Death Takes the Steering Wheel

A dramatization of an actual court trial, in which a young man is charged with murder and tried before a jury, for having run down two persons with his car while intoxicated will be enacted at 8 p. m. February 13 at the Bethany Baptist church, two miles northwest from Cedar Mills.

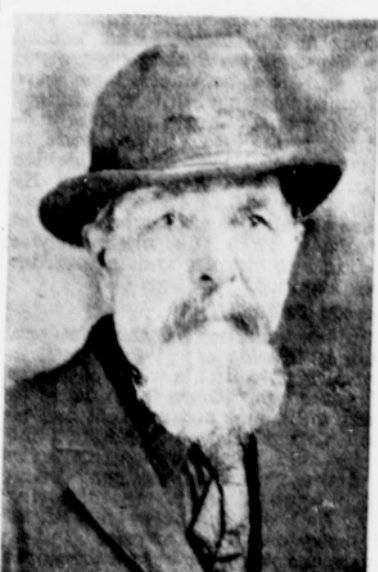

Twenty-one characters in this trial are all citizens of this community. Hayward Johnson of Portland is the only outside character, taking the role of defense attorney and directing the play. The local cast is as follows: Rev. J. C. Schweitzer, judge; Henry Kuratli, prosecuting attorney; Harry Hansen, court clerk; Lindell Edmonds, prisoner; Rev. H. Dickman, coroner; Sam Rich, detective; Miss Joy Walcott, sweetheart; Miss Susan Rutschman, star witness, and Albert Meier, bailiff.

Besides this regular cast of characters, the following have been summoned to the jury: George Findley, Otto Loebden, Art Huz Gould, Mrs. Ben Croeni, Mrs. John Wismer, Richard Wismer, Herbert Kehn, Abe Stoller, Carl Egman, Miss Lillian Lehman, Walter Stueki and Eleanor Schaefer.

A large attendance is anticipated. There will be no admission charge.

W. R. C. Observes Washington and Lincoln Birthdays

Woman's Relief Corps will have a pot luck luncheon and program at the Veterans' hall on Friday, February 13, commemorating the birthdays of the late Presidents George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

William Sahnov

Lincoln William Henry Harrison was another president whose birthday was in February. He was born February 9, 1773.

William Sahnov of Schefflin, one of the few remaining members of the Grand Army of the Republic, who celebrates his 91st birthday on February 13, will be a guest of honor at the meeting. Dan Dafforn, the only remaining member of the Forest Grove C. A. R. post, has also been invited as an honor guest.

Plans will be made at this meeting to attend the district convention at McMinnville on March 17. The local W. R. C. will assist in exemplifying the work at the convention, and expect to charter a bus for transportation.

County C. E. Has Big Banquet at Forest Grove

A group of seventy-five christian young folks from all sections of Washington county were present at the Christian Endeavor birthday banquet in the Christian church at Forest Grove, Thursday evening.

Miss Martha James of Hillsboro, toastmistress, had arranged a short program of talks, which served as testimonials concerning the benefits of Christian Endeavor. Speakers, all of Hillsboro, were: Royal Gardner, whose subject was Christmas to the student; Mr. H. Hall, who discussed C. E. from the standpoint of the businessman, and Mrs. R. L. Putnam, who developed, in her talk, Christian Endeavor's place in training for Christian leadership.

The banquet ended with a puppet show by members of Hillsboro C. E. societies, which presented the cause and cure of C. E. troubles.

Howard Cole, state president of Christian Endeavor, spoke to the assembly after the banquet upon various phases of C. E. work.

A deputation team consisting of Floyd and Florence Shinnery and Bates visited the Redeville Christian Endeavor society to install officers January 31.

Modern Education A. A. U. W. Subject

Modern education aims to develop individuals who can adjust themselves to circumstances and who will do the work for which they are best suited, according to J. A. Poynter, superintendent of Hillsboro grade schools, in his talk before A. A. U. W. members at Herrick hall, Forest Grove, Thursday evening.

W. H. Arstiff, Forest Grove superintendent, stated that modern trends in the curriculum try to emphasize progress by continued use of the best materials and methods available. He said that graded systems are a recent development and have not proved satisfactory. The ungraded work allows each child to do as much or as little work as he is physically or mentally capable of doing.

Entertain Past Chiefs—Mrs. Lloyd Brown and Mrs. S. E. Favron entertained the Past Chiefs' club last Thursday night. Mrs. Dora Nelson and Mrs. J. R. Peppard won honors in the games which followed the business session. Mrs. John Gardner and Mrs. Henrietta Morgan will be hostesses for the March meeting at the home of Mrs. Gardner.

Bridge Tournament Begins—Frank Miller and Dick Fendall of Forest Grove made high scores in the week's bridge tournament at the finals February 2, at Forest Hills golf course. Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Richardson of Hillsboro were second. A three weeks' bridge tournament began Wednesday night of last week.

