

In 1919, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stevens moved to Laurel from Farmington and started operating the above store. For 18 years they gave service to Laurel residents from the same location. Then, in the summer of 1937, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stevens moved to Hillsboro, leaving a son, Elbert, in charge of the store. The late W. L. Stevens was considered one of Washington county's oldest storekeepers in years of service . . . News then . . . Remember When?

Aloha Grangers Sponsor Dinner And Bazaar at Their Hall Tonight

ALOHA-HUBER—Aloha Grange bazaar and dinner tonight (Thursday) at the Grange hall. Out of the Aloha-Huber school have come a successful lawyer, a pastor of a big church in Seattle, three foreign missionaries, four business executives, a secretary of a big insurance company, two musicians of more than local repute, a cartoonist, a motion picture producer, some half dozen school teachers, an artist, illustrator of wide recognition, and others—a pretty fair showing for one rural community.

Many beautiful presents were received by Mrs. Thomas Traugbier at a shower given in her honor, October 24 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Christina Wolfe. Present were Mesdames Albert Lindeman, Marvin Riley, A. J. Gaunt, Harry J. Brown, all of this community; Ray Traugbier and daughter Dorothy, Huell Bengt, Pauline Davis, Verne Ahrens, John Pearson, Hillsboro; Lee Burris, Timber, Ralph Clark, Forest Grove; Leonard La Hayne, Cornelius; Raymond, Buckner, Sandy, the home guest and hostess.

The J. F. Turner family spent Sunday in Tillamook and McMinnville.

E. D. Hites of Hiteon Honored On Anniversary

HITEON—Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hite entertained friends with a party at the I. O. O. F. hall in Tigard Saturday evening. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hite were surprised with a program of vocal and instrumental music, and a reading, which was climaxed with a hilarious mock wedding. George Anderson made a beautiful bride with Mrs. Leslie Erickson as groom. Mrs. Peter Case minister and Peter Case a dainty flower girl. The Hites were then presented with a lovely set of dishes in honor of their 35th wedding anniversary, which they recently celebrated and also for the love and esteem which their many friends have for them.

Mrs. Ray Kuiken, Mrs. C. W. Struthers and Mrs. William Barham attended the tri-county rally at the Beaverton Church of Christ Tuesday. Washington, Columbia and Clatsop counties held an all-day meeting with pot luck dinner.

Mrs. Metzentine Hostess

Hiteon club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Cora Metzentine with 13 members and three visitors present. Roll call was on "a Scotch or Irish joke." A new member, Mrs. George Campbell, was taken in the club. The president asked that all work for the coming week be turned in at the next meeting. Next meeting, November 5, will be a luncheon at the home of Mrs. George Anderson with the county demonstration agent in charge.

A large crowd enjoyed the Halloween program at the Hiteon schoolhouse Friday evening. Baskets were auctioned off by Chester Robinson. Doughnuts and coffee and homemade candy were sold, bringing in about $15.

Mrs. Webber, the school clerk, took the school census Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Campbell left Friday for Medford, where Mr. Campbell will be some time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Owen and son John of Salem were week-end guests at the T. J. Akers home.

T. J. Akers returned to his work at the John Deere company in Portland after two weeks of influenza.

Prisoner Makes Suicide Attempt

Charles H. Anderson, alias Fred Haynes, of Portland, who was in the Washington county jail from Friday until Monday on a charge of giving an incorrect name and address to purchase narcotics, was transferred this week to the state hospital at Salem for observation.

Anderson made an unsuccessful attempt to take his own life Sunday by slashing one arm with a razor blade, according to Sheriff J. W. Connell.

He was questioned by county, state, and federal officers about recent drug store burglaries at Beaverton and Newberg, in which thefts of narcotics were reported, Connell said.

Last Rites Held For K. Litvin

McKINLEY-ELMONICA—Services were held Monday at Donelson & Sevel's funeral home, Hillsboro, for K. Litvin, 60, who died recently at Portland Sanitarium. Burial was at the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Surviving are a wife, Mary, and eight children, five of whom are living at home. Mr. Litvin was born, February 8, 1881, in Russia and came to this country in 1907. He had been farming on the Spies property in recent years.
