

Pythian Sisters Here Hosts to High Officers

Friday was a red letter day in the annals of Phoenicia temple when it acted as host to supreme and grand officers and past grand officers, with temples of the county, Friendship of North Plains, Delphi of Forest Grove, and Lakeview of Gaston, assisting.

Mrs. Elsie Danner of near Monmouth, the only living sister charter member of Phoenicia Temple, was the first to be introduced. She was presented with a corsage by the acting most excellent chief, Mrs. Maud Stannard, who welcomed her and expressed the pleasure of the temple in having her present. A Knight charter member of the temple, W. V. Wiley, was unable to be present.

Supreme and grand officers present were Mrs. Bird Sandlin of Ardmore, Okla., supreme chief; Pearl Kinzer of Salem, supreme protector; Cora M. Davis of Portland, past supreme chief; Mrs. Ethel Murphy of Salem, grand chief; Rose Haskell of Baker, grand senior; Cora Davis, grand mistress of records and correspondence; Estella Johnson, mistress of finance; Edna Bond of Forest Grove, grand guard; and Margaret Phillips of Rose Temple, St. Johns, past grand chief. Other honored guests were Mrs. Barbara Graves of Portland, supreme representative; Rose Farrington and Emma McKinney, past supreme representatives; Hazel Holbeck and Lucinda DeBergh of Eugene, past grand chiefs.

Mrs. Sandlin, supreme chief, was presented with a myrtlewood tray and plaque of Timberline Lodge, both products of Oregon. These were gifts from the four temples of the county—Gaston, Forest Grove, North Plains, and Hillsboro. The presentation was made by Emma McKinney, past supreme representative, and who was an Oregon representative the year Mrs. Sandlin started through supreme temple. The plaque was the work of Miss Alice Sewell of Portland, formerly of Hillsboro. The program included singing of "God Bless America" by the audience; harmonica numbers by Mrs. Lucile Franklin of Forest Grove, accompanied by Mrs. Stella Strahl, wailing selection by Mrs. Alice Tew of Gaston, accompanied by Vera Sharp, vocal solos by Mrs. Hazel Hollenbeck of North Plains, accompanied by Gene Cypher, and piano solos by Mrs. Jessie Sewell.

The supreme chief made an inspirational address, stressing membership in honor of the Ida Jayne Weaver membership campaign. She reported that Mrs. Weaver, mother of the Pythian Sister order, is quite ill at her home in Seattle. Short talks were given by Mrs. Danner and other dignitaries present.

A profusion of fall flowers were used in decorations in the temple hall and in the dining room, the tables being decorated with flowers, candles in temple colors in red apple holders, with varicolored gourds giving a fall touch.
