

Surprise Program Presented B.P.W. Club

Impromptu skits of an entertaining and amusing nature comprised the surprise part of the program presented by Mrs. Margaret Mosberg, chairman of the emblem ceremony, at the Business and Professional Women's club meeting Friday night at the chamber of commerce. Skits presented were "The Rummage Sale," "Her Souvenirs," "With Complications," and "The Fatal Quest," with members of the club in the casts.

Mrs. T. H. Bailey, vice-president of the P-T. A., introduced Jack Annand, architect who told of the plans for constructing and repairing school buildings in Hillsboro. After hearing Mr. Annand's address, it was requested by Mrs. Bailey that a member of the club be appointed to meet with the P-T. A. committee to discuss plans for the project. It was later voted by the club that its president, Mrs. Margaret Schnow, be its representative on this committee.

"My Pet Peeve" was the theme of roll call response, and club singing was led by Mrs. Verda Zondervan, with Miss Lucille Fisher as accompanist.

A candlelighted emblem ceremony was given for the new members by Mrs. Mosberg, assisted by Mrs. Fayette Allen and Miss Birdlyn Matteson, all in costume. Mrs. Elva Batchelor, membership chairman, and Mrs. Sahnow, president, introduced the members for initiation.

Table decorations carried out the George Washington birthday motif with favors representing sticks of wood with small hatchet and cherry trees with "large" red and white cherries. The finance committee, with Miss Blanche McCormick as chairman, served the dinner.

Business meeting of the club will be held tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Marie Hoffman. An invitation has been received by the club to attend a card party tonight (Thursday) given by the Portland club on the Battleship Oregon.
