Fireworks Blaze At Shute Park Friday Night

Fireworks will burst and blaze over Shute park tomorrow (Friday) night as Hillsboro's "biggest yet" in "Happy Days" shows puts on by far the largest and most colorful display ever seen here.

Seventy-three separate aerial pieces plus six large stationary displays have been purchased. Wilbur Dillon, manager, announced. These will include six big divisions of display.

A national salute to the colors, a silver comet spectacle, grand prize exposition rockets, stadium rockets, and aerial bouquets will form the body of color and noise which will light Hillsboro skies in a trail of "Happy Days" fun and spirit.

The six set pieces will include a fiery "Welcome," an American flag in cascading color, a "Golden Jubilee" set, a "Donald Duck," a card of "Thanks" to the audience, and a surprise set. The framework will be 200 feet in size.

First fuses in the mammoth display will be lit at 9:30 p. m., Dillon announced. Full show will be free to all onlookers, and the "more that come the better," he said.

Music to Play Important Share In "Happy Days"

"They shall have music wherever they go" might well be the lyrical theme of Hillsboro's biggest yet "Happy Days" celebration, which bursts into full-blossomed reality today.

A series of programs, concerts, and dances will feature variations from act and sweet to jazz, and from march airs to near-symphonic arrangements.

Hillsboro's Junior band will break the musical "ice" today by appearing throughout the day at scheduled events. Starting at 9 p. m., "Happy Days" celebrants will have a chance to switch to dancing airs with Jimmy Whitmore's orchestra.

Music for tomorrow, the Fourth, will be presented by the Bethany and Forest Grove bands in programs lasting most of the day. Dancing will last all day and evening, starting at 3 p. m.

The Hillsboro Junior band puts in a return appearance Saturday at the final day of "Happy Days" festivity. A rousing climax to the night celebration will come that night with a dance and special attractions at the auditorium.

Aid-to-China Drive To Be Launched About July 20
The county-wide drive to raise "Aid-to-China" funds for United China Relief will be launched on about July 20, it was announced this week by Mrs. R. W. Weil, chairman of the county campaign.

W. C. Christensen has been appointed county treasurer and also has been selected to represent bankers on the committee. Other committee members named thus far are Mrs. Rex Wilson, representing women's clubs, and Rev. A. J. Sullivan, representing the clergy. Others are yet to be appointed.

A speaker on the United China Relief program is available for a talk in either Forest Grove or Hillsboro during the coming week but no definite place or date has been scheduled yet for his appearance. Mrs. Weil said.

Driver Training Course Cancelled
The driver training course scheduled for Hillsboro has been cancelled due to lack of enrollment, it was announced today. The driver schools, sponsored by the secretary of state, were to have opened here next week, but they may be scheduled on a later date if sufficient interest is shown, it was said.
