Octogenarian Dies

Mrs. Luitia Jack, who died Sunday in Hillsboro, after long illness.

Luitia Jack, Pioneer, Dies In Hillsboro

JACKTOWN—Funeral services for Mrs. Luitia Parmelia Jack, who died in Jones hospital early Sunday, were held from the Donelson & Sewell chapel in Hillsboro Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in the Lewis cemetery at Farmington. Rev. R. L. Putnam of the Christian church conducted the services.

Luitia Robinson, daughter of the late George and Martha Robinson, was born August 28, 1854, in Keokuk, Iowa, and crossed the plains to California with her parents at the age of six years. The family came to Oregon when she was 13 years of age and settled at Farmington. She was married to Joseph J. Jack on May 3, 1874, at Hillsboro, and had lived in the Farmington and Jacktown community for 73 years.

Mrs. Jack is survived by one son, George J. Jack, of Sherwood route 4, and a daughter, Mrs. Ida Sawyers of Willits, Cal.; four grandchildren, Melville R. Jack, route 4 Sherwood, Elmer K. of Portland, Byron of Reedville, and Mrs. Alta Conner of Portland; and four great-grandchildren. A brother George R. Robinson, when last heard from was a resident of Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Jack had been in poor health since February, when she had pneumonia, and had not fully recovered from that illness up until that time she had been very active in her home and in community affairs despite her 86 years.

The community of Jacktown was named for her family.

Red Cross Preparing for Busy Year

With athletics playing an important role in stiffening the morale of soldiers and sailors in Uncle Sam's growing forces, the Red Cross is adding to its services for the Army and Navy by providing $1,000,000 worth of sports equipment. Above, a typical scene, shows men of the Twenty-ninth Division at Fort Meade, Md., opening a Red Cross consignment of boxing gloves, some of the thousands of items purchased to meet a lack of Army and Navy funds immediately available for recreation.

U. S. O. Within Sight of Goal

Washington county's U. S. O. total will reach approximately $1710, only $40 short of quota, when known amounts uncollected as yet come in, it was announced this week by J. W. Poynter, county chairman of the drive.

Latest contributions to come into the campaign coffers were $49.99 from Tigard, which for intentional or coincidental reasons is just one penny short of the quota for that community, and $284 from Forest Grove.

U. S. O. bottles in the city of Hillsboro have brought in $89.33 to date and small amounts have come in from bottle collections in other parts of the county, Poynter said.

County Resident 48 Years Passes

BEAVERTON—Services were held at the W. E. Peag Chapel July 31, for Mrs. Freda Austin, who passed away on July 29 at Good Samaritan hospital, where she had been taken several days earlier following a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Austin had been a resident of route 2, Beaverton for 48 years. She was born in Stockholm, Sweden, December 28, 1893, and came to the U. S. when two years old.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hazel Stricker of Beaverton, and Mrs. Alfreda Woodin of Multnomah; one son, George Austin of Jamesville, Wis.; seven grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Interment was in Crescent Grove cemetery.

Merchants List Goods to Be Sold At Auction Here

Everything from cars to cod-liver oil, from machinery to mixtures, from farm needs to fancy work—in fact, everything from A to Z, will be offered for sale at bid prices by Hillsboro merchants co-operating in the second annual traveling auction to be held here on August 16.

Lists of goods to be placed on the auction block were being drawn up this week and plans for the colorful event were going full speed ahead.

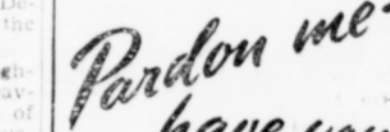

H. A. "Hank" Kuratli, whose abilities as an auctioneer are known throughout the county, will be the barking for the quick-sale items. The bargain parade will start at 1 p. m. and will move from door to door along a pre-arranged route. Full details will be announced next week.

Hillsboro Model Plane Wins Top Prize at Meet

Leonard Sherman of the Hillsboro Gas Model Airplane club was top winner in the invitational meet of the Portland Gas Model club held Sunday on land adjoining the Hillsboro airport. Some 75 model planes and their owners from Portland, Seattle, Yakima, Olympia, Tacoma and Spokane were in the meet.

Sherman's plane, which he designed himself, stayed in flight for the longest time of any in the meet for 12 minutes and eight seconds to win the sweepstakes prize, a nine-ounce 1/4-hp model plane motor. The Hillsboro-built plane model has a wing-spread of 46 inches and is powered with a 1-7/8 h.p. motor. Sherman also won another motor, a three-ounce 1-1/2 h.p. model for his plane's top performance in its class.

Three other members of the Hillsboro Gas Model club had placed in the Portland meet. Among the model enthusiasts from Portland was Jim Walker, who recently won national championship honors with his radio-controlled model.

A bully met two men, John and Sam. He attacked John, saying, "As soon as I finish you, I'll attend to the other fellow." That other fellow said, "I'll keep out of this until I'm attacked. I'm for myself, first, last and all the time."

A careful driver approached a railroad, he stopped, looked and listened. All he heard was the car behind him crashing into his gas tank.

Non-High Area Plans Annexation

(Continued from last week) figures of at least 100 per cent of the legal voters residing within the districts seeking to be annexed at the same number within the annexing district.

A whirl of facts and figures form the background for the annexation plan. The union high school district formed in 1926 with consolidation of 17 small districts, last year had a tax of 11.9 mills. With budget savings during the past year, the 1941-42 budget is expected to drop the next levy to 10.9 mills.

Future Bright

Moreover, the financial picture looks even brighter for future years. According to M. P. Cady, Jr., member two more years will all bonds outstanding against high school building paid off, the levy should then level off at about 8 mills per year.

The non-high district, on the other hand, has seen its annual millage on the increase. In recent years, the levy has been at least 5.1 mills. By last year, it had advanced to 6.9 mills and school officials expect it to go higher this coming year. Decreased valuation due to logging and fires in valuable timberlands coupled with increases in the number of high school age children is the cause for this climb in levies.

A careful driver approached a railroad, he stopped, looked and listened. All he heard was the car behind him crashing into his gas tank.
