Former Hillsborite Weds Portland Girl

Dr. Joseph Marshall, formerly of Hillsboro but now of Boston, Mass., and Miss Florence Sinclair of Portland were married last Thursday at St. Helene. They will leave soon for Boston, where Dr. Marshall is serving an internship in a hospital. The bride, who graduated recently from Good Samaritan hospital, will also be connected with the hospital in Boston.

Dr. Marshall, who attended school here and later graduated from high school in Portland, is a graduate of Stanford university.

The young couple were guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sewell, uncle and aunt of Dr. Marshall.

County Council Churches Favored

At the pot luck dinner and meeting held in the Methodist church Tuesday evening sixty representatives from seven different communities of the county voted unanimously to organize a County Council of Churches. The meeting was sponsored by the County Ministerial association, which group was given authority by the representatives to promote the council idea among the churches until the county council is effected in fact. Next move will be to invite all churches of the county to join the council, and to have appointed four representatives from each church to be composed of the minister, a layman, a woman and a youth. At the next quarterly meeting of the County Ministerial association there will be a general group meeting for the purpose of effecting a county council.

Rev. Edwin Kellogg of Forest Grove is chairman and R. L. Putnam, Christian minister, Hillsboro, is secretary. Mrs. R. L. Putnam conducted the devotional Tuesday evening assisted by Morris McEntee, Sr., soloist Dr. E. C. Farham of Portland, secretary of the Oregon Council of Churches, delivered the address in which he pointed out the fact that the hour had struck when the protestant churches of the state must seek closer unity of action, and when they do rampant evil will no longer prevail and religious work will be more effectively and thoroughly done with no community in Oregon neglected. Farnham is promoting the County Council idea and is in demand every day. Chas. L. Benton, Hood River and Wallawa counties are already interested and looking forward to his coming and for closer co-operation of the churches.

Two New Library Books Tie in With Pictures

Recent showing of "Conquest" historical romance film starring Greta Garbo and Charles Boyer at a Hillsboro theatre ties in well with a book just added to the local library's rental collection, "So Great a Man" by David Pilgrim, is the book "Marie Antoinette, The Polish Rose," played by Miss Garbo in the film, and Napoleon, the role taken by Boyer, are the two main characters of the book, described as a long highly varied historical novel that brings to life one of the most amazing periods of modern times.

Another book which figures prominently in a motion picture is the book "Lost Horizon" by James Hilton, from which the picture of the same name, which finished its local run here last night, was taken. To anyone who saw the picture and was interested in further adventure of the same type, a reading of the book should hold appeal.
