Miss Robinson Weds Mr. Brown

LAUREL ACRES—The marriage of Miss Lois Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Robinson of this locality, and Harold Brown, son of Mrs. Kriener of Hillsboro, was an event of Saturday at Vancouver, Wash. Rev. Kestman performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a spruce green crepe gown with contrasting brown and white details. Her dress design and matching brown purse and shoes.

The bride's only attendant, Mrs. V. C. LaBaw, wore blue moire taffeta. C. LaBaw acted as best man for Mr. Brown. The young couple will be at home in Hillsboro after October 9.

Past Chiefs Entertained—Mrs. E. L. Moore and Mrs. Harry Morgan were hostesses at a meeting of the Past Chiefs' club Thursday night at the K. P. hall. Temple officers were also guests. Following the dinner and business meeting, a social time was enjoyed. Mrs. Elsie Schulmerich made high honors at bridge, with Mrs. H. H. Stannard receiving. Mrs. J. R. Peppard received first and Miss Eleanor Wilkes consolation.

Mrs. Hancock Honored—Mrs. Lottie Mapes of this city and Mrs. Roy Cook of Cornelius entertained with an afternoon party Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Mapes on North Third avenue, honoring Mrs. George Hancock of Forest Grove, who is leaving soon for San Francisco, Cal. to spend the winter, while her husband is in the east.

County Girls Pledged—Among sorority pledges announced at Oregon State college last week were Marian Metzler of Beaverton to Pi Beta Phi and Elizabeth Schermerhorn of Forest Grove to Chi Omega.

Plan to Locate Here—Rev. R. L. Putnam returned Thursday from a California trip. He drove the automobile for Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Taggart as far as Tuare, where they were met by the Taggarts' son Lawrence of Bakerfield. Later they will go to the home of their daughter at Chula Vista, Cal. Rev. Putnam said that for several months, stood the trip very well. The local minister visited relatives and friends at Visalia and Modesto, including his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Putnam, and a brother Will. He also visited at various bay cities.

Former Hiteon Resident Bride

HITEON—Miss Lyla E. Scott, daughter of Willis E. Scott, became the bride of Mr. Carl V. Gardner of Portland at a wedding ceremony at her home in Multnomah Saturday evening. Rev. C. F. Trimble of Multnomah Christian church officiated.

Frances Burgett was maid of honor and Norman Burgett was best man.

Proceeding the ceremony Miss Cleo Trimble sang "At Dawning" accompanied by Miss Diane Trimble at the piano, who also played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

The rooms were decorated in fall flowers and the bride and bridegroom stood before an arch of blue and white asters.

Fifty friends and friends attended the ceremony and reception following.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner left for a short honeymoon at the beaches and will reside in Portland. Mrs. Gardner is a former resident of Hiteon and Hillsboro.

Miss Haase Bride of Victor Brandt

A beautiful and impressive wedding united in marriage Miss Florence Haase and Victor Brandt at Trinity Lutheran church, Portland, September 28, at 8:30 o'clock. The Rev. J. A. Rimbach officiating.

A half hour of pipe organ preludes, played by Richard Kuhnau preceded the service. The Waltham League vested choir entered the church singing the hymn "Saviour I Follow on Guided by Thee" by C. S. Robinson, and the entire audience remained standing during the entry of the bridal party.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Fred Haase, of Firdale. She was gowned in white satin with a long train and veil and carried a white gladiolus. She wore a necklace set with diamonds as a gift from the bridegroom. The maids attending her were all dressed alike in floor-length tulle dresses trimmed with maroon velvet bands around the flared skirt and stirred into the sheers at the shoulder, and each wore a small yellow chrysanthemum in her hair. Miss Rosa Wolfman, the maid of honor, was dressed in rose color and carried a bouquet of rose snapdragons and yellow chrysanthemums. The bridegroom was attended by Everett Collard as best man, and Ruelien Brandt and John Glesman served as ushers.

Pastor Rimbach addressed the couple based on the text in Joshua 24, verse 15: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord," after which the Waltham League choir sang the hymn "Oh Perfect Love" by Dorothy Bloomfield. Richard Kuhnau played several hymns on the organ during the ring ceremony. Photographs of the bridal party were taken in the church after the service.