Juliana Schneider, Lyle Ellingson and Dick Hendricks of Hillsboro and Ruth Eberdt of Forest Grove paid a week-end visit to Hendrick's mother at her home in Walla Walla. Some snow was encountered on the way home, but weather conditions were reported much better and milder than had been anticipated.

Lohease Camp Fire girls met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Busch. On Saturday the girls will take a nature hike, which will give them credit on their National Birthday honor. They also planned to have a doughnut sale soon.

Paul Crawford returned from Salem last Thursday with his wife, who had been under observation in the tuberculosis hospital there for several weeks. Physicians pronounced her free from the disease.

Mrs. Esther Wilson Shields of Portland attended the funeral last week of Alfred Holcomb, and her sister, Mrs. Helen Deichman. Mrs. Shields formerly lived at Oreno.

Mrs. E. Fayette Allen visited friends in Seattle last week, returning home Friday. She was accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Kelley, who visited her sisters there and returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Knatz and daughter of Seattle, Wash., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phelan of Glenwood. They arrived Thursday.

Miss Reusser Weds Klamath Falls Man

COOPER MOUNTAIN—Miss Florence Marie Reusser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Reusser, became the bride of Vern Griffith of Klamath Falls at an impressive ceremony Saturday evening in the Artich Baptist church in Portland in the presence of many relatives and friends. Mr. J. P. Moore officiated. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a raspberry colored crepe floor length gown with matching turban and accessories.

She carried a colonial bouquet of Mrs. Ber Rosbuda. A classmate of the bride and her only attendant wore a dress of light blue lace over blue silk.

Eugene Barrow acted as best man for Mr. Griffith.

The wedding march was played by Miss Betty Reusser on the piano and Carl Reusser on the violin, niece and nephew of the bride.

Reception followed at the home of the bride's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foster, in Portland.

Mrs. Griffith is a graduate of the Emanuel hospital.

The dear mothers, Griffith, after a short honeymoon, will make their home in Klamath Falls, where he is employed in an office for a lumber company.

Father-Cub Dinner Held Tuesday

Hillsboro Cubs and their fathers enjoyed a father-and-son dinner at the union high school cafeteria Tuesday night with R. P. Rasmussen, cubmaster, presiding.

Gordon Bronleewe and George VanArman graduated into scouting with a year's service star and were inducted into the organization. George received a lion's badge and was welcomed into troop 226 by Scoutmaster Ben Faber.

Principal talks were given by Hayes Bickford, Fred Engeldinger and M. M. Romig. Bickford said that cubbing would be more successful if the dads would give more help. Engeldinger stressed the fact that "it is what we do that counts." In a talk on handicraft, Romig declared that there is "no better way to learn than by doing." Short talks were given by W. C. Christensen, H. L. MacKenzie, Robert Burtlingame, George McGee, Rex Jones, R. L. Burnett and C. T. Richardson. Richardson led in group singing.

The dear mothers, headed by Mrs. Bickford, were in charge of serving the dinner.

No other pack meeting will be held this month, the next being March 15 when it is hoped to have a display of bird houses, the Cub project for February.

Mrs. Roy Davidson and children of Forest Grove and Miss Dulcinea Brown of Portland were guests during the week-end of the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Brown. On Sunday Wendell Brown and his sisters visited Roy Davidson at Veterans' hospital in Portland.

Ralph Hulbert of Medford is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hulbeck and Mrs. Mrs. Harry Johnson, this week. He is also attending a beauticians' convention in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Nye Bristol and family attended a family dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. Bristol's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bristol, in Silverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lichty and Mrs. Kenneth Lucas of Eugene visited Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Emmott and Mrs. Lichty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Pooley, of near Tobias, during the week-end.

Mrs. McElroy of McMinnville and her son, Clarence Vandehoe of Eugene visited Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Manley Sunday.

Mrs. G. C. Chase is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Russell Nicholson, in Seattle, Wash., this week. Avery Vincent of McMinnville was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Chantler.

Grove Firemen Have Anniversary

Forest Grove's fire department and women's auxiliary celebrated their 44th anniversary at a pot luck dinner and program at a pot luck dinner at the Forest Grove chamber of commerce quarters.

The fire chiefs and their wives from all Washington county departments were present at the dinner, including Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Melhus of Hillsboro. Jack Hayes, deputy state fire marshal, and Ed Surfus, Oregon City fire chief, were also present and gave brief talks. Nearly 50 were present for the celebration.

Pointed out in several of the talks was the growing duties of fire departments over the simple fire fighting duties of earlier days. Actual fire fighting makes up but a small part of a department's work at present, with first aid calls, charitable work, civic benefits, sports sponsorship and other duties working into the functions of an up-to-date department.

Juliana Schneider, Lyle Ellingson and Dick Hendricks of Hillsboro and Ruth Eberdt of Forest Grove paid a week-end visit to Hendrick's mother at her home in Walla Walla. Some snow was encountered on the way home, but weather conditions were reported much better and milder than had been anticipated.
