

P. T. A. Will Hold Reception Monday

New teachers, parents that are new in the community and parents of beginning pupils will be honored by the Hillsboro Parent-Teacher association at a "Get Acquainted" gathering next Monday at 8 p. m. at the high school.

Mayor Garrett will extend greetings from the community. B. W. Barnes will represent the high school and H. E. Easter the grade school board. Roy L. Burnett, reception chairman, promises lots of fun and interesting diversions. Mrs. Fred Amacher, chairman of refreshments, announces that parents of eighth graders will serve.

Parents of children in any Hillsboro school or the union high school are invited to come and get acquainted with the new folks. Music and a varied program will give opportunity to meet others.

This is the first P. T. A. meeting of the year and is part of a program designed to bring into closer relation the home and the school for the welfare of children.

County Pastors Hold First Fall Meeting Tuesday

First fall meeting of the County Ministerial association, was held Tuesday night in the Beaverton Methodist church, with a pot luck dinner fellowship of pastors and their wives at 7 p. m. Preparations for the dinner were made by Rev. E. B. Horsell, pastor, and the young people of the church.

A program of music was given by the young people, with Mrs. Horsell at the piano and Mrs. Noel as soloist. Rev. Horsell conducted the devotional, and acted as chairman of the meeting.

Next meeting of the association is set for October 12, in Hillsboro Methodist church for election of officers, adoption of a constitution and outlining of a work program for the year.

Each center committee is expected to make a full report of findings within its area of activity that will enable the churches of the county to aid in their respective communities, and the county, in giving more adequate economic, moral, social and religious service.

Activities of the association have been very materially affected due to the loss of the president, Rev. G. P. Duffield, who accepted a pastorate in Bellingham, Wash. R. L. Putnam, secretary, has assumed responsibility for all meetings until new officers are elected.
