Scholls Co-operates in Blackout; Bazaar Slated; Club Meets Tuesday

SCHOLLS—Scholls participation in the blackout experiment met with almost 100 per cent cooperation. At the sound of the old time mill whistle, which was used for the first time in 12 years, lights blinked out, most of the residents watching the foggy sky in hopes of a stray plane. Bunnell's store was used as telephone station, and as a meeting place before the blackout, where arm bands were distributed by Mrs. Sutherland to the men authorized to control traffic.

Small Halloween vandalism was reported, the smaller fry confining themselves to "trick or treat" reaping a harvest of candy, cookies and small coins, thereby. With the end of picking at the Wohlshlegel orchards Saturday, the harvest of Scholls walnuts was done, a very few remaining to be gleaned, which was lucky for the pickers, as the torrential rains of Monday would have stopped the work.

Families Move

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brindle moved this week to the property where the Munger family formerly lived. Mr. and Mrs. Munger have moved to their recently purchased farm. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howard will move from Laurel to the Kay place, where the Brindles have been living.
