The story is based on Martha Jane's wedding which is hurriedly rushed because Ellis, the bridegroom, has to leave unexpectedly for Hawaii. The story centers around a southern family, and the difficulties that the bridesmaids and ushers encounter while practicing to be in Martha Jane's wedding. Musical numbers between acts will be "Wedding Chorus" from Lohengrin, girls' chorus; "I Love You Truly" (Carrie Jacobs-Bond) by girls' trio, and "Through the Years" (Vincent Youmens) by girls' chorus.

Employment is being given to hundreds of disabled men who are drawing little or no government compensation and are unable to do other work. Men with families to support receive preference. The program is directed by the state or local office of the Auxiliary and coordinated through the national organization.
