

Girl Reserves Enjoy Meeting at Seabeck, Wn.

(By Jean Person)
Monday morning, June 21, at 7:15, fifty Girl Reserves of the Portland area, including Salem, Forest Grove, Hillsboro and Beaverton, boarded a chartered bus bound for Seabeck, Wash. After a scenic trip we arrived at the Girl Reserve conference at 2:15.

"Seabeck is on Puget Sound with the Olympic mountains in the background. It is hard to describe the calm, peaceful atmosphere of that picturesque spot. A lagoon for boating and swimming is in front of the buildings.

"We were assigned to cottages adjacent to the lodge, there being 10 to 25 girls and one house mother to each cottage.

"We were fortunate in having a lovely library full of histories, poetry, fiction, reference books and magazines.

"Dinner that evening began ten glorious, inspiring days with girls from Vancouver, B. C., and Washington. There were 135 girls, 25 counselors and a staff of college students, who managed the work.

"Our time was well taken up with helpful discussion groups such as 'Growing Up Emotionally,' 'After School What?' 'Democracy of Our Clubs,' etc., learning new songs, workshop, hikes, tennis, golf, rest and worship.

"In the evening after dinner there were group activities—a walk to the old cemetery, stargazing, feast night when the girls enjoy their boxes from home, and a talk and movie on Art.

"Sunday, the 27th, was Visitors' day, and some of us took a ferry ride across the Sound to Brinnon. Later everyone enjoyed a picnic at Moale Beach.

"Wednesday evening was the end of a conference of wonderful training and instruction and a grand vacation. All of the girls were dressed in their uniforms. The tables at the banquet were arranged to form the Girl Reserve emblem—a triangle within a circle. After a lovely ceremony in different parts of the camp, each girl carried a lighted candle on a piece of wood and walking on opposite sides of the lagoon, where two docks extend out on the water, set the candles afloat.

"The next morning our feelings were divided in that we were anxious to get home and that we didn't want to leave beautiful Seabeck. We left after breakfast and arrived in Portland at 5. The home-coming was certainly a happy one, for don't our towns always look better after we've been away?"

Girl Reserves attending the conference from Hillsboro were Mary Ann Garthofner, Betty Rosecrans, Ann Peters, and Jean Person.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—The Democratic party in Congress is divided against itself. A rump group of leaders has demonstrated its ability to take over the wheel when the conservative Democratic leadership cannot steer the President's program.

These rump leaders are revolting against the efforts of the "battalion of death" group and a strong southern contingent which hopes to bring the President's plans to a dead halt this session and prevent him from dictating the Democratic nomination in 1940. The unofficial call to arms for this group is the question, "Who won the last election?"

The most conspicuous rump leaders are Senators Hugo Black of Alabama, Alben Barkley of Kentucky, Lew Schwelienbach of Washington, Sherman Minton of Indiana and Bob La Follette of Wisconsin. They are, for the most part, young men, and they differ in one important particular from their opponents in that generally they have been more recently elected to office.

The liberals in the House group, which includes Progressives and Farmer-Laborites from Wisconsin and Minnesota, respectively, is led by Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas. But Speaker Bankhead, who formally is the leader of the House, and Majority Leader Sam Rayburn and Rules Chairman John O'Connor, have been co-operating more with Roosevelt than with the Senate Leadership, whose members are accused by Roosevelt partisans of everything from "sitting ducks" to actual revolt.

THE regular leaders are bewildered and resentful over the rise of the rump leaders. Referring to the regular leadership, one must include the chairman of the chief House and Senate committees, Committee chairmanships are passed out on a basis of seniority. That means that most committee chairmen are conservative southern members who have been in Congress many years.

Some of these chairmen and other leaders are confused because those men upon whom they have been accustomed to rely for financial support in campaigns have demanded that they stop following White House orders.

There is anger especially over Roosevelt's encouragement of labor organization; the Black-Connery wage and hour bill and the expenditures for relief. This opposition, sometimes allied with the "battalion of death" group, has made an effort to humble the President and that effort has been reflected in Congress, especially in the Senate.

Majority Leader Robinson of Arkansas can hardly be said to be in revolt against presidential policy. His loyalty to Roosevelt is almost incredible. But he plainly showed his concern over federal spending and debt. And his relief bill amendment requiring localities to contribute 25 per cent to WPA projects costs when able was a harmony move.

Deceased is survived by the widow and a son Clarence of Forest Grove.

There is no more valuable subordinate than the man to whom you can give a piece of work and then forget it, in the confident expectation that the next time it is brought to your attention it will come in the form of a report that the thing has been done. The man to whom an executive is most grateful, the man whom he will value most, is the man who accepts responsibility and goes ahead and does his task in an efficient, self-reliant manner.—Gifford Pinchot.
