

Chehalem 4-H Potato Club Show Interests

(By Mable B. Allison)

MOUNTAIN HOME—The fifth annual potato show and banquet sponsored by Chehalem Mountain 4-H potato club was held in the basement of the church Friday evening. Guests from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cyrus and family, L. E. Francis, all of Hillsboro, and "Doc" Allen, assistant state club leader of Corvallis. I. A. Rowell of Scholls acted as judge of the potato exhibits. Other guests included parents of the club members, local leaders and members of the Wildwood Forestry club; and of the Rural Electrification club. George A. Allison Jr. acted as master of ceremonies, and each club member contributed to the program. Cyrus, Allen and Francis all spoke.

LeRoy Jaquith received a prize for the best specimen of a Burbank potato. All eight members of the club exhibited potatoes and placed as follows: Patricia Joyce, first; Stanley Ego, second; Peronice Ego, third; George A. Allison Jr., fourth; George Wilson Jr., fifth; Virgil Allison, sixth; LeRoy Jaquith, seventh; Kenneth Jaquith, eighth. The judge stated that judging was quite difficult, with not many points difference between any of the exhibits.

John Schmeltzer, leader of the forestry club, presented each member of that group with a gift. Miss Betty Joyce, mascot of the forestry club, also received a gift. An achievement meeting for these local clubs will be held later. L. E. Francis, county club leader, announced.

Mrs. Sam Body conducted the missionary meeting held at Mountain Home church November 28, immediately following Sunday school. Program included a vocal solo by Stanley Ego, vocal trio by Mesdames Harold Aebischer, Eugene Taylor and Ray Ego; skit by Mesdames Sam Body, Howard Browning, Harold Aebischer, Harry Schmeltzer and Vincent.

Party Omitted
Double-Tree Sunday school class of Mountain Home Evangelical Sunday school recently decided to omit the December party, which is ordinarily on the second Friday evening of the month. Instead, the group plans to attend the Grange play, "When a Man Tarries," which is being presented at Scholls this Friday evening at the Grange hall. Several members of the class are taking part in the play, and Mrs. Harry Schmeltzer, a member of the local class, is directing the play.

An all-day meeting, with a potluck dinner at noon, is scheduled for December 19 at the church. Mrs. Joe Ego has been appointed chairman of the committee for the Christmas program at Mountain Home church. All those having part in the program are asked to be present at the church December 19, when an intensive practice period is planned. Members of the Mountain Home Christian Endeavor society went to a body Sunday evening to Lent's to conduct the devotional service.

Officers Elected
Mountain Home C. E. on November 26 elected following officers: Gladys Taylor, president; Mary Boulin, organist; Ferne Ego, song leader.

Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Lekas are preparing to install a new electric water system in the near future. Les Haffey and Lester Gibbons are assisting Mr. Lekas in building the pump house and laying the pipe. The water is to be pumped from a natural spring on the back of the Lekas farm.

Honor guests at the dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Courtney last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ego and family.

Courtney Remodels Home
Roscoe Courtney is remodeling the interior of his home and building new chimneys. George A. Allison is assisting with the work.

Mountain Home Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Howard Browning for an all-day meeting Thursday. A pot luck dinner was served at noon. A portion of the time was devoted to quilting for Mrs. Browning. An exchange of Christmas gifts took place.

Potato digging is finished in this community, with most of the growers reporting a good yield of larger than usual potatoes. Certified seed from the Chehalem hills is in quite a demand by those raising lowland tubers, as the seed grown in the valleys does not produce good seed, though larger tonnage is produced for commercial purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peters, who were married in the Catholic church at Tigard November 27 are expected home this week from their trip.

Lincoln Elected Farm Union Head

West Union local, Farmers' Union, meeting in the K. P. hall at North Plains Thursday night elected the following officers: Clyde Lincoln, president; Russell Loftis, vice-president; Mrs. Elsie Lemming, secretary-treasurer (re-elected); Charles Spiering, conductor; John Davidson, doorkeeper; Mrs. Edna Corey, Pete Jorgensen and Mrs. Lucy Baker, executive committee; Henry Jacobsen, organizer. Delegates to county meetings include Mrs. Edna Corey, Henry Jacobsen, Pete Jorgensen, John Gates, Clyde Lincoln, Mrs. Jennie Davidson, John Davidson, Russell Loftis; alternates, John Reilly, Noble Shearer, Bernard Meltebeke, Joe Baker, Floyd Raffety, M. Countryman and Mrs. Elsie Lemming.

After the installation of officers the group had a social time and were treated to ice cream, cookies and nuts.

Next meeting on December 16 will be a program and card party. Members bring cards and tables and don't forget the lunch.

The city dads at St. James have just passed an ordinance forbidding the distribution of hand bills in that city. Must be the city dads have had to clean them from their lawns, too. It makes a nice companion ordinance to the Green River anti-peddler ordinance, though.—Windom (Minn.) Citizen.
