

Consolidation Topic North Plains Meet

(By Mrs. Marie Chamberlain)
NORTH PLAINS—The surrounding community is urged to attend the P-T-A meeting Tuesday evening at the school house when the advantages of a consolidated rural school will be discussed. The new officers will be installed that evening.

Reunion Held

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wilken Sunday as a farewell for W. J. Scheidt of Didsbury, Alta., Canada, who has been visiting relatives here for two weeks. Present were Rev. E. J. Scheidt, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zuercher, Miss L. J. Scheidt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Haffner, Billy and Adelbert Haffner, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wilken and children.

Mrs. J. Gfeller entertained the Phillips and Helvetia Ladies' Aid last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Carl Christensen was hostess to the following dinner guests: Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lehman, Mrs. Cecelia Keller and Inez Keller of Portland, Mrs. Hilda Cornelius of Hillsboro and Mrs. J. Gfeller.

Mark Blake plans to be home from McKenzie Bridge for a week-end visit with his mother. Lois Mays is out of school with chicken pox.

Meacham Wins

Meacham school defeated North Plains school at the ball game played Friday at Meacham. Mrs. A. K. Reynolds and Mrs. Lester Cypher attended the convention of the Oregon League of Women Voters at the Columbia Edge-water Country club last week.

Margaret Cypher represented the freshman class of Pacific university as a delegate to the regional convention of Associated Women Students at W. S. C. in Pullman, Wash., last week. They also visited at the college in Moscow, Idaho. Friendship Temple held initiation Friday evening. Mrs. Tom Stigum and Charles Gardner were candidates.

Mrs. Ego Elected President of Aid

(By Mable Allison)
MOUNTAIN HOME—Mountain Home Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Cora Joyce last Thursday and elected officers as follows: Mrs. Ray Ego, president; Mrs. Howard Browning, vice-president; Mrs. Harold Aebischer, secretary-treasurer. May meeting of this group will be with Mrs. C. R. Kirkpatrick in an all-day meeting, with a pot luck lunch at noon.

Maxine Allison Davis of Portland was a house guest at the George Allison home from Thursday to Saturday evening. John Schmeltzer, Miss Helen Schmeltzer and Joseph Stretcher made a trip to Southern Oregon last Friday. Mrs. Earl Doney returned home with them, and was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schmeltzer, over the week-end.

James Allison of Corvallis spent the week-end at the parental home here, recuperating from a severe cold. He returned to O. S. C. Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. M. Dillon of Milwaukie were week-end house guests of Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Ferrill. Miss Edith May Burkey of Portland was a week-end guest of Miss Demaris Saunders.

All day Easter services at Mountain Home Evangelical church were well attended. Sunday school was given a lengthy Easter program. Basket dinner was served at noon to about eighty. Five children were baptized during the baptismal services. Rev. G. W. Plumer officiated. Preaching services and Christian Endeavor meeting completed the activities. Mrs. George Kirkpatrick and Miss Ellen Marie Jaquith were in charge of program arrangements. Program: Welcome, Dicky Strickler; vocal duet, Percie Ego and Wilma Boulin; song by girls of the Catechetical and Crusader classes; scripture lesson, read by Leland Swenson; prayer, Mrs. Cora Joyce; women's chorus; exercise and song, by Sunshine class; vocal solo, Miss Helen Schmeltzer; instrumental number by LeRoy, Kenneth and Ellen Marie Jaquith; reading, Mrs. Percy Hamilton; women's chorus; exercise, Stanley Ego and Hubert Aebischer; exercise, Wilma Boulin and members of the primary and intermediate classes; musical reading, Shirley Taylor; exercises, Workers' class; women's chorus; song, Caroline Ego and Janet Lekas; play, by members of the Crusaders class.

Farmer Group to Gather Tonight

Members of the Washington county farm bureau, which is associated with the American Farm Bureau Federation, will meet at the chamber of commerce rooms tonight (Thursday). The organization was formed just a year ago, with election of Robert H. Warren as president. Tonight's meeting will also be in the nature of an anniversary session. Roland D. Flaherty, western organization director for the national organization, and E. W. Woodford, one of the directors of the Dundee Growers' association, will be present.

