"Personality the sum total of all the qualities a person has, and its expression can to a large extent be controlled by the individual. We are judged by our appearance, speech, and interest we take in affairs." "As one thinketh within oneself, so he is,"

said the speaker. Musical numbers on the program included several vocal solos by Mrs. W. E. Hinds, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Sewell, and accordion selections by Donald Davidson. Miss Frances Post of the hospitality com-mittee was the program chairman attendance, with Miss Lucile Fisher giving a complete report on Mrs. Maude Morse's talk on "Understanding Ourselves," and all members enjoyed filling out questionnaires on "How Mature are You."
