Preparations Under Way for Agricultural Economic Meet

Farmer committees have been meeting the past several weeks preparing their reports for the coming Washington county agricultural economic conference scheduled for Friday, January 28. Preliminary plans for this conference were made in November, at which time Robert W. Warrens was elected general chairman. Following that time four committees were appointed representing general livestock, all farm crops, land use, and the women's division.

1938 Conclave New

This conference will not be a repetition of the one of two years ago. The proceedings and report of the conference two years ago will be reviewed and possibly some changes made and in a few instances, minor recommendations altered. The 1938 study has a somewhat different scope. Increased emphasis throughout the country is being placed on various types of planning and with various programs being developed from time to time pertaining to agriculture, none of which are developed with this region particularly in mind, it is only being prepared and it having ready definite conclusions supported by actual data that requests and modifications or adjustments in these programs can be asked for and obtained.

The reports now being developed deal with advisable shifts in types of production on Washington county farms in the few instances where such shifts could be of advantage. Many important trends and future needs and desirability of such shifts. Results of these studies and ideas being developed in these committee groups will be presented to whatever part of the general public cares to attend the session on January 28. At that time it is hoped that there will be some discussion pertaining to these things.

Regarding present trends and figures of the conference is being handled by the four committees, and material being gathered will be submitted to the general conference for a full day's discussion, at the conclusion of which reports and recommendations will be adopted.

Held Throughout State

Similar meetings to the one being held in Washington county are scheduled for every county in the state this winter. These are being sponsored by the extension service at Oregon State college at the request of farmers and farm organizations, in order to review and add to, if necessary, the findings of previous conferences of this nature.

The forthcoming conference is to be a "family affair." County Agent Cyrus emphasized the idea being that the future welfare of the farm home is directly dependent on the economic success of the farm itself, and that plans for the farm and home should be made together.

Members of the various committees are as follows: General Livestock committee—Henry Hagg, chairman, D. G. Lilly, R. H. Sweeney, Frank Erickson, Joe VanDyke, Pete Yunker, Frank Mitchell, J. L. Batchelder, Dwight McCue, Oscar Poe, Frank Schulerich, Fred Groen, A. E. Kraemer, R. G. Scott and Robert Warrens.

IN THE OLD SOUTH

It was down in Memphis, Tenn., that the man from the north found himself a dinner guest of one of their old families. In that hour he glimpsed a bit of the south that had been. There was the aged negress who brought in the courses. Born a slave, the woman had never eaten nor slept in the "quarters" with the common field hands. She was beloved and one with the family; a sister in all but color. When he entered the room the talk hushed if it touched the race problem. She was too dear to them to be dissected before an outsider.

One remark let fall still lingers—"In the emancipation of the negro, the southern white woman was set free." Then followed the how of it. The black was a chattel. Here a husky laborer who would bring, say $2000. If he became sick the white woman must nurse him through. The negroes in the cabins must be taught to cook and sew. The pickaninnies were born with a price on their kinky heads. Just so much property they were and the white woman had them on her hands. So these slaves possessed not even their own human bodies.

Have you been taught the lesson of Romans 1:17: PAUL, A SERVANT OF JESUS CHRIST. Literally a bond-servant, slave, chattel, piece of property. Every Roman senator had his slaves, captured in the wars and Jesus Christ had Paul the Apostle, the greatest mind since Christ Himself. It was for Christ to speak and Paul to obey. The Lord owned Paul body and soul.

Happy are you if 1937 has seen you step out to take your place beside the Apostle and to name yourself the Lord's chattel. Yes—You a free-born American yielding man of Jesus Christ. Talents, capacities, gifts all deeded over to your Lord with nothing left that you might call your own. His to speak and yours to obey. Christ Himself stood there before He ever asked it of you. Very God of Very God. He stripped Himself of His glory and stepped down to earth to say—I AM AMONG YOU AS ONE THAT SERVETH. Yielded over to Him your weary soul finds rest at last. In all your urge to do things you find He does better by you than you can do for yourself.—"If any man serve Me, him will My Father honor—JESUS CHRIST—George N. Taylor, Beaverton.—Paid adv.
