Prohibition Mass Meeting on Sunday

The churches of the city are holding a union prohibition mass meeting Sunday, 8 p. m., at the Methodist church. Hayward Johnson, Superintendent of the Anti-Liquor League of Oregon, will be the speaker. Mr. Johnson is a dramatist and speaker of national note. The public is invited.

This meeting, under the auspices of the local Ministerial Association, is the second of a series of educational meetings planned by the local churches in order that the true facts may become known.

"Repeal is a failure," declared R. L. Putnam, secretary of the local Ministerial Association, "and prevailing conditions and flagrant and ever-growing violations of the liquor traffic challenges the church to militant action."
