Outstanding 4-H Pair Exposition Guests of Banks

Selected as the outstanding 4-H club girl and boy in Washington county last week by a local judging committee, Florence Mary Evers of Forest Grove route 2 and Donald Raymond Meier of Beaverton route 2, were guests of the First National bank of Portland during three days of the Pacific International Livestock exposition. They were declared winners from this county in the fifth annual 4-H club achievement and leadership contest sponsored jointly this year by the local bank and the Portland institution among approximately 26,000 club members in Oregon.

Increased interest and personal achievement among members in this county have made this year's choice a difficult task, according to the judging committee composed of Palmer Torvend, assistant county agent; O. B. Krause, county school superintendent, and D. G. Cooper, manager of the Hillsboro branch of the First National bank of Portland.

Florence Evers was announced winner among girls for her work in dairy, corn, poultry, pig, sewing, cooking and home-making, and Donald Meier was chosen from among the boys in recognition of his activity in dairy project, corn, swine and poultry. The guests followed a three-day program which included attendance at the Pacific International exposition, sightseeing tours of Portland, an evening at the horse show, special banquets and a dance.

Mr. Cooper states that every detail of the visit was arranged by the banks to insure complete comfort and safety of their 4-H club guests. "We consider it a privilege to honor these young people who are already proving themselves exceptional in character and leadership through the fine 4-H movement," he added.