Marriage Licenses

Edward A. Nuttall, Hillsboro, and Genevieve Olive Fomal, Oregon City. Robert P. Van Loo, Forest Grove, and Marian B. Ross, Gaston. Robert Lawrence Davis, Beaverton, and Ethel North, Tigard. Alfred A. Nelson, Portland, and Marcella L. Rogers, Hillsboro.

FREE "Snow White and 7 Dwarfs" game FREE with purchase of TEK TOOTH BRUSH 25c 50c

FREE Six No-Nik Drinking Glasses FREE with the purchase of a pt. bottle ANTISEPTIC SOLUTION

BUILD RUGGED ENERGY
That "Run Down," "Half Sick," Feeling Is Often Due to Lack of Iron in the Blood

Pursang, the marvelous new tonic, helps to bring back rugged energy by restoring needed iron to the blood. Pursang is a scientific product of the famous McKesson laboratories, containing organic compounds of iron and copper. These help to build hemoglobin—the substance that makes red blood red. Pursang also aids in improving digestion and stimulating appetite. That dull, dragged out feeling may be due to an iron deficiency caused by overwork, worry or illness. Get a bottle of Pursang at once. Take it two or three days and see how much better and more energetic you feel.

Hillsboro Pharmacy
"Save on Drugs" Prescriptions Our Specialty

berg spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilton. Mrs. Haris Entertains
Mrs. Emery Harris entertained a group of her neighbors and their children Saturday afternoon. An Easter egg hunt was a feature. Present included Mrs. William Offel and daughters Bertha and Ethel, Mrs. Percy Hamilton, Mrs. Bruce Hamilton, Mrs. Frances Hamilton, Mrs. George Kirkpatrick, teacher of Mountain Home school, sponsoring an egg hunt and pre-Easter party at the school house Friday afternoon.

Business and social meeting of Mountain Home P-T-A, scheduled for last Friday evening was postponed until Saturday evening on account of the pre-Easter services being conducted at the church on that evening. Kirkham Booked
Art Kirkham, of KOIN, has accepted an invitation from Mountain Home Parent-Teacher club to be present May 4 to speak before a community gathering in the recreation rooms of the Evangelical church. A pot luck supper is scheduled for seven o'clock, and is open to the public. The 4-H clubs and leaders are co-operating with the P-T-A group in preparing for this event, and have invited the P. T. Lehmans, Mrs. Cecelia Keller and Inez Keller of Portland, Mrs. Hilda Cornelius of Hillsboro and Mrs. J. Gfeller.

Those attending the parent-teacher party at the George Allison home last Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Lekas, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rosenbalm, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Hamilton and two daughters, Mrs. Mary Boulin and three daughters, Wilma, Dorothy and Relda, and Edwin Nelson. The evening was spent in playing games. Next business meeting of this organization will be held at the school house May 20. Election of officers is scheduled for that date.

Mrs. L. H. Durham of Portland is staying at the Dr. F. E. Ferrill country home here for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aebischer and son Danny of Bonneville were among those present from a distance who attended the Easter services at Mountain Home.

Mrs. L. H. Durham of Portland is staying at the Dr. F. E. Ferrill country home here for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aebischer and son Danny of Bonneville were among those present from a distance who attended the Easter services at Mountain Home. Mrs. Sam Body last week. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nelson had as their guests over the week-end last Saturday evening, Mrs. Earl Doney, Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl McQuaw of Portland.

Scholls
More than 400 people, who arrived in nearly 200 automobiles, were present at the Joe Kerr public sale, held here Saturday. J. W. Hughes was auctioneer. Sunday evening service at the Scholls Methodist church will have a return engagement of Mr. Huntington and his family. This picture will be of an educational nature. A free-will offering will be taken.

A large number attended the Easter services last Sunday. The church was decorated with wild currant blossoms and lilies. In the evening the pagant "The Challenge of the Cross," was enjoyed by a large crowd.

Mason Hill

(By Mrs. E. E. Waldorf)
Mrs. R. Bilings has returned home from the hospital after a mastoid operation. Mrs. Charles Johnson is at Pike caring for her mother, Mrs. D. Martin, who was painfully injured by a fall and is confined to her bed for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. John Pavelcic entertained at Easter dinner party for Mr. and Mrs. Henry Novak and LeRoy, Hallie Isaacs and LeRoy Bucher. The T. H. Johnson family attended a family dinner party Easter at the John Ryan home in Hillsboro.

