Plans Outlined For Boys' State, June 22 to 29

The annual "Beaver Boys' State" sponsored by the American Legion in Oregon will be held this year on the Oregon State college campus June 22 to 29, under an arrangement between the board of directors of this youth activity and the college officials, which has just been approved by the state board of higher education.

Approximately 250 boys of from 16 to 19 years will take part in this citizenship training program, which is headed by D. M. McDade of Portland, president, and an advisory committee of leading state officials and citizens, including Governor Charles A. Sprague and Secretary of State Earl Snell.

The week devoted to this will immediately follow the annual 4-H club summer session, and arrangements have been made for the same facilities to be used. The boys will be housed in the big men's dormitory, and will get their meals in the Memorial Union building, the same as the college students and the 4-H club boys. The entire program, however, will be in charge of the American Legion committee.

After arriving, the boys organize their own government with officers "the same as those in this state, plus learning citizenship from actual practice. Most of the boys who attend are sponsored by local American Legion posts or other local groups, though no family relationship between the boys and Legion members is necessary.

Cocker Spaniel Is Nation's Most Popular Dog

MAN'S best friend is the dog. Man's favorite dog is the cocker spaniel. For the past three years, the sad-faced, long-haired, friendly cocker spaniel has led registration lists.

Second in popularity, but with less than half the registrations recorded for the cocker spaniel, is the bulging-eyed Boston terrier. The beagle is third in popularity.

American dog fanciers concentrate their interest and time on just a few of the 108 breeds recognized by the American Kennel Club. The first 10 breeds on the registration list account for more than 60 per cent of all the pure-breeds written into the records.

First 10 breeds, in the order of their popularity, are the cocker spaniel, Boston terrier, beagle, Scottish terrier, wire-haired terrier, pekinese, dachshund, springer spaniel, chowchow, and greyhound.

WHEN two dog fanciers owning different breeds get together, they never lack for conversation or an argument. People develop very strong likes and dislikes, for and against certain breeds.

The experts, who are acquainted with many breeds, own many dogs, and attend most of the important dog shows, are agreed that among all breeds there are good, bad, and indifferent specimens. Some are smarter than others. Some are just dull. Some are rugged and healthy, while others are sickly.

An interesting conclusion drawn from expert sources, is the opinion that almost all breeds of dogs—with few exceptions—make good companion dogs for small children. This holds true with both the small breeds and the large breeds.

Similarly, almost all breeds develop good watchdogs. Once a dog becomes attached to a person or family, his latent instincts for guarding usually develop. Though the small breeds can't do much damage in a rough-and-tumble fight, they are alert, and they bark when they hear strange noises around the home.

WHILE thousands of dog-lovers prefer the 10 leading breeds, many more thousands prefer some of the less popular breeds. All breeds have many desirable qualities which make them suitable as pets.

In World War II, as in the first World War, many breeds are distinguishing themselves for service to warring countries. They are specially trained for many war uses. Dogs are used extensively by the Red Cross and by ambulance units.

Prize Shetland sheepdog is "Downfield Olaf" (1) international champion, "Meadowlark Draftsman" (2) is a prize-winning beagle. Most popular dog in the nation is the proud cocker spaniel (3). Second in popularity is the Boston terrier (4). Here's how to solve the problem of "quints" if you have to give five Boston terrier pups a bath. Just hang them out to dry after a good shampoo (5).

The United States has more than 15,000,000 dogs, it is estimated. Their total food bill amounts to $1,500,000 a day, $347,500,000 annually.

countries have trained dogs to lay field telephone lines. Field hospitals, in charge of experienced veterinarians, have been set up to treat wounded dogs.

Annual Reunion Draws 100 at Schefflin Church

SHEFFLIN—Annual reunion of those confirmed in Zion Lutheran church was held Sunday. Almost all the classes were represented, beginning with 1905 when Mrs. George Bredford, who was present, was confirmed, up to 1940. Several who were unable to be present sent greetings. Following this service a luncheon was served in the parish hall to 100 members of the congregation and guests. Arrangements for the day were under the direction of the following Waltham Leaguers: Misses Wilene Kerkman and Alberta Peterson and Orville Sahnow. On the luncheon committee were Mildred Kahle, Don Kerkman, Rody Berwald and Anna Schwanke.

Voting members of Zion congregation met Sunday afternoon and voted to make several tables to be used in the parish hall.

Members of the several farmers' telephone lines met Monday evening in repair of the lines were submitted and finances were discussed.

Norman Sahnow left last week for Los Angeles, Cal., where he is attending the Anderson airplane school and specializing in sheet metal work. The course will take approximately eight weeks. Floyd Sahnow is working during his absence in the Sahnow's Garage in Hillsboro.

Firemen to Sponsor Boy at State Camp

Hillsboro firemen in session Thursday night voted to sponsor a local youth in the annual Beaver Boys' state camp. The vote, taken on the firemen's own initiative without prompting by Hillsboro officials in charge of the boys' state camp program, marks the fourth consecutive year that this organization has sponsored a boy.

Fire Chief S. W. McHugh commented, "It is a worthy cause. The boys we have sent in the past have been more than enthusiastic and their benefits are obvious." The camp gives "citizen" youth a grasp of democracy at work by having them become a part of the camp's government.
