The wedding took place at the bride's home, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles T. Hurd, pastor of the Vernon Presbyterian church.

The bride was dressed in a red-tinge costume of light brown and beige, with hat and accessories to match, and she wore a corsage of gardenias. Her bridesmaid, Mrs. Louise Stephens, wore navy blue. Donald Herd of Scholls, was best man. The house was appropriately decorated for the informal ceremony, and following the wedding a reception was held for about 50 guests. Mrs. Jesse Snyder, who is famous for her fine cakes, constructed the beautiful wedding cake, and served it at the reception. Mrs. Lyle Potter poured the punch.

Following the reception, the wedding party attended another reception for newly married friends of the Snyder family, Mr. and Mrs. William Isley, who had been married the same day in Portland, after which the young Snyders left for a honeymoon trip of about a month to points in California and Oregon. Upon their return they will make their home in the house where his parents are now living, near the tile factory, where Jesse and his father have been associated. The younger man will take over the management of the factory. Mrs. Snyder is a graduate of Jefferson high school and her husband graduated from Hillsboro high. The couple received many lovely gifts.

During the absence of the young couple, the elder Mr. and Mrs. Snyder will move to another place owned by them, and will live in a small building now being constructed, until they can complete the erection of a new house, which they hope to finish this summer.
