

Program at Helvetia Big Success

(By Mrs. J. M. Davidson) HELVETIA—A record crowd attended the Helvetia Sunshine program at Helvetia hall Saturday night. It was a financial success.

The program committee were unable to present the program arranged because the piano was out of order, owing to dampness. The entertainers were good sports and gave their song and dance numbers without a murmur. The committee thanks the Hillsboro Chamber of Commerce and their entertainers for their part in the program, also Helen Wick and the local numbers.

The Helvetia Sunshine club met at the K. P. hall at North Plains February 16. Mesdames Yunker, A. Zurcher, E. Badertscher and L. Baker were hostesses. Arrangements for the program, which took place following Saturday, were completed. The investigating committee reported on cases that had been taken care of. Mrs. John Yurkovich is a new member. Two visitors from Leisvick club were Mrs. John Gates and Mrs. Einar Berggren. Mrs. Ardis Yunker gave a reading. Hostesses for the meeting March 16 will be Mrs. E. Batchelder, Mrs. M. Bellinger, Mrs. Bernard and Mrs. R. Zahler.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hall entertained with a card party at their home Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kemmer of Seaside visited a few days at the Mrs. Anna Meyer home. Mr. Kemmer attended the funeral services of his aunt, Mrs. Anna Marie Kemmer, who died at Cooper Mountain last week.

A masquerade dance will be given at Helvetia school night. Attendance at school is improving. Several have been absent because of colds.

Mrs. Ida Jossi and daughter Doris are ill. Mrs. Fred Yungen visited her daughter, Mrs. Emma Nyveger, at Milwaukie during the week-end. The Nyveger family brought her home Sunday. The county physician vaccinated 16 school children for smallpox last Wednesday. Several others were vaccinated later. Mr. and Mrs. E. Korn received a telegram from Honolulu that their daughter Lydia had a heart attack. Later on the superintendent of the hospital stating that she was improving. She is a nurse at the hospital there.

Ide Discusses Bonneville Topic

(Continued from page 1) There are only two ways of raising money to build or purchase lines—by borrowing or taxing or both. The five directors are authorized to issue bonds up to 10 per cent of the county valuation and sell them without any further vote of the people. Under present law they would be mortgage bonds. Many believe the directors should be permitted to sell only revenue bonds, which seems logical. If the district can be operated at a profit, there should be a ready market for revenue bonds. If it can't be profitable, we don't want to mortgage our property to pay bonds on a losing proposition.

90% of District Served—On April 8, voting will take place on the formation of the seven-county district, involving 2,427 square miles, much of which is sparsely settled. Clackamas, Columbia, Clatsop, Lincoln, Polk, Yamhill and Washington counties are involved. The state hydro electric commission estimated cost of distribution in this district at $6,426,000, and stated that existing companies now serve about 90 per cent of the possible consumers—or 38,356 out of 42,287. The 42,287 consumers, 90 per cent are being served by existing companies which will put up a stiff fight to limit the business, and there is no new business in sight. Existing companies can buy Bonneville power at the dam as cheap as public utility districts, and there is little reason to think they cannot distribute it as cheaply as any new district, Ide declared. "Regardless of personal feeling, what we most desire is the lowest rate obtainable and efficient service. It is a dangerous time for further experiments involving more debt or more taxes." Ide concluded. "During the past five years we have increased the national debt by 21 billions, with probably not much over 50 per cent of permanent value, but all this must be repaid by taxpayers. We may not figure largely in the national picture, but we can do our part by beginning at home. If we use good judgment in our own affairs we will be able to have properly performed our functions as good citizens."

Much Praise for Governor Martin Found in South

Much praise of Oregon's Governor Martin and his stand for law and order was heard on every hand in California by E. J. McAlear, local attorney who with Mrs. McAlear, Mrs. Lottie Mapes and Reginald Reynolds, returned last Thursday from a three weeks' California trip. McAlear said the general expression was that "you have a real governor up there."

The McAlears visited their son, Dr. Lowell McAlear, and family at Oakland. Cal. Dr. McAlear will be a resident physician at Dornier-becher hospital in a few months. They also saw Vincent Engeldinger, former Hillsboro resident, at Los Angeles. McAlear reports more complaints as to conditions than the former visit to California. He found a great deal of interest in Oregon and its possibilities.

Flood conditions were encountered throughout the state. The McAlear car became stalled in a flooded Santa Monica street. Trees, uprooted by the storm, were seen at Sacramento.

Oregon Campaign Given Extension

Time limits for the campaign-raising funds to provide a memorial park for the Battleship Oregon in Portland harbor were extended until Tuesday, March 15, it was announced here yesterday by Hugh Rogers, Hillsboro drive chairman. Rogers spoke Wednesday on the subject of the Oregon memorial park before the student body of the Hillsboro union high school. Students and pupils at the schools throughout the state are reported to be giving a good account of themselves in raising money for the drive. David Hill school in Hillsboro was said to have been particularly successful in raising a contribution.

Several local organizations made their contributions during the past week, and a number of other clubs and associations will decide upon their donations at regular meetings scheduled for the coming week.

Hilhi Operetta Draws Crowd at Thursday Showing

A large crowd turned out for Thursday night's performance of "Blow Me Down," colorful operetta presented by Hillsboro union high school glee clubs under the direction of Miss Ruth Woughter.

Cast and choruses for the production numbered about 150, performing on the realistic settings of the high school auditorium stage. The theme of the musical comedy found the captain and crew of the pirate ship "Black Death" growing discouraged over falling off in pirate trade, then deciding to open a cabaret on their ship. They capture a visiting party of college girls and force them into roles as waitresses and entertainers.

Leads in the production were taken by Howard Davis as Robert Trent, Betty Harrader as Miss Patricia Pettigrew, Betty Fristoe as Nancy Todd, John Christensen as Jake Smithers, Don Kerkman as Portuguese Pete, Allan Sigler as Captain Jeremiah Kidd, Arnold Noack as "Dutch" Schneider, Eva Peppard as Judy Jennings, Wilma Schildhauer as Mrs. Mediatable Todd, Bill Lieder as Ben Barnacle, Bill McNay as Slim Bailey.

Twelve girls, who took part in the actress number, drew considerable applause for a well-done portion of the production. Accompanists for the production were Kathryn Yount and Irene Engeldinger. Miss Helen Wick supervised the dancing numbers. On the managing board were Glenn Carls, business manager, J. Stauss, assistant; Shirley Martin, properties; Jean Ann Pasley, costumes; Verna Dillon and Betty Harrader, advertising. Faculty members assisting Miss Woughter included Miss Tennessee Weathered, Miss Louise A. Nex, Miss Catherine Crozer and S. O. Rued.

Hazel and Helen Stream appeared in a tap dance number, with Hazel Park appearing in a solo dance.

The northwestern third of Clackamas county is included, and reaches Portland's south city limits at its northern boundary. Milwaukie, Oregon City and Estacada are all within the district limits. In addition, the county court is to appoint one judge and two clerks for each precinct designated, with only qualified voters authorized to vote at such elections.
