County Baseball Managers to Meet Tuesday Evening

Baseball enthusiasts backing an as-yet-unnamed league composed mainly of Washington county teams will gather at the Moose hall in Hillsboro for a short meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. according to Dr. A. M. Abrams, who had been asked to make the announcement by managers of eight teams interested.

On a previous meeting of the group was held several weeks ago, with Washington county interests trying to form a league to be controlled by local people rather than to look to Portland for sponsorship and league control. It is the aim of the league, it was announced, to have teams playing in neighboring towns, rather than to make trips all over the state to complete a summer's schedule. The plan of the backers is to have a league reaching from Carlton in Northern Yamhill county to Hillsboro.

Teams and managers interested in the new league include Carlton, Harold Barks; North Plains, Doc Shadden; Reedville, Frank Apple; Twin Oaks, Leon Howe; Roy, Tom Storey; Al's Oasis of Forest Grove, Al Fournier; Cornelia, George Holscher; and Gaston, Alvin Smith. Only managers will be included in this Tuesday meeting.
