

Bibb in Court; Sentence Set for Saturday

Case of Robert Paul Bibb, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, was brought before circuit court yesterday morning. Bibb waived grand jury indictment and was arraigned on information. Sentence was postponed until Saturday. Bibb was said to have wounded Ed Gross with a shotgun in a fracas at the Martin Heerd farm near Orengo last month.

Orders were given in circuit court in the following cases during the week: Fred L. Proctor vs. John and Margaret Holden et al. default; Vincent Kafate vs. Harry Fluke, dismissal; M. B. Bump vs. Cora Brown Opendlander and Otto Opendlander; P. H. Parmer and R. Parmer vs. L. N. Tompkins, dismissal; matter of liquidation of Biskamp, Inc. vs. Albert H. and Hazel Ross, vs. St. John and Jane Doe St. John, dismissal; Lily Ekenkrantz vs. Egon Ekenkrantz, General Discount corporation vs. Westimer Lumber company, dismissal; George D. and Laura Seales vs. Walter and Henry Donneman, order releasing exhibits to Albert M. Hodler, deputy district attorney of Multnomah county; Albert H. and Hazel Ross vs. James Marshall Steel et al. decedent; Luby Harroove vs. John and Nellie Howes et al.

Included in suits filed in circuit court were: Home Owners' Loan corporation vs. Floyd J. Gustin et al. and Mark Skinner, state superintendent of banks, vs. Isabella M. Walker, in case of liquidation of Bank of Beaverton.

Probate orders in county court were given in the estates of Andrew J. Risley, Theophile C. Capron, Lawrence S. McConnell, Daisy Bertriche, Jessie M. Emmons, Mary M. Hughes, James Armstrong, C. P. Kruger, William F. Krause, Jennie Young, Minerva Bradley, Fred B. Clark, Ida Muller Campbell, T. A. Martz, E. Quackenbush, George Washington Atwood, William Busse, E. A. Bruce, Bertha Wegner Hoener. Two orders were given in the matters of guardianship of Charles H. Bertie E. Ralph L. and Donald V. Helzel, and Paul DePrez. An order was also given in the partnership estate of Frank W. Connell, now deceased, and Arthur W. Connell.

Chief Praises First Aid Efforts

First aid service rendered to Hillsboro through the first aid squad of its fire department was passed over in the original annual report of Fire Chief S. W. Melnhuis, he said last week.

Early last year the Hillsboro Rotary club presented an inhalator to the fire department, and since that time the first aid squad has been called upon to use it in eight cases. Melnhuis said. Three of the cases resulted in lives being saved, while in two cases the inhalator arrived too late to be of value. Ten tanks of oxygen were used in these cases, he reported.

Local Sea Scouts were also given a first-aid course by the firemen's squad during the year. Paul Ringle, holder of a national instructor's certificate, heads the three-squad, which also included A. L. Brock and Harold Weisenback.

Man Dies from Injury in Woods

John Van Bandur, 42, died early Tuesday morning at the Washington county hospital as the result of injuries received on Monday while working on a railroad trestle near the Wallace school in the northern eastern section of the county. A timber fell upon Van Bandur, causing severe abdominal injuries.

He was a world war veteran and had lived in Oregon 15 years, the last two of which were spent in Washington county. His father, Martin Van Bandur, survives him. He was born in Des Moines, Iowa. The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from Demison and Sewell chapel.

What Rights Do I Have If Leading Animals on Highway

You may signal motorists coming from the opposite direction to stop, and they must do so, giving you a reasonable time to drive or lead your animals past. Motorists must give way in the same direction, and in any case must stop their motors if necessary to prevent frightening the animals and causing accident or injury.

This Week's Patterns

A WORKDAY smock that retains a distinctive style is found in Pattern 8100. It is easy to make in either of two lengths, and the graceful yoke gives it a dress-like trimness. In sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, and 42.

Well tailored and designed on trim, slim lines, the dress of Pattern 8069 is particularly adaptable for wear under winter or spring coats. Braid trimming and shirtwaist collar are distinctive. In sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20.

Women who seek a taller, slimmer appearance will welcome the frock of Pattern 8933. The low, square-cut neck dips into a long V, softened by a lace jabot. In sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, and 52.

A girl's robe that can easily be made at home is shown in Pattern 8052. Princess lines follow grown-up styles. In sizes 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, and 16 years.

To obtain a PATTERN and STEP-BY-STEP SEWING INSTRUCTIONS of any of the above, send 15 cents IN COIN, your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE. Be sure to MENTION THE NAME OF THIS NEWSPAPER.

Coming Year's Crop Outlook None Too Rosy, Expert Says

Outlook for field crops and vegetables in 1938 is not so favorable as in 1937, judging from information on probable production, consumer demand and farm prices contained in a report just released by the Oregon agricultural extension service.

The principal crops covered in the circular are wheat, feed crops, clover-seed, hops, flaxseed, beans and truck crops. With few exceptions, increased supplies are in prospect considering both probable acreage and new crop production. At the same time, the demand situation indicates that the purchasing power of consumers will probably be lower in 1938 than in 1937.

Higher Costs Sighted
Faced with the probability of reduced farm income, producers of field crops and vegetables generally are also confronted with the possibility of even higher farm operating costs than in 1937. These conditions are indicated by current data on relative farm price and cost levels.

The general level of farm prices in Oregon at mid-December is shown at 72 per cent of the 1926-1930 average, against 84 a year ago. Foods at wholesale are down five points compared with a year ago. On the other hand, the United States index of the prices paid by farmers for commodities is up slightly and farm wage rates 16 points, higher compared with a year ago. The exchange value of farm products is nearly one-fifth less.

The report contains several tables of data and graphic material to provide background information for the commodity outlook sections. Citizens of Oregon who wish the information to assist them in planning farm production and marketing operations may obtain copies without cost from county agricultural agents or direct from the college.