St. Mary's High to Present Play at Aloha on Wednesday

ALOHA—"Sittin' Pretty," a three-act comedy by St. Mary's high school at the Grange hall April 27. Party Saturday
Card party, sponsored by the Grange, at the hall next Saturday night. Leases Store
Harold B. Davis of McMinnville has leased the Hill Feed store and is putting in a complete line of Albers poultry and dairy feeds, seeds and fertilizers. Miss N. Underwood of South Tobias avenue, who was injured in an automobile accident near Beaverton last week, is in Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, but her family is hoping she may be released this week. A good representation from this community attended the Christian Science lecture Monday night in the auditorium, Portland, and also on Tuesday night in the Congregational church in Forest Grove.

Opens New Business
W. B. Hillingsworth of Tillamook has established a plumbing shop in the Vincent Lumber company building. He was a student in the Aloha-Huber school. His home has a three days' retreat conducted by Father DeLaulay of Portland university. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams of Portland are visiting their niece, Mrs. V. L. Myers, on Blanton avenue. Mrs. E. M. Cole, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. V. L. Myers, and who has been ill for three months, is now convalescing. Lasella Builds House
Herman Lasella bought an acre on east Blanton avenue and is putting up a house for his future home. He recently sold his property north of the Grange hall to Miss Florence Barnhardt of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. William Larson of Portland have moved into the house on east Blanton, recently built by Miss Florence Barnhardt of Portland. Mrs. A. Colstrom of Laurel is a guest of Mrs. Ivy A. Ristley. Mr. and Mrs. William Hoy and children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ziek and family of Astoria visited Mr. and Mrs. George Ludwig on Lang avenue Sunday. Mrs. Hoy and Mrs. Ziek are sisters of Mr. Ludwig. The sun shines on C. J. Stickney's farm (sometimes). Peas a foot high, radishes and lettuce soon to be served, can be seen there. Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Lohus attended the Knorr-Kelly wedding in Hillsboro last Saturday. Mrs. Lohus sang "O Promise Me". Rodney Sprigg of Beverly Hills, Cal., is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Vance. A broom and dust-rag party was held at the Grange hall Tuesday evening and fairly well attended. Sydney Warner of Tillamook visited Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Warner Sunday. W. E. Warner and family are moving to Beaverton.

Mrs. Hattie Carson of Salem was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Norman. Indulges Hobby
In former years, George Edemiller followed the profession of horticulturist, now, in his retirement, he applies his scientific knowledge and indulges in his hobby of raising many rare and beautiful varieties of flowers and shrubs. One deserves special mention, the Imperial Crown lily, it grows to the height of from 18 to 30 inches at the rate of two inches in 24 hours. At the base of the central stem are several whorls of sessile-stemmed, dark green, glossy, lanceolate leaves, reaching half way to the top of the plant. About eight inches below the top appears a whorl of from seven to twelve large, dark red, bell-shaped flowers, each with six petals. This gorgeous ruff is surmounted by an umbrella-shaped tuft of tiny dark green leaves that overlap like the plumage of a bird.

