

Patriotic Groups To Attend Church

In observance of Memorial Sunday, all patriotic organizations are especially invited to attend church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Methodist church, where Rev. Ira Aldrich will give the Memorial address, according to Mrs. Elwood Johnson, chairman of the Woman's Relief Corps, which is annually in charge of the program.

The chorus choir will sing special music dedicated to our heroic dead, and in accordance with their established program the W. R. C. will present the church with a silk flag.

Patriotic organizations to be represented will be Grand Army of the Republic (if possible), Daughters of American Revolution, Woman's Relief Corps, Daughters of Union Veterans, United Spanish War Veterans and Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary, American Legion and Auxiliary, Disabled War Veterans and Auxiliary, and others. These organizations are requested to meet at the church entrance, corner Third and Washington streets, at 10:45 and march into the church in a body.

Pictures Tracing Life of Christ Billed at Church

The "Life of Christ" in pictures is to be presented Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Christian church. J. Fredrick Hankammer, noted gospel narrator of Des Moines, Ia., is presenting 180 colored views on the Savior's life, believed to be the most complete list shown in America. Exact scripture is quoted from memory by this narrator as the slides are shown.

Hankammer was eight years selecting these pictures and has been presenting his program in the churches of America for 15 years. He has recently closed five months' showing with the churches of Seattle, Wash., and previous to that spent four months in Portland.

A special feature Sunday evening will be the illustrated solo, "Holy City," with 12 beautiful pictures. A free will offering will be taken. The public is invited.

Rosedale 4-H Club Gives Card Party

ROSEDALE—A benefit card party, sponsored by the 4-H sewing club Saturday night, was a decided success. Pinochle and "500" were played, high scores in pinochle going to E. A. Gillenwater and Leo Leopold, and in "500" to Courtney and Paul Crawford receiving consolation. In "500" Bertha Amstad and Ed Boze received first prizes, with Mrs. Layton Watts and Mrs. Jake Schlessner receiving consolation.

Proceeds of the party will supply a scholarship at the summer school at O. S. C. for Agnes Kaufman, a member of the club.

Dorothy Coomer, installed Monday night as worthy advisor of the Order of Rainbow for Girls. (List of officers in last week's paper.)

Sunday, June 1 "Homecoming" At Pythian Home

Set aside this day—June 1—come and enjoy a visit at "Our Home." Such is the message sent out by Walter G. Gleason, secretary of the Oregon-Washington Pythian Home board, to all Pythians and Pythian Sisters, their families and friends, according to Fred Swell, trustee of Phoenix lodge, who received the letter.

This is the annual "Homecoming" event and picnic grounds are available for all who care to take their lunch. Program will start at 2 p. m. and will include band, drum corps music, and drill team maneuvers.

A special invitation has been extended to Phoenicia Temple, Pythian Sisters, to have its drill team put on an exhibition drill.

Scholls Club Sings Here

Scholls Women's club chorus will give a concert Sunday night at the Hillsboro Methodist church, beginning at 8 o'clock. This chorus group has given concerts in several other churches, and have received many requests to appear here.

Mrs. Powers Ill—Mrs. William Powers underwent an appendectomy Tuesday at a local hospital and is improving nicely. Mr. Powers, who is employed in Tacoma, was here Tuesday because of his illness.

Mrs. Smith Injured—Mrs. J. Allan Smith suffered a dislocated shoulder Monday morning when she fell from the steps at her home on Jackson street.

Monday and Mrs. W. A. Dillon spent Sunday and Monday in Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Morgan Heads Junior Red Cross

Mrs. Harry R. Morgan was elected chairman of the Junior Red Cross for Washington county, succeeding O. B. Kraus, at the last meeting of the county Red Cross board.

Last year, Washington county enrolled 87 schools rooms representing 2,272 boys and girls in the Junior Red Cross activities. The year showed an increasing interest in exchanges with schools of outside countries in scrap books and letters—especially in the Forest Grove schools, Mrs. Morgan said.

B. P. W. Women Attend State Meet in Portland

With approximately 400 women in attendance, a dynamic national speaker, interesting sessions, charming hostesses, chic gowns, and a feeling of good fellowship, the 21st annual convention of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs closed a three-day meeting Sunday at the Multnomah hotel in Portland.

Miss Margaret Hickey, national education chairman and an attorney of St. Louis, Mo., was the speaker at Saturday night's banquet. In telling of the work women could do in defense of our nation she said: "Never forget that Nazism is singularly lacking in trained women power, because it has destroyed education and opportunity for women. Let's bring against Nazism what Nazism has destroyed. The intellectual blitz has already begun. Our first battle must be won in our own souls. We must have faith in the American system that built the nation as we know it."

Dr. Bruce Baxter, president of Willamette university, was the speaker at the emblem breakfast Sunday morning. His subject being "Spiritual Significance of Citizenship in a Democracy."

Gresham and Oregon City clubs assisted the Portland club as hostesses. Gresham having the "Spirit of 1776" dinner Friday night and Oregon City the "Pioneer" luncheon Saturday noon.

