ed Grogan, Walter Foelker, Harry Wolahn and Henry Teguhawa. Last year Allen Sigler played first base; Clifford Betzer, second; Wesley Kuehman, shortstop; Paul Rucker, Bob Sutherland, Homer Churchley and Don Kerkman, field. Tokio Inohara worked at second base and Foelker did some pitching.

Hilli Athletes Await Return of Good Weather

High school athletes came to a virtual halt again this week with baseball practice needed and trackmen yet untried.

Members of the baseball squad has been working out under the direction of Coach Claussen and the outlook for a good team seems bright. Head Coach B. M. Goodman reports.

SEE THE PLOWS THAT LOOP THE LOOP!

Adjustable 14 to 19 inches

Instead of pushing earth to one side, Oliver Big Base Plows lift and turn it completely over, with a circular "loop the loop" motion. Surface trash is completely buried. Weed seeds are sunk forever. Insect eggs are too deep down to hatch. Heavy cover crops of sweet clover, cornstalks or combine stubble are completely buried.

Don't forget, either, that this "looping-the-loop" crumbles and pulverizes the soil more thoroughly—leaving it free from lumps and clods and in the best possible condition for a new crop. You'll also want to see the patented Depth Adjustment Screw. Only Oliver has it—so that your plow depth can be changed while in motion, and with less effort than it takes to turn a grindstone.
