Hay and Feed

Poultrymen, Hatcheries!
AS YOU know, the dried milk problem is becoming serious. It is not only the price question, but it is getting to the point where dried milk is hard to get.

For a flock to stay healthy and maintain high production, it must have a properly mixed feed containing milk along with many high quality concentrates and grain. Most feed manufacturers will be forced to use one milk substitute or another. We have for several years been featuring Vitamilk (vitamin and milk), an all vitamin concentrate, the oldest all vitamin concentrate on the market. It has proven its value in the hands of countless thousands of feeders throughout the United States and several foreign countries.

Don't take chances with your hatches and quality of baby chicks or pullets this coming season. Look into the value of Vitamilk mash for all ages of poultry. Vitamilk feeder mashes will put the ability in hatchability 5, 10, 15, or 20 per cent better hatches is money in your pocket.
