

County Pickup Marks "Finis" On Metal Drive

Washington county's "aluminum for defense" drive was officially closed this week as county trucks gathered the scrap metal from large and small communities according to schedule.

Trucks brought in 1649 pounds of the white metal on Monday and stored it in a safe place in Hillsboro awaiting shipment to Portland. Comparable piles of discarded pots and pans were added to the first day's haul with pick-ups on Tuesday and Wednesday.

In addition, there are sizable piles of the metal waiting to be picked up at Hillsboro, Cornelius and Forest Grove. In these communities, located on a main highway, aluminum will be picked up directly by large truck companies volunteering in this defense service.

Eliminates Stops

County truck collections at other communities on the Tualatin highway—Reedville, Aloha and Beaverton—were included in the pick-up schedule in order to cut down on the number of stops that would have to be made by the commercial trucks, it was explained this week by L. L. MacIntyre, county engineer, in charge of the county pick-up.

Calling attention to the national defense importance of the aluminum drive, County Chairman S. T. Richardson this week issued a public statement of thanks to all organizations and individuals throughout the county who have contributed in any way to the satisfactory results of the metal-producing campaign.

In Hillsboro, the same expression of thanks was extended by Mrs. Mabel Grass, head of the drive here, to the many organizations in local co-operation, including the Coffee Club, Service Club, B. P. W. Club, Garden Club, P. T. A., American Legion Auxiliary, D. A. R., D. U. V., V. F. W. Auxiliary, Boy Scouts and Sea Scouts.

No definite word has been received from the state as to when the aluminum will be picked up for shipment to Portland and thence to smelters.

"Privilege Pay" Plan Sought by Council

Limit be established on Main street between Second and Third and that there be strict enforcement of the existing ordinance against double parking. No action was taken by the council on any of the recommendations pending expressions from the public.

A demand of Mrs. Walter Wright of Forest Grove for $1000 damages in settlement for injury allegedly sustained on May 15, 1941, while on a swing at Shute park was referred by the council to the insurance company covering such accidents.

Request Approved

The council approved a request of the B. E. Midling company that Washington street be improved with a 30-foot macadam surface from the present end of the street improvement through to Dennis avenue. It was reported to the council that the Oregon Electric railway has agreed to take care of its portion of the improvement. A resolution of intention to improve will be introduced at a later session.

Several other street and sidewalk improvement projects were acted upon by the city fathers. A previously drawn ordinance calling for WPA labor to improve South Seventh and Eighth avenues between Main and Washington was repealed in view of recent discontinuation of the federal work agency but substitute action toward the improvement got under way immediately with adoption of an intention to improve "sans WPA" curbs will be constructed and macadam surface laid down a width of 30 feet.

Ordinance Adopted

An ordinance for improvement of South Eighth between Oak and Walnut with curbs and 30-foot macadam surface was approved. The city attorney was instructed to draw another ordinance calling for construction of concrete short sections of sidewalk between Sixth and Seventh on Cedar.

Two church organizations had requests granted. The Four-square church was granted permission to set up a tent on the lot between the telephone company and the city hall and to hold meetings for a 30-day period providing said meetings close by 10 o'clock nightly. The Seventh Day Adventist church was granted permission for a musical group to circulate through the residential districts playing instruments and receiving donations for needy persons.

A delegation of contractors in metal trades, electric wiring and plumbing appeared before the council with a request that an annual license be worked out covering their trades to be effective on all such work done within the city. The request was referred to a committee composed of E. A. Griffith, J. L. Searcy and A. H. Bosh with instructions to confer

Crowds Tour Medical Clinic At "Open House"

The new medical clinic of Dr. A. O. Pitman and F. J. Kabeiseman had its biggest day Sunday with some 200 "customers" more or less filing through the clinic portals. But the "customers" were not exactly patients, Sunday was official "open house" day for the new structure.

The streamlined brick building, including 18 rooms, met with unqualified approval of the open house visitors. Gleaming new equipment installed in some of the special rooms brought numerous queries from the "tourists" and some of them left with a more profound respect for the technical side of doctoring.

The new medical offices, located on Third avenue between Main and Lincoln streets, rank with the most modern in the state.

Miss Elizabeth Ott is serving as business manager and assistant to both doctors. She has been with Dr. Pitman since he started his practice 12 years ago. Employed as receptionist for the Pitman-Kabeiseman clinic is Miss Marjorie Pitman.

Dr. A. O. Pitman is a native Hillsboro son, born January 5, 1901, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pitman. He received grade and high school education in Hillsboro and matriculated at the University of Oregon as a pre-medics major in 1921.

Following graduation from the University and medical school, Dr. Pitman served his internship in the Multnomah county hospital. His first office was opened in Forest Grove in 1929. A year later, he opened the Commercial bank building office which he so recently vacated. Three children very definitely give Dr. Pitman claim to the "family man" title.

Dr. F. J. Kabeiseman has been associated with Dr. Pitman since 1937. He is a graduate of the Creighton university medical school in Omaha, Neb., and served his internship in the St. Vincent's hospital, Portland. He is unmarried.

He received emergency treatment at the Newberg hospital and was taken Wednesday to the St. Vincent's hospital in Portland, where it was found that the arm was so badly swollen that it could not be set for ten days. The arm was broken in two different places.
