What War Does to a Newspaper Office

The news, like the show, must go on. If war comes to America, U. S. newspaper offices may look like United Press headquarters in Paris today. Air raid alarm has been sounded; the correspondents are prepared, but still on the job. Mlle. Henrietta Cova looks out window. Others, left to right, are: M. S. Handler, Richard McMillan, Andre Desbureaux, and Paul Keeskemett.

Sportsmanlike Driving—Care in Traffic Jams

When there is an accident or when something unusual takes place, many motorists quickly park their cars and join the crowd. Too often they do so without regard for traffic. The result is a traffic jam and new hazards. The Sportsmanlike Driver is never a party to such practice.

Sale Planned By Cornelius Club Oct. 21

CORNELIUS—Civic Improvement club will hold a rummage and food sale on Saturday, October 21, in the old post-office building from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. The ladies would like to have all articles to be donated, brought in on Friday morning. This is your chance to pass on your "white elephant" to someone that can use it.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harder, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Van Domelen and Mrs. Fred Olsby and children returned Thursday from a trip to Klamath Falls, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schendel. Leaves for South.

Mrs. Alfred Dore left last Wednesday for San Francisco, Cal., to assist in the care of a friend who is ill.

Mrs. Herman Jones underwent a major operation at the general hospital at Forest Grove Thursday.

Club Meets Tuesday

The ladies of the Civic Improvement club will meet Tuesday, October 17, in the social room of the Methodist church. The serving committee will be Mrs. H. R. Huse, Mrs. Mabel Hergert and Mrs. Jos. Finnegan. The program will be travel talks given by Miss Olea Berger, Mrs. Don Engelen and Mrs. William Van Lom.

Receives Injury

Mrs. J. F. Straughan injured her ankle last Monday when she broke through a board on the porch of her home and fell. She has not been able to be on her feet since then but no bones were broken.

Henry and Carl Hoffman, Art Miller and Marvin Thomas left Monday evening for eastern Oregon to spend a week hunting deer.

Move to Grove

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hodge, who have been living in Mrs. Josephine Squires house for the past year, have moved to Forest Grove. Callers on Mr. and Mrs. Forest Coy on Friday afternoon were Mrs. William Johnson and daughter Alberta and Robert Kasill of Long Beach, Cal., Mrs. Wess McNeil and son Wesley McNeil of Oregon City.

Visits in South

Mrs. Henry Rithaler and her granddaughter, Nancy Handewich, left October 2 for Sacramento, Cal., to visit her son, Philip Rithaler. When they arrived in Portland at the Union station it was on fire and at Dunsuir, Cal., a train wreck, caused them to make a detour.

Get Deer

Byron Mooberry, Paul Senko and Earl LaFollette returned Saturday evening from a hunting trip near Burns with a deer each to their credit.

West Slope Club to Meet

The West Slope Improvement club will meet at the Sylvan school Friday, October 13, at 8 p. m.

Has Almond Tree

Miss Clara French of West Slope has a nut-bearing almond tree growing at her home, which because of its rarity in this climate has been attracting considerable attention. It is fourteen years old and has been producing almonds for the past six years.

A rally day program was held at the Methodist church Sunday, October 1, at which time the children of the primary department were promoted into the junior department, each receiving a Bible presented by Superintendent Charles Roseman. A program was given in the Sunday school hour by all of the classes and following this, a communion service for the children was presided over by Rev. Horsell.

F. E. Bushnell of Beaverton and director of bands in the Beaverton schools is now directing a school orchestra in the Aloha-Huber school. The activity, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association of that locality, was organized October 3. It has an attendance at this time of about thirty-five.
