

Many Entries in 1st National Corn Show

Requests for entry blanks for the first Oregon state-wide corn show were this week being received in increasing numbers by H. Tisdale, manager of the Hillsboro Branch of The First National Bank of Portland from corn producers in this community. At the same time many exhibits from Washington county were being sent directly to the mezzanine of the Public Market in Portland where the competition among corn growers will take place November 29 to December 4.

According to Mr. Tisdale, a complete educational program giving information on every phase of the corn industry has been planned to supplement the show. Moving pictures with sound from the DuPont company and talks by noted corn authorities are scheduled in the market auditorium every afternoon during the exhibit.

Exhibits, open to all growers in the state, are limited to ten ears of yellow corn of this season's harvest. Many prizes in open and C.H. club classes are offered by the bank. There is no entry fee.

A silver trophy donated by Claude I. Sersanous, president of the Loggers and Contractors Machinery company, Portland, will go to the successful winner.

Citing the six to eight million dollar import of grain corn to the Northwest annually, Sersanous said, "The unfortunate situation in this case is that all this money goes east. Would it not keep this money at home to contribute more to the prosperity of the Oregon farmer by building this great corn show into such an outstanding event that we need ourselves, but eventually compete with the great corn-growing states?"

Entry blanks are still available at the Hillsboro branch, or directly from the Portland Chamber of Commerce. All exhibits must be received by Sunday, November 28.

Present indications are that there will be between 30 and 40 Washington county 4-H club members exhibiting corn at the Oregon state corn show, which will be held in the Public Market Bldg. at Portland, November 29 to December 4, according to L. E. Francis, assistant county agent.

READY—WAITING—ABLE
You sit yourself down in the dentist's chair with—"Go to work on it, Doc." Or do you say "Doctor?" Anyway you put the job into his hands and it is up to him.

Same with the mighty God. You take your poor shriveled heart with all its hate, conceit, murder, uncleanness to him and say—"Go to work on it, Lord. Operate; take it out; give me a new heart that can love you and my enemies and make me decent around the house and over the place; in the store or office or wherever." So you turn the case over to him. Now it is all in his hands and he is willing for him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out. And waiting too for he says behold now is the accepted time; behold now is the day of salvation. Ready, able and waiting is the Lord.

One Big Difference
You put yourself into the dentist's hands and expect to pay him. The coin of the realm to settle it. Not so when you come to the Lord—"Nothing in my hands I bring." Neither your own human goodness for human goodness is just vile rags in God's holy eyes. Nor do you bring your promise to copy Jesus Christ. Neither do you offer God the years you taught in the Sunday school. Nor is there any other good that you can lay before him. Human goodness? No. Copying Christ? No. Working for him? No. No. No. Nothing in my hands I bring. Nothing says the Book. Not by works of righteousness which we have done are we saved.

Didn't that money I gave to build a hospital in India, save me? Not one bit. Your salvation is not purchased with silver and gold. Then how?—with the precious blood of Christ, as a lamb without blemish and without spot.

Do you take your stand that the
