

Koch, Pearson Named School Heads Firdale

FIRDALE-IOWA HILL—At the school meeting held at Firdale Monday evening Herman Koch was elected as new principal and Don Pearson as new director for the coming year.

Last Tuesday evening ladies of the Hill and Dale club met at the home of Mrs. Don Pearson to make over some clothes for a needy family. They will meet again at the same place Wednesday afternoon.

Picnic Postponed
Annual picnic of the Hill and Dale club, which was to be held last Sunday at Shute park, has been postponed until some later time, because of the bad weather.

Berry Crop Damaged
The rain has done considerable damage to the strawberry crop and some people have all black and spoiled, but the rain did wonders for the spring sown grain.

Dance Called Off
There will be no Farmers' Union dance this Saturday as the count of the candidates' ball in Hillsboro.

Veterans' Groups Sponsor Program

night in the park auditorium when the crown will be placed on the lucky girl's head by L. V. Jenkins, Portland police inspector. The "Goddess" and her attendants will be chosen at ceremonies in the auditorium Saturday night, June 26.

There are 20 girls in the contest, which is sponsored by the Hillsboro Business and Professional Women's club.

On the following three days there will be a continuous program, featuring the rodeo with famous riders, ropers, bulldozers, clowns, music and a big string of wild range horses to be ridden, and long-horned steers from cattle country for the bulldozers.

Every band in the county is scheduled for an appearance during the three days, with all of them taking part in the big parade sponsored by the Hillsboro Rotary club.

Three Orchestras Engaged
Three orchestras will furnish music for the dancing, which runs continuously on the big auditorium floor with the exception of Sunday.

Sunday a special program for the day has been prepared, with the main feature a county-wide, old-fashioned, community picnic with a long list of contests of various kinds under the direction of a committee from the Hillsboro Men's Breakfast club.

On the midway will be the Browning Brothers' carnival company with a bigger midway than ever occupying the space on the south side center of the park.

Dillon Lands Carnival
Dillon, who made a trip last week to several carnivals and celebrations in this part of the state, returned with word that he saw no midway which could compare with the one to be set up here.

"After seeing the condition of some of these other carnival companies, and watching the types of games and shows, I am more than ever pleased to remember that we have engaged the Browning company."

"Unpainted and worn rides; games which very apparently were distinctly gambling, and general attitude of the attendants, certainly is a contrast with the up-to-date company engaged for Hillsboro," Dillon declared.

Cable Receives Medal
Barney Cable, salesman for the local office of Portland Gas & Coke company, has been awarded a "Golden Faucet" medal for his April sales of automatic storage gas water heaters, according to T. H. Bailey, district manager. The award is a divisional monthly prize in competition conducted by the American Gas Association.

Wins Prize
Paul Matteson, service man in the Cady Motor company garage, this week won $5 from the "Mystery Man" of the Gates Fan Belt company. The "Mystery Man" travels from garage to garage with a worn fan belt on his motor. The service man who tries to sell him a new Gates belt wins the cash award.

Divorce Suits Filed
Johnson—Dorothy against Sidney.
Wilson—Dorothy against Harvey.

Perhaps Oregon's oddest bug is the blackberry mite. Fruit attacked by this very small insect remains hard and red and is preserved for many weeks, almost as if it were in the best of refrigerators.

The female European earwig, now widely distributed in Oregon, protects its eggs and mothers its young like an old hen.

Right-of-Way Wrong
Failure to grant right-of-way causes 31 per cent of all automobile accidents in Oregon, the Oregon State Motor association comments.

Mitchell, prominent Oregon nurseryman, presided at the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Nurserymen held jointly with the Oregon Association of Nurserymen in Portland June 9, 10 and 11. Five presidents for the industry covering the nation, were in attendance. Mitchell is president of the Pacific coast association. W. J. Enschede of near Hillsboro is treasurer of the Oregon association.

Mitchell was chairman of the executive committee for the convention. Enschede was a member of the committee on rose show and nursery exhibits, and Mrs. Mitchell was chairman of the committee on ladies entertainment.

Many Attend First Guernsey Tour

First Guernsey Breeders' club tour and picnic Wednesday for this county resulted in an attendance of 40. Basket lunch and meeting was in Laura Community hall at noon after visits to the Christensen and Mulloy farms near there. After lunch the group visited the Taylor Guernsey herd and the Hult farm near Hillsboro.

C. W. "Jack" Robinson, fieldman for the American Guernsey Cattle club, spoke on progress of Guernseys in Oregon. Washington county Guernsey breeders are the first in Oregon to re-organize and adopt a program, he said.

George A. Angell, editor Oregon Farmer, reviewed the history of the breed, and W. F. Cyrus, county agent, spoke on irrigated pasture management.

Some of the highest producing cows in Oregon were found on the tour in this county, Robinson said.

THE LAWS TO COMBAT SYPHILIS

(By State Board of Health)
Today on a basis of incidence, syphilis as a public health problem is four times greater than tuberculosis, twelve times greater than diphtheria, twenty-three times greater than typhoid and sixty-nine times greater than infantile paralysis. There is no evidence that syphilis has decreased in recent years, but on the other hand it appears to be increasing. Annually more than three thousand new cases of syphilis occur in young persons between sixteen and thirty-five years of age in this state. Less than one-third of these cases are receiving adequate treatment to insure a cure.

Cases failing to continue treatment or to exercise proper precautions must be reported immediately to the health authority. Infected persons are not allowed to move from one jurisdiction to another without obtaining a permit from the state health officer. Infected persons who are unable to pay shall be treated at public expense. Violations of the law are punishable as misdemeanors. The state board of health is authorized to make suitable rules and regulations for the control, treatment and isolation or quarantine under the provisions of this act.

Many insects possess various protective devices. These devices are hairs, stings, odors, flavors, and irritants. In the eastern states only cactuses will feed on hairy caterpillars. Blister beetles with their irritant fluids are apparently immune from all but the king bird.

Bold Prints Back for Bathing

shall be regarded as being infectious unless a licensed physician has examined the case and has reported to the local health department that the case is not infectious. If there is any reason to question the decision of the physician, the health officer may according to the law review the case and have an examination made by a physician of his choice. The opinion of this physician as to the infectiousness of the case is final.

Briefly the law makes the following provisions: That a certificate of freedom from venereal disease shall not be issued to prostitutes or other lewd persons suspected or infected persons refusing examination or treatment shall be isolated until such persons are determined by suitable examination to be non-infectious; persons in the food handling business or in the occupation of such nature that the infection may be transmitted to others. Physicians are required to report cases by number, to determine the source of the infection and to treat these infected cases until they are no longer infectious. It is also their duty to see that these patients carry out precautionary measures to prevent the spread of the disease.

Cases failing to continue treatment or to exercise proper precautions must be reported immediately to the health authority. Infected persons are not allowed to move from one jurisdiction to another without obtaining a permit from the state health officer. Infected persons who are unable to pay shall be treated at public expense. Violations of the law are punishable as misdemeanors.