Mrs. Lula Chappel Bleakney of Aloha has an article in the February number of the Vermont state magazine featuring the early history of Vermont. Mrs. Bleakney's husband, Luke M. Bleakney, was pastor of the Aloha Community Baptist church several years ago. The title of Mrs. Bleakney's article is "Vermont's Old-Time Camp Meeting." We quote the closing paragraph: "I rejoice in my memories of the old-time camp meetings. Our higher education seems to unfit us to utter the earnest, heartfelt prayers that came so easily to the lips of our ancestors. The 'blessing' at the table and 'morning worship' following breakfast have neither time nor place, we think in our life today. No, the old-time camp meeting belonged to the pioneers of Vermont, and helped them to make it the state it is today, but can never return." Attendance at the Easter services at the church was large. The large junior choir sang three anthems. Miss Loraine Fletcher spent the week-end visiting friends at Corvallis. Miss Catherine Leavenworth of The Dalles was a guest of the E. B. Fletcher family last week. Dorothy Sellers, visiting her sister Mrs. A. O. Davis of Walla Walla. The "500" club met Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Slovic. Mrs. Herman Guelton is visiting her daughter Mrs. A. L. Courtwright of Grass Valley, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Graves of Sheridan, formerly of this community, visited friends here last week. Gives Free Lessons
Primitive boys of Huber, armed with slingshots, were shooting at defenseless windows, and really demerolizing superior marksmanship. Someone invited the sheriff to come over and look on. He criticized the performance, and then there gave free lessons on how not to shoot. This closes the incident. Dazed Man Found
At 9:30 p. m. Sunday, two deputy sheriffs of Multnomah county stopped at S. E. Anzalone's, Huber, for the purpose of getting some identification of an aged man they found in a ditch near Sylvan. In a dazed condition he knew neither his name nor the circumstances that placed him in his strange environment. They found on his person a Christmas card bearing the name "Pat King," a ticket from Huber to Beaverton and $30 in money in a match box, and a considerable amount of loose change in his pockets. They took him to the emergency hospital in Portland for the night. Hounds of the law on the trail of culprits may assume, when need arises, the role of good Samaritan on missions of mercy. At the school play Wednesday evening, the audience was startled at sight of a certain pair of shoes on the stage. Each measured 8x18 inches. Mrs. Stacey Honored
Mrs. E. G. Stacey was given a surprise birthday party Monday at her home on Stacey avenue. Present were Mesdames Emma Brittain, E. P. Harvey, W. H. Durham, Harry French, Hilda Rydman, Ed J. Johnson and Miss Grace Ford. Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Schacht of Portland are moving into the bungalow east of the church owned by J. G. Vincent. Gloria and Maxine Johnson have returned to school after two weeks' absence caused by illness. Evangelist to Speak
Tonight J. L. Tucker, radio evangelist, lectures on the subject, "The Mark of the Beast in the Forehead." Huber hall at 8. The West Coast Gospel Singer will also be present. Burrill Brown of Lyons is visiting his sister, Mrs. Norman Manning. The Huber sewing club meets today with Mrs. Mammie Lewis, Beaverton. The occasion will also be in

St. Mary's High to Present Play at Aloha on Wednesday

ALOHA—"Sittin' Pretty," a three-act comedy by St. Mary's high school at the Grange hall April 27. Party Saturday
Card party, sponsored by the Grange, at the hall next Saturday night. Leases Store
Harold B. Davis of McMinnville has leased the Hill Feed store and is putting in a complete line of Albers poultry and dairy feeds, seeds and fertilizers. Miss N. Underwood of South Tobias avenue, who was injured in an automobile accident near Beaverton last week, is in Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, but her family is hoping she may be released this week. A good representation from this community attended the Christian Science lecture Monday night in the auditorium, Portland, and also on Tuesday night in the Congregational church in Forest Grove.

Opens New Business
W. B. Hillingsworth of Tillamook has established a plumbing shop in the Vincent Lumber company building. He was a student in the Aloha-Huber school. His home has a three days' retreat conducted by Father DeLaulay of Portland university. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams of Portland are visiting their niece, Mrs. V. L. Myers, on Blanton avenue. Mrs. E. M. Cole, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. V. L. Myers, and who has been ill for three months, is now convalescing. Lasella Builds House
Herman Lasella bought an acre on east Blanton avenue and is putting up a house for his future home. He recently sold his property north of the Grange hall to Miss Florence Barnhardt of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. William Larson of Portland have moved into the house on east Blanton, recently built by Miss Florence Barnhardt of Portland. Mrs. A. Colstrom of Laurel is a guest of Mrs. Ivy A. Ristley. Mr. and Mrs. William Hoy and children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ziek and family of Astoria visited Mr. and Mrs. George Ludwig on Lang avenue Sunday. Mrs. Hoy and Mrs. Ziek are sisters of Mr. Ludwig. The sun shines on C. J. Stickney's farm (sometimes). Peas a foot high, radishes and lettuce soon to be served, can be seen there. Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Lohus attended the Knorr-Kelly wedding in Hillsboro last Saturday. Mrs. Lohus sang "O Promise Me". Rodney Sprigg of Beverly Hills, Cal., is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Vance. A broom and dust-rag party was held at the Grange hall Tuesday evening and fairly well attended. Sydney Warner of Tillamook visited Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Warner Sunday. W. E. Warner and family are moving to Beaverton.