Mrs. Zola Morgan, past state president, presided at the Saturday morning session. Mrs. Margaret Schrow, local president, was a member of the rules committee. Mrs. Margaret Mooberry served on the election board; Lucille Fisher, state music and arts chairman, had charge of the choral contest and the hobby show. The club also assisted the Portland club as hostesses. Gresham having the "Spirit of 1776" dinner Friday night and Oregon City the "Pioneer" luncheon Saturday noon.

The bride's gown was of white satin with train and high neck. She wore a necklace of pearls, and a short Juliet veil with orange blossoms. A white orchid formed the center of the bride's bouquet, surrounded by Johanna Hill roses, buds and white stephanotis.

Miss Dorothy Davis of Portland, maid of honor, wore a powder-blue gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Bridesmaids were Misses Esther Nelson, Corrine Taylor, Jean Osborn, Lena Burki, all of Forest Grove and Portland. They wore pastel shades of taffeta and carried French nosegays of sweet peas, bouvardia and roses.

Lt. and Mrs. Miller passed under the arch of sabers as they left the altar and again as they went down the church steps.

Mr. Hugh Paul of Forest Grove was organist and Luella Paul as soloist sang, "I Love You Truly."

A reception for the bride party was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Hugh Paul, Jr., pourer and was assisted by Miss Betty Hanson and Miss Lena Burki.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to Mount Rainier, Wash. The bride wore a redingote ensemble, a black silk coat over a dainty red and white silk print, a black hat, and a white orchid corsage.

Lt. Miller, a former resident of Omaha, Neb., has been stationed at Camp Clatsop. He will be transferred to Kodiak, Alaska, where they will make their home.

Mothers Honored By O. E. S. Chapter Tuesday Evening

Mothers were honored as special guests at the meeting of Tualatin Chapter of Order of Eastern Star Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple. Each mother was presented with a corsage. Mrs. George Jacobson, worthy matron, had the pleasure of having both her mother, Mrs. Karine Homedew, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. P. Jacobson, present.

A beautiful memorial service was given for Anna Wells and Dan Burkhalter. Initiatory degree was given.

Mrs. Joseph Stretcher of Holly Chapter, Sherwood, grand organist of the grand chapter, was also a special guest. Visitors were present from Forest Grove and Sherwood chapters.

Musical program given included two violin solos by Mrs. Charles Tyler, accompanied by Mrs. Sewell; Mrs. L. C. Kramien sang, accompanied by Byrle Ramp, with a flute obligato by Leola Yount. Robert Peters sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Murton.

Nosegays of garden flowers were used at intervals down the long tables at which refreshments were served by Misses Corinne Pennington, Dorothy Sievers, Mesdames Paul Hughes, Scott Sammel, E. D. Carver and Mabel E. Grass.

County Women's Clubs Hold Music Festival Tonight

Washington County Federation of Women's clubs will have a music festival tonight (Thursday) at Marsh hall, Pacific university, Forest Grove, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

All clubs will be represented on the program of the Hillsboro clubs, Mrs. H. H. Stannard will represent the Service club with a reading; and Mrs. V. W. Gardner, Mrs. W. J. Enschel and Mrs. Ben Faber, trio, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Sewell, will represent the Coffee club.

Proceeds of the musical will go toward a music scholarship at Pacific university, to be awarded this fall to a son or daughter of any club member of the county federation.

That Reminds Me

(By Ralph Herbert)

Are you interested in "Life in America, in the spring of 1941?" Take a walk through any city park on a bright Sunday afternoon, and make your own observations.

You'll know there's a war going on. Not only do the trammes in the park wear uniforms, stroll arm in arm with their girl friends, but the youngsters wear brilliantly colored suits, dresses, and capes in the military manner. Girls of high school age have taken to military styles for spring, complete with decorative insignia.

A few years ago, you saw an occasional camera, mostly of the box type, pointed at a particularly beautiful tree or a shy youngster. Now almost everyone has a camera in the park. They range all the way from tiny candies to big affairs mounted on tripods, and to movie cameras picturing scenes in full color. The park is heaven to amateur photographers on Sunday.

The radio enthusiast doesn't intend to miss his favorite Sunday white silk print, a black hat, and a white orchid corsage.

Lt. Miller, a former resident of Omaha, Neb., has been stationed at Camp Clatsop. He will be transferred to Kodiak, Alaska, where they will make their home.

program just because he's going for a walk through tree-shaded lanes. He takes his portable radio with him, and doesn't miss a single news-cast.

A sign in the park says "This is your park. Peacemakers scattered around do not improve its appearance." It's surprising how well the public responds to signs like these, and to the simply worded "please" on plots of grass reserved for beauty.

To young mothers, parks are a great blessing. They proudly wheel their youngsters around the little lakes and through the gardens. Mothers need no introduction to each other to start a conversation about their babies. Each is interested in the age, crying ability, and behaviorisms of the other's offspring. Long-lasting friendships are easily formed.

You can't find an accurate picture of American life in the snobbish night clubs. You can see American democracy in the parks.
