Miss Cimino talked over the KALE radio program, "Voice of American Women," at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Her topic was the scholarship loan fund which is a special project of the D. U. V. tents. Applicants must be descendants of Union Veterans and must have one year of college.

Miss Peters Bride Of Mr. G. Bendix

At a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Trinity Lutheran church, Miss Louise Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peters of Cornelius, became the bride of Mr. Gerhart Bendix, son of Mrs. L. Burger of Forest Grove. Rev. George Reule performed the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in white, embroidered marquisette with train and finger-tip veil held in place by orange blossoms worn by her mother. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses, white and pink bouvardia. The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Koehnke, cousin of the bride, wore blue marquisette and carried white snapdragons and sweet peas. Guest Bendix, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as a recessional were played by Mrs. George Reule, and Mrs. Helen Austin, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Deber, sang "I Love Thee."

The church was beautifully decorated with large baskets of delphiniums, Madonna lilies and palms.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the social rooms of the church. The bride's cake was cut by Miss Kathryn Patterson and served by Miss Moni Bendix, sister of the bridegroom. Others assisting at the reception were Mesdames J. Haase, Henry Haase, John Goetz, Harry Soost, F. Deaville, and Miss Celestine Waibel.

Atop the three-tiered wedding cake was a white ornament which had been used on the wedding cake of the bride's parents. On a lace standard 2 spray of flowers arched over a dove.

For going away, the bride wore a green redingote with beige accessories and an orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Bendix will be at home after June 25 at Monroe, where the bridegroom is employed.

The bride is a graduate of Oregon College of Education at Monmouth and has taught school in Washington county for the past five years.

Wheat Germ Has Vital Place in Modern Cookery

Widespread use of the new enriched or restored flour containing additional vitamins does not replace the valuable vitamin food, wheat germ, in the diet, believe nutritionists at Oregon State college.

Experiments carried on this year in the nutrition laboratories by Dorothy Harstad, laboratory graduate assistant, and Agnes M. Kolshorn, assistant professor in foods and nutrition, have resulted in the development of numerous recipes using wheat germ, which provide foods exceedingly rich in vitamin B1, vitamin E, and one of the other B vitamins.

Available in Stores—Wheat germ is obtainable at grocery stores, in vacuum cans, in cellophane packages, and in other convenient containers. It is processed before packing to reduce the chance of it becoming rancid, although it is best kept in a cool place, since its fat content will deteriorate at room temperature.

Wheat germ may be included in the homemaker's favorite muffin, cookie, or nut bread recipe by simply substituting it for one-third of the flour. Usually no other changes in ingredients or methods of mixing are necessary. In making yeast breads, however, it is impossible to use as large a proportion of wheat germ, as it interferes with the development of the gluten, Mrs. Fenner found.

For Use in Bread—Where wheat germ is used in bread, an increased amount of flour in relation to liquid, a shorter rising period, and lower oven temperatures are recommended.

Use of refined cereals has created a dietary problem in the United States which is now being corrected in various ways, partly as a national defense measure to insure better health and national vigor. The three most practical ways are considered to be the regular use of whole grain products more generally, use of the recently developed enriched flour, and the addition of wheat germ in the home to cereals used either in bread products or breakfast foods.

On Honor Roll—OREGON COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, Monmouth.—Miss Mary Fenimore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Fenimore of Hillsboro, Miss Ethel Harty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harty of Hillsboro, and Miss Alma Petersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Peterson of Cornelius, carried at least 15 hours during the spring term at the Oregon College of Education and achieved a grade point average of 3.0 or better which entitled them to a place on the second honor roll.

Return From East—Mr. and Mrs. Clemente returned Sunday from a month's trip to Minneapolis, Redfield, S. D., and Baker, Montana, where they visited with friends and relatives. They reported a fine trip and that crops seemed good everywhere.

Classmate Visits—Mrs. Frank Peterson had as a house guest last week Mrs. George Lee of Chicago. Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Lee graduated together from Emanuel Hospital school of nursing.
