

Legion Junior Baseball Boys Meet Saturday

Washington county boys, who did not reach their seventeenth birthday before March 31, have been invited to report at the Shute park ball diamond Saturday at 2 p.m. for the preliminary organization of the Legion junior baseball team.

The team must be fully organized by June 30 and ready for competitive playing. Building hopes on last year's talent, the baseball committee this year expects to produce a team which will "go places."

Thursday night the newly appointed Citizen-Legion baseball committee met in the chamber of commerce rooms and organized for the season with Ed L. Moore, secretary of the chamber, as chairman.

Citizen members include Moore, Robert Burlingame, S. E. Fayram, Fred Sewell, Ralph Kreitz, George Wick, Mrs. Elizabeth Abrams, Mrs. Russell Trindle and Mr. Hugo Gindl.

In connection with organization work, the committee discussed transportation of players and finances. The team will be limited to 15 players selected from among the most outstanding talent.

County League Games Delayed

National Guards Win from Cornelius

Washington County Baseball League was rained out Sunday, which gave the weaker teams a chance to recuperate and add new men. As a result several upsets are looked for in Sunday's play.

Games scheduled for Sunday are Banks at Twin Oaks against Farm Union, which has added several new players; Hillsboro, with a few new faces, is to travel to Banks to meet Roy, which has changed managers with Tom Storey at the helm.

Verboort plays at Gaston in what promises to be the real pitching battle of the day, with two youthful hurlers on the mound who have put in the most outstanding performances of the season. They are Jansen of Verboort and VanLoo of Gaston, who have won their league starts in grand style.

Wes Schulmerich Signs as Manager

Wes Schulmerich, famed Hillsboro athlete, signed last week to manage the Lewiston club of the Western International League and took charge immediately. He was released by the Portland Beavers May 8 after ten years of big time baseball.

Wes, three-year football star at Oregon State, was sixth high batter in the National League in 1933, when with the Philadelphia team.

Forest Grove Man Sets Jump Record

Forest Grove high school captured the field and track meet of District 6 Saturday at Pacific University by amassing 41 points to the Seaside total of 39½. Schultz of Forest Grove was high point man with 16½ points.

Schultz also was the sensation of the meet when he set a new broad jump record of 23 feet 2 inches, exceeding the old mark of 22 feet 6 inches by 8 inches. Hillsboro did not enter.

Schultz also won the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Other county places included Davis, St. Mary's, 5th in broad jump; Taptet, Forest Grove, fifth, shot put; Ames, Forest Grove, first; 120-yard hurdles with West, Beaverton, second; Mills, Forest Grove, third, and Peterkot, Beaverton, fourth.

Security Account Cards Counterfeit

Instances of alleged counterfeit social security account cards being used for identification in cashing checks has brought from the social security board a caution that cards issued by the board are selectively for identification purposes under the social security act.

"Possession of an account card holds no particular significance for the financial responsibility of the individual," James E. Peebles, field representative in charge of the Portland office of the bureau of federal old-age benefits of the social security board, announced here today.

SECOND-HAND FOOL

"From seventeen until I was twenty, I was a second-hand fool and I got it from another fool."

"Then you got it second-hand." A SECOND-HAND FOOL, we suggested—"Yes and I believe most people who say there is no God get it from someone else without thinking for themselves."

It was none other than Rev. G. Hafner, now for over forty years pastor of the First German Reformed church, Portland, who so spoke of his early years. Then living in a Swiss town, a barber, of clean life, ambitious, up at three and four in the morning to study French, but "such a heavy heart through those years when he believed there was no God. He speaks of being up on one of their mountains and looking down on the cattle feeding in the valley and wishing he were one of them. Then as a brute beast he would be rid of that heavy heart."

Another young workman of the town came into faith in Christ as his Saviour and told his joy to young Hafner—"How any sane man could believe in the Bible was beyond me, but God got the hooks into me through that young man's words, "the pastor tells it.

Then came the purchase of a Bible. He was much impressed with the sermon on the Mount (Mt. chapter 5-7) and agreed that even if there were no God, none other ever spoke as Christ did. In all, he tells of six months of groping toward the Light. Timid, fearful, on occasion slipping into a hall where the Bible was taught and helped by tract-material printed in the local paper by a business man in pond-for space.

At last came that day of days. In the pastor's words, it was a "Spiritual Vision." He saw as there present Christ dying for his sins. "But it cannot be for me, I am too great a sinner, Lord." But the still small voice said it was for him that Christ died. "I took Him then and there and knew that God had made me his own." The heavy heart filled with joy and the joy lasts all these years. So came Pastor Hafner by "Spiritual Vision" but "Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed"—George N. Taylor, Beaverton—Paid ad.

Pedestrian Loser

One-third of all the deaths due to automobile accidents in 1936 took place on open highways, traffic experts credit this high toll to excessive speed and lack of pedestrian protection.

Night Games Assured Here Under Lights

Arrangements were completed this week between the union high school board, committee of Hillsboro businessmen and the PEP company to install lights on the high school athletic field.

Lights will be used this summer for softball games, and during the autumn for high school football.

The installation included 48 lights burning 1500 watts which will furnish ample light for the field at all times the committee anticipates.

Special rate on electricity was granted by the general office of the PEP company, the officials pointing out that the company would be pleased to make this concession in view of the public nature of the enterprise.

A fund, begun by the Hillsboro Men's Breakfast club last autumn, and completed through a solicitation by C. E. Wells and Orange Phelps, will be ample to pay cash for the lights, according to James Wells, chairman of the committee in charge.

The opening game probably will be played the second week in June when the public will be offered a special program and a charge of 25 cents admission will be made. Thereafter the schedule calls for softball games three times a week for which 10 cents will be charged. All children under 14 years will be admitted free.

Library Notes

Hillsboro library is up-to-date, according to recent check with a late list of current library favorites made from reports of public libraries in 25 large cities. We have eight out of the ten fiction listed and eight of the non-fiction books in the list of ten.

Recent additions, "Lena Geyer," by Marcia Daverton. It is the life story of a woman's ceaseless quest for perfection in her art, as told by her friends. It gives a picture of the opera before the war when opera was at its height. But whether you like opera or not you will enjoy the story of this vital and passionate personality. Author is the daughter of Alma Gluck.

"Paradise" by Esther Forbes, an exceptional historical novel. "Paradise" was the name given the homeestead built by Parre, a pioneer who with others established a colony near Boston. Puritanism flourished but so did profligacy and unscrupulous dealing with the Indians, which culminated in King Philip's war.