Mrs. Hattie Carson of Salem was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Norman. Indulges Hobby
In former years, George Edemiller followed the profession of horticulturist, now, in his retirement, he applies his scientific knowledge and indulges in his hobby of raising many rare and beautiful varieties of flowers and shrubs. One deserves special mention, the Imperial Crown lily, it grows to the height of from 18 to 30 inches at the rate of two inches in 24 hours. At the base of the central stem are several whorls of sessile-stemmed, dark green, glossy, lanceolate leaves, reaching half way to the top of the plant. About eight inches below the top appears a whorl of from seven to twelve large, dark red, bell-shaped flowers, each with six petals. This gorgeous ruff is surmounted by an umbrella-shaped tuft of tiny dark green leaves that overlap like the plumage of a bird.

Mrs. Lula Chappel Bleakney of Aloha has an article in the February number of the Vermont state magazine featuring the early history of Vermont. Mrs. Bleakney's husband, Luke M. Bleakney, was pastor of the Aloha Community Baptist church several years ago. The title of Mrs. Bleakney's article is "Vermont's Old-Time Camp Meeting." We quote the closing paragraph: "I rejoice in my memories of the old-time camp meetings. Our higher education seems to unfit us to utter the earnest, heartfelt prayers that came so easily to the lips of our ancestors. The 'blessing' at the table and 'morning worship' following breakfast have neither time nor place, we think in our life today. No, the old-time camp meeting belonged to the pioneers of Vermont, and helped them to make it the state it is today, but can never return." Attendance at the Easter services at the church was large. The large junior choir sang three anthems. Miss Loraine Fletcher spent the week-end visiting friends at Corvallis. Miss Catherine Leavenworth of The Dalles was a guest of the E. B. Fletcher family last week. Dorothy Sellers, visiting her sister Mrs. A. O. Davis of Walla Walla. The "500" club met Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Slovic. Mrs. Herman Guelton is visiting her daughter Mrs. A. L. Courtwright of Grass Valley, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Graves of Sheridan, formerly of this community, visited friends here last week. Gives Free Lessons
Primitive boys of Huber, armed with slingshots, were shooting at defenseless windows, and really demerolizing superior marksmanship. Someone invited the sheriff to come over and look on. He criticized the performance, and then there gave free lessons on how not to shoot. This closes the incident. Dazed Man Found
At 9:30 p. m. Sunday, two deputy sheriffs of Multnomah county stopped at S. E. Anzalone's, Huber, for the purpose of getting some identification of an aged man they found in a ditch near Sylvan. In a dazed condition he knew neither his name nor the circumstances that placed him in his strange environment. They found on his person a Christmas card bearing the name "Pat King," a ticket from Huber to Beaverton and $30 in money in a match box, and a considerable amount of loose change in his pockets. They took him to the emergency hospital in Portland for the night. Hounds of the law on the trail of culprits may assume, when need arises, the role of good Samaritan on missions of mercy. At the school play Wednesday evening, the audience was startled at sight of a certain pair of shoes on the stage. Each measured 8x18 inches. Mrs. Stacey Honored
Mrs. E. G. Stacey was given a surprise birthday party Monday at her home on Stacey avenue. Present were Mesdames Emma Brittain, E. P. Harvey, W. H. Durham, Harry French, Hilda Rydman, Ed J. Johnson and Miss Grace Ford. Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Schacht of Portland are moving into the bungalow east of the church owned by J. G. Vincent. Gloria and Maxine Johnson have returned to school after two weeks' absence caused by illness. Evangelist to Speak
Tonight J. L. Tucker, radio evangelist, lectures on the subject, "The Mark of the Beast in the Forehead." Huber hall at 8. The West Coast Gospel Singer will also be present. Burrill Brown of Lyons is visiting his sister, Mrs. Norman Manning. The Huber sewing club meets today with Mrs. Mammie Lewis, Beaverton. The occasion will also be in

Herd Association Gives 1937 Record
(Continued from page 3)
676 pounds of fat and the ten lowest averaged 202 pounds of fat, a difference of 473 pounds of butterfat for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite check on the response the cow makes in production for the year. Here again comparison of the total cost of feed and the return above feed cost is rather startling. With an increase in feed cost of 65 per cent the ten high cows gave a return above feed cost 657 per cent greater than the ten low cows. These comparisons in feed costs both in the high and low herds and of the ten high and ten low cows, emphasize one of the reasons for the formation of the herd improvement association is able to make of the information gained from testing; that is, to feed the cows in his herd according to their ability to produce. While adjusting the feed supply of each cow in keeping with her production and having a definite