

Huber Garden Club Flower Show Sunday

ALOHA-HUBER—The Huber garden club will hold its second spring flower show Sunday, June 8, in the basement of the Aloha Grange hall.

Classifications include both short and long stemmed flowers of all varieties, including floral rug or picture, also flower arrangements in basket, bowl, or vase.

Miniature flower arrangements must not exceed four inches in height.

A junior division will consist of the largest collection of wild flowers and the best miniature flower arrangement.

An added attraction of the flower show will be free instructions in cersage making, from 2 until 4 o'clock.

Mrs. H. A. Hartshorn, Mrs. N. P. Johnson and Mrs. Paul Patterson are the judges selected.

Sam Wray is chairman of the flower show committee. Mrs. Richard Ferriss will have charge of the luncheon.

Each exhibitor must furnish own vases and no vases are to be removed until the show is closed at 7 o'clock. All entries must be in by 12 noon.

The show opens to the public at 2 p. m. No entry fee or admission will be charged.

Everybody is welcome.

Miss Finegan Weds Mr. J. L. Moore

At Church Service

CORNELIUS—In the little Methodist church, where Miss Blanche Elizabeth Finegan attended from childhood, she sang, played and taught in the church school and church and where she worked in the Junior and Epworth Leagues, she was married Sunday afternoon June 1, at 3 o'clock to John Leland Moore of Tigard.

The ceremony took place in a beautiful setting of white in carnations, lilies and mock orange with a background of green ferns. On each side of the altar was a lovely basket of white delphiniums.

A palm at either side with white candelabra completed the picture. The pews for the family were cut-lined in white ribbon.

Mrs. Emma Taylor Sparks of Portland, the bride's former music teacher, in black and white chiffon with sweet peas and rosebuds in pastel shades, played preceding the ceremony, accompanied the singers and played in the offertory, march and Mendelssohn's recessional.

Miss Bonnie Litch of Enterprise, a teacher friend of the bride, dressed in pink organza with a pastel sweet pea and rosebud corsage, sang "I Walk Beside You," and "God Gave Me You," E. W. Nelson, choir leader and church school superintendent of Condon, followed with "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Donald and Robert Moore, brothers of the bridegroom, headed the procession, followed by Charles Finegan, brother of the bride, usher, and the bride's sisters, little Charles Finegan, flower girl, and Eleanor Finegan, as junior bridesmaid, dressed in peach dainty caps to match and carried colonial nosegays. They were followed by Mrs. Thelma Cornelius Driskill, a former Cornelius girl and teacher at John Day; Miss Mary Calavan of Vancouver, Wash., who is a teacher at Condon; and Genevieve Danick, newspaper editor at Condon, as bridesmaids, in chignon shirtwaist dresses of aqua, orchid and yellow with dainty caps to match. They carried matching colonial nosegays. Miss Dorothy Samsel of Hillsboro, a sorority sister of the bride, also wore a pink chignon shirtwaist dress, with matching cap and carried a colonial nosegay.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a broad, sheer crepe dress with wide, ruffled collar, full skirt and train. Her blonde hair was framed in a halo cap veil of tulle. She carried her mother's wedding handkerchief and her bouquet was of pink rosebuds and bouvardia, with a white tulle bow, with dainty satin streamers tied with pink rosebuds. She was met at the altar by the bridegroom and best man, La Verne Vantynning, and the officiating minister, Rev. Robert James Allen of the Condon Congregational church, where the bride attended.

The mother of the bride was in blue crepe, and the bridegroom's mother in orchid lace. Both wore rosebud corsages.

The church was filled with relatives and friends from Condon, Tigard, Washington, Salem, Portland, Corvallis and other places.

After forming a receiving line at the rear of the church and the usual rice-throwing, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, for close friends, relatives and the bridal party. The rooms were decorated in roses and lilies.

The bride cut a three-tier wedding cake, which was a mass of white roses and silver bells. Another beautiful three-tier wedding cake, decorated in pink and white, with a bride and bridegroom, was a gift of Mrs. E. W. Nelson of Condon, and decorated by Miss Genevieve Dunlop of Condon. Mrs. Lute Mapes of Hillsboro and Mrs. E. W. Nelson poured. Mrs. George Easterday of Hillsboro and Mrs. B. F. Reedy of Portland.

Vacation Church Opens with 60 Children Enrolled

The daily vacation church school sponsored by the local ministerial association, opened Monday with an enrollment of 60 children in all departments. The usual thing is for an increase in attendance as the school goes on, as children are expected to enroll before the week closes.

The kindergarten and primary children meet each week day from 9 to 11 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. L. Moberly and the junior and intermediate groups at the Christian church.

In addition to the teaching staff announced last week, Miss Ruth Lowe and Miss Amacher are assisting at the Methodist church and H. C. Vanner is substituting for Ira Aldrich, Methodist minister, and is giving instruction in leathers.

The school will continue next week with the possibility that on account of the Rose Festival parade coming the closing day of the school that the closing program will be presented Thursday evening instead. Parents and friends are invited.

Walter Muford, Baptist minister, is assistant director and will have charge during the absence of R. L. Putnam, director, who is a delegate to the adult regional conference in Forest Grove June 4-10.

Miss Meeker and Mr. Hickman Wed

CHEHALEM MOUNTAIN—Miss Jennie Meeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Meeker, became the bride of Mr. Marvin Hickman of Salem at an impressive candle-light ceremony at Mountain Top church Wednesday night, May 28. Rev. W. F. Morse read the single ring ceremony before a large white cross banked on either side with white lattice work entwined with ferns, white roses and meadow blossoms.

The bride wore a dress of white lace and mousseline de soie and carried a white satin muff with a steamer bouquet of bouvardia, and Cecil Brunner rosebuds. Mrs. Robert Milner of Albany, her sister, was her only attendant and wore a dress of turquoise blue silk, she also carried a white satin muff with a steamer bouquet.

Preceding the ceremony, Rev. H. E. Snavely of Salem sang "In the Cross of Christ I Glory." Miss Jean Dryden of Portland gave a violin solo, "Living for Jesus." Both were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Con Meeker of Portland, Mr. Stanley Kendall sang "The Song My Soul is Singing," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Kendall.

The bride entered the church with her father to the strains of the Lehighring wedding march, played by Mrs. Con Meeker, and was preceded by her matron of honor.

Jim Meeker was best man, Miss Vivian Ziegler and Miss Helen Mae Gunther were the ushers. They wore formal gowns with corsages.

A reception held at the home of the bride's parents was attended by about 120. Mrs. Charles Skilling, an aunt of the bride, cut the cake and the Misses Jean and Gerry Thompson served the ice cream.

Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Hickman left on a trip up the Columbia river. For going away she wore blue with white accessories. After their return they will be at home northwest of Salem, where he has bought a small farm.

The bride is an ardent worker in the church. She attended a Bible college in Washington and later taught Bible school in various places in the Pacific northwest.