The altar was beautifully decorated with large baskets of white gladioli predominating with smaller yellow gladioli and Michaelmas daisies intermingled. Two large seven-lamp candelabra stood among the flowers, and corsages of white gladioli and pink streamers adorned the ends in the center aisle.

The basement of the church was attractively decorated with autumn leaves for the reception. Guests were the bride's parents and other relatives, most of them from the vicinity of Hillsboro, the Waltham League choir and a few friends. The songs "I Love You Truly" and "In the Garden of Tomorrow," were sung by Mrs. Richard Kuhnau and her niece. A large table spread across the stage was laden with beautiful gifts.

The couple spent several days honeymooning at the coast. They will make their home in Portland, where Mr. Brandt is employed in the First National bank. Prior to coming to Portland he resided in Nebraska. Mrs. Brandt has been working at the Jensen Knitwear store, and for the past six years has been living in Portland. Previous to that she lived at the parental home at Firdale. She is a sister to Mrs. John Goetze of Iowa Hill and Mrs. Herbert Ficken of near Sherwood.

Returns from East—Mrs. L. T. McPheeters returned Sunday from a five week's visit in the East. With her were Mrs. Martha Stockton, who visited here this summer, accompanied her to her home in Hydro, Oklahoma. En route to Oklahoma they visited relatives at Los Angeles, and Kansas City, Mo., and Omaha, Neb.

Miss Wenger Pledges—WALLA WALLA—Miss Jeanne Wenger, graduate of Hillsboro high school, was pledged Delta Delta Delta sorority at the Whitman college campus last week. Miss Wenger is a member of the freshman class at Whitman.

Grange Meets Saturday—Hillsboro Grange will hold an all-day meeting Saturday. Grange county council will meet with Wilona Grange at Tualatin Monday at 1:30 p. m., with pot luck supper in the evening.

Housewarming Given—Mrs. Lottie Mapes, who recently purchased the Arthur Reeling home on North Third avenue, was given a housewarming Friday afternoon by a large number of friends.

On Vacation—Reynold Chapman, postal clerk, left Saturday night for a week's hunting trip to Eastern Oregon. He was accompanied by Mrs. Chapman.

Father Succumbs—Funeral services for Charles Dornisic, 64, father of Mrs. Pearl Warren of Hillsboro, were held in Portland Monday.

Local Pastor Returns—Rev. R. L. Putnam returned Thursday from a California trip. He drove the automobile for Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Taggart as far as Tuare, where they were met by ## Former Hillsboro Girl Writes of Trip Through U. S.

Miss Myrtle Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Walker, a graduate of the Hillsboro high school class of 1917, and now commercial instructor at Walla Walla college, College Place, Wash., recently returned from an extensive trip through the United States. She tells an interesting story of the trip, which was made in company with three other young ladies of Walla Walla.

We left Walla Walla, Wash., at 3:30 p. m. Monday, August 9, and driving all night reached Salt Lake City at exactly 6 o'clock Tuesday and just in time to hear the daily recital on the famous organ in the Mormon temple. It was worth all the effort it took.

The Great Salt Lake region is a beautiful and fertile valley, but eastern Utah and western Colorado are 100 per cent desert. The second night, needless to say, we were looking for a bed at an early hour and we drove far miles and miles through country that couldn't even boast of sage brush. Finally we reached Green River, Utah, at 9:30 and they told us at a service station that the night was over. We believed them and were glad we hadn't reached there any earlier in the day. It cooled off during the night, though, and we had a good rest, resuming our journey again at 4:30 a. m.

The Trail Ridge drive through the Rocky Mountain National park is wonderful. The road is perfect and the grandeur of the old Rockies is not surpassed by anything we saw on the trip. We traveled for four miles at an approximate height of 12,000 feet. After we reached the summit of 12,300, we descended very rapidly through the beautiful Big Thompson canyon, and in a short time were out on the plains though still at an altitude of about a mile.

We couldn't tarry long in Denver, the mile high city, so we went up in the "Daniels" and Fisher tower to "see the city." At 10:30 a. m. we turned northeast with Lincoln, Neb., as our goal by midnight.

All went well until about 9 p. m. when we caught up with a mid-west thunder storm at North Platte, Neb. Our courage was good for about 50 miles while the storm was gaining momentum, but we were only too willing to accept the shelter of a service station when the storm reached the peak. There we sat for a full hour, entertained by such thunder and lightning as we had never heard or seen before, while the rain came down in such torrents as to make Oregon ashamed of itself. When we decided it was safe to venture out, our car wheels were in 10 inches of water on the level. We were told that it had been eight inches the week before after a similar storm. We drove for fully an hour before we were out of the water and did not reach Lincoln until 4:45 a. m.

