At the National Capitol

(By John W. Kelly)

No secret is the fact that most members of congress are very pessimistic about the European situation and feel that the United States will become involved directly in a matter of months. With the opening of the session, every effort will be made to keep clear. Majority of members (and the administration) believe that President Roosevelt's "dash and carry" plan will prevent an entanglement, merely to just as strongly convinced that the way to avoid war is to sell belligerents nothing—to retain the mandatory embargo.

Zion Lutheran Church, Shefflin

Divine worship next Sunday at 10 a. m. in the English language. Regular quarterly meeting of the voting members of the congregation will be held October 1, at 8 p. m. An English communion service will be held two weeks from today at 10:30 a. m. Announcement may be made on Thursday, September 28, afternoon and evening.—C. F. Nitz, pastor.

Islands Termed America's Rhine

(By Roger W. Babson)

Administration officials have decided that the 12,000 CCC enrollees in Oregon and 7000 in Washington will not be given military training. Proposals have been made by various members of congress that training be included in the camp life of the enrollees, but the administration will attempt to prevent enactment of any legislation having such object in view. Starting October 1, there will be CCC camps in Washington counties, 25 Oregon counties, until April 1.

What the war will do to the pine crop is, for the present, unknown.

But it will be something. In 1938 England imported from America 43.3 million pounds of dried pineapples. A few days ago the British issued an order placing all stocks of dried fruit in the hands of the government. The government indicated pine crop for Oregon is 157,100 tons, Washington 36,200 tons. The Oregon and Washington crops are far greater than in 1938, so much greater that the F.P.C. has just been authorized to buy surplus dried pineapples in Oregon, Washington and California under a program designed to improve marketing conditions for growers.

On account of market conditions

last year Oregon, graded by not packing, 22,200 tons; Washington 3900 tons and California 60,000 tons, a total of 90,100 tons of food.

Not hit with the administration was the appeal of Charles A. Lindbergh urging retention of the mandatory arms embargo, although Lindbergh is not the popular idol he was a few years ago talk of running for president. Lindbergh's father was an Atlantic seaboarder's father was a member of congress just before America entered the war. He printed a book opposing Uncle Sam sending troops overseas, resulting in his father's re-election. The government seized his books and destroyed them. Lindbergh is following in his father's footsteps on this issue.

England has been making inquiries for heavy timbers, such as supplied by Pacific northwest mills to mines, to be used in constructing bomb-proof hideouts. One British vessel with a cargo of Douglas fir, sailing from British Columbia, has already been sunk by a U-boat.

Already the European war is affecting the lives and economies of the people of the United States from one end of the country to the other. Cost of living is increasing; commodity prices are rising; despite surpluses, employment is increasing in heavy industries and with consumer goods; profiteers are making their appearance. The first direct tap on the taxpayers' pocketbook caused by the foreign war is $12,000,000 needed to maintain the 100,000 additional soldiers, sailors and marines authorized by the president. This money must be appropriated in the present special session of congress. It represents, roughly, about $2 for every adult in the nation.

Top Hill spent the week-end with

Mrs. Martin's and Mrs. Jackson's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCoy. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vanderzanden, their son Robert to Dallas Monday, to see a doctor about his injured foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Key and two little sons Darrell and Dale of Top Hill spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Birch of Salem.

NO BAD DEBTS

To make easy reading put it in THREE CHAPTERS—

Chapter One—Said Pilate's wife

to the governor, when Jesus was of legal age, "Have nothing to do with that man, for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him." True woman, Jesus Christ had no bad debts. Moment by moment He had done His Father's will. He speaks of Judas Iscariot and he casts to the ground the thirty pieces of silver paid him to betray the Lord. Says Judas—"I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood." Right you are Judas. He was without spot or blemish.

Now hear Pilate, the governor—I

FIND NO FAULT IN HIM. Right-O Pilate. And after searching for twenty centuries, neither can the enemies of Jesus Christ find in Him any fault.

Chapter Two—At the end, there is the cross—HE BOWED HIS HEAD AND DELIVERED UP HIS SPIRIT. John 19:30. Mark, None other so died. By an act of His will, Jesus moved out and left His body, an empty shell of clay hanging there. Not so will it be with us; not by an act of our will but by his will shall we depart—Whether we are ready or not.

Chapter THREE—He who knew to sin was born into this world to become sin for us. He had no bad debts, you see. He did not need to die. Then why did He? That we might become the righteousness of God in His own sin and death put on over on His page and His right over our page, so for all who have Him as dying for their sins.

At these sacrament of the Lord's Supper, you hear—"As often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come." Just a bit ago some of the partakers were asked what these words meant to them. Mr. Ten-Year-Saved said—"I THINK BACK TO THE DAY WHEN I WAS CON- VERTED. His mind was on the price Christ paid to redeem him. Mrs. Young-Mother said—"I take strength from the wine and the bread." M. Liberal-Giver-And-Will-Work said—"I think of His sufferings for me and if I am called on to suffer for Him, so will I do." Yes, Jesus Christ SAVES—KEEP HIS SATISFIES—George N. Taylor, Beaverton, Ore. Paid Adv.
