Townsendites Discuss Bill

Rev. R. L. Putnam, pastor of the Christian church and former president of the Hillsboro Townsend club, spoke before the club Monday night in the M. E. church, Dr. Townsend, national head of the organization, will speak at the Portland auditorium Sunday afternoon, May 2, at 7:30. It was announced.

He gave a section analysis of the "General Welfare Act of 1937," the new pension legislation, which the Townsend movement is attempting to have passed by the present congress.

Explains Law
Rev. Putnam explained that the author of the bill is Arthur L. Johnson, congressman from California, who is a widely known constitutional lawyer, legislative expert and leading authority on labor laws.

Under his guidance more than 300 changes have been made in the original bill during two years of study. On this re-draft, Rev. Putnam said, Congressman Johnson reviewed every decision of the U. S. supreme court during the last 147 years that might have a bearing on the proposed bill.

This new act, the speaker continued, is based on the welfare clause of the national constitution, and will make American citizens only 60 years old and more, eligible for an annuity not to exceed $200 a month, the whole amount to be spent within 30 days for American services and commodities.

Tax for Fund
The fund set up under the law is self-perpetuating due to a large monthly revolving fund created by a national two per cent transaction tax upon the gross dollar value of each transaction, and the gross market value of all transfers of money or property bequest, inheritance or gift, and the same to be paid by "the vendor, transferee, grantor, assignor, lessor, renter, lender, depositor or pledgee."

The fund would be collected by the international revenue department and placed in a special fund with the provision that surplus may be used to retire the national debt. New boards, bureaus or officers will not be created, and administrative

Long Trip South Pleases Winner

Sunshine Pleases
All of the trip was in sunshine, through balmy weather with trees green and flowers blooming everywhere.

"I nearly lost my appetite for the movies in Hollywood," Miss Meek declared. "We visited there at noon and of course no one was working and the stages were empty, but everything was so artificial. The houses were just fronts and even the trees were just stuck into the ground."

She saw and talked with a number of the movie stars and visited with Victor McLaglen, who was a passenger on the boat to Santa Catalina to hunt the wild goats which live in the hills on the island.

Ghost Town
Agua Caliente is a ghost town, Miss Meek declared in summing up her impressions of old Mexico. Tia Juana also is nearly a dead place, although plans now are on foot to rebuild the race tracks.

In Tia Juana, the party had dinner, but the Spanish dishes served were not hot from the stove and the flavor failed to impress the visitors, she said.

Makes A Wish
Out of San Diego, the party visited Ramona's Marriage Place, interesting and beautiful. Here Miss Meek dropped a coin into the wishing well and made her wish, which she wishes may come true.

Chinatown in San Francisco proved interesting, although overrun with tourists.

Miss Meek declared that she arrived home with a suitcase full of souvenirs and an ambition to repeat the trip, or one similar, at some future time.

She praised the train and hotel accommodations, and the courtesy