We spent the first week-end in Ames, Iowa, and then drove east and south through Iowa, Illinois, and Indiana. This is prosperous looking country with bumper crops, especially of corn. Near Springfield, Ill., we saw the New Salem village, which is being rebuilt exactly as it was when Abraham Lincoln lived there. It is a very interesting place. We saw the Lincoln tomb at Springfield and the George Rogers Clark memorial and bridge at Vincennes, Ind.

We are told that we crossed the poorest part of Kentucky. At any rate, we were not much impressed with it. In Tennessee we had the privilege of staying over night in a real southern mansion. There were no vacancies in the Tourist Home, but this visiting neighbor volunteered to accommodate us. We were very glad to accept of a grand old house and our first introduction to real southern hospitality.

We spent an interesting forenoon on Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge in Chattanooga, and then drove to Asheville, N. C., where we stayed ten days while attending a Seventh-Day Adventist Educational convention. We enjoyed the beautiful Blue Ridge mountains and southern hospitality to the fullest. We were not so greatly impressed with their damp, muggy climate. We were certain we would milder before we left the place, and indeed we were.

By this time we were far enough away from home that our Washington license was attracting no little attention. The southerners told us we were "a right smart wale from home."

Leaving Asheville, we went east and followed the coast northward. From Jamestown, Va., to Portland, Maine, there were few important points of historical, literary, or scenic interest that we did not see.

Washington, D. C., is just what it was planned to be—a really beautiful city—and brimful of interesting sights. The Lincoln Memorial, to us, stands out as the high point of the city.

While in Washington, in the beautiful Arlington cemetery I had the privilege of visiting the grave of my brother, Charles L. Walker, who was killed in the battle of the Argonne, France, October 18, 1918. He was a member of the class of '17 of Hillsboro high school.

On the way northward, we visited the battlefield of Gettysburg and also Valley Forge. We were impressed by the great number of statues and monuments, not only on these particular fields, but throughout the east.

We enjoyed Old Philadelphia with its many important points of historical interest. We went through the Curtis Publishing company building also.

The biggest lark of the trip was the day we spent in New York City. We know there are perhaps several things we missed, but we are also quite certain that we saw as much as any similar group in one day and we know we had more fun. Of course, we saw the most from the 192d story of the Empire State building.

Adult Education Conference Held at Forest Grove

Teachers of Washington and Yamhill counties in the adult education branch of the WPA, had a joint conference at Forest Grove Wednesday. These teachers are paid by the government and work under the direct supervision of the state department of education.

O. B. Kraus, county superintendent of schools, host to the conference, made the opening address. Lee Meyers, state director of education, was the principal speaker at this conference.

Other speakers were R. I. Edwards, state supervisor of recreation; Robert Boardman, assistant state supervisor of recreation; George Birrell, state supervisor of adult education; Miss Ruth Burlingham, women's physical director, and Prof. Ingles of Pacific University.

Owing to the illness of O. V. White, supervisor, Mrs. Louise Berry acted as chairman.

Recital at Redville—The pupils of Mrs. Louise Berry will be presented in a piano recital Friday at 8 p. m. at the Redville Community church. There are several adult beginners in the recital. The musical range covers music from beginners up into the more difficult novelty and operatic numbers.

Make 720 Miles in Day's Travel

Mrs. J. E. Bennett of Scholls and her son-in-law, N. B. Welch, and his son Bennett of Fairview returned last Thursday from a three weeks' visit with relatives at Boone, Iowa; Minneapolis, Minn.; New Rockford, N. D. and Helena, Mont. They made the trip over the Old Oregon Trail through Idaho, Wyoming and Nebraska to Iowa. Returning from Minneapolis they came through North Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington, making 720 miles the last day of travel, from Helena, Mont., to Fairview, Oregon.

Mrs. Bennett reports that they had fine weather all during their trip, but says one has to travel over the Old Oregon Trail to realize the hardships the pioneers must have endured when they came over that route with their covered wagons, and 20 miles was considered a big day's travel.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Piery spent several days this week at Victoria, B. C.
