As Fire Attacked Farm Home

A farm house which had been a landmark in the Scholls vicinity since it was built in 1887, was leveled by flames Saturday. The Carl Johnson family had been living in the house for two years. Don Heard, Newberg route 1, snapped the above picture only a few minutes after the blaze started.

Old Landmark Destroyed by Fire at Scholls

SCHOLLS—The house belonging to John Ferguson, built in 1887, burned to the ground February 15. The fire started at about 2 p. m. and in less than an hour the house burned to the ground with just a blackened chimney left standing.

The Carl Johnson family, who have been living there the past two years, were just moving out and one truck load of belongings had been taken away. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were in the upstairs of the house when they heard a crackling sound and rushed outside to find the roof ablaze. Fortunately the Scholls Grange was in session at the time and a large number of men immediately responded to the call for help. Due to prompt action the larger pieces of household effects were carried to safety. The Johnson family are moving to a place on the Farmington road, about three miles from Beaverton, and are appreciative of the neighborliness and help given them.

Birthday Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Christensen gave a party in honor of their daughter, Ruth's birthday. Other present were Darlene Bolma, Mary Jane Dunsmore, Nadine and Virginia Hackett, Virginia Brown, Amette Stickelasky, and Phyllis Christensen.

Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Sibley visited. Representative H. T. Heas at his residence in Salem and found him recovering from his recent sickness. He was able to attend the legislature for the first time last Wednesday afternoon.

Jean Trask, Elaine Flint and Ruth Bernau have the chicken pox.

Wisconsin People Visit at Scholls

SCHOLLS—Guests of the George Lowell family last week were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Toennson and two children of Milwaukee, Wis. The family have been five months making the trip, driving leisurely from their home, and making many points of historical interest along the route. The trip has taken them into Canada, where they saw the famous quinquets, and one day was spent watching congress in session, the parents feeling that such features were of valuable additions to the children's education. The Statue of Liberty was also visited, the male members of the family climbing the stairs inside the statue, where they surveyed the view from the "eyes" of the statue, and a short visit to Cuba was included in the itinerary. The Toennsons left the next day after arriving here, but will locate permanently in Washington or Oregon.

The Misses Virginia and Nadine Bunnell returning from week-end singing engagements were fortunate Saturday evening in retrieving a coin purse with a large sum of money, lost in a bus on the way home. Learning of the loss upon their return home, contact was made with a garage where the bus they had started home in had been taken because of failure of the lights, with the consequent shifting of the passengers to another bus, and the purse was found on the floor by garage men.

A small group of friends and relatives of Mrs. Harold Mattoon (Yvonne Bunnell) were guests at a shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bunnell, on Wednesday. A feature of the afternoon was the contribution of favorite names for boys and girls by each visitor, and the opening of the many gifts by the honoree. Small Sharon Mattoon, Johnnie Fisher and Norman Herd acted as messengers to present the gifts. On the refreshment table a small doll in a carriage reposed on a paper cloud, and each tray bore a candy baby in a gundrop carriage.
