Armed Forces Need Priority

Necessity of civilian traffic giving priority to that of the armed forces was stressed by Stan Church, director of traffic safety in the office of Secretary of State Earl Snell, in speaking before the Hillsboro Rotary club Thursday noon.

Inability to control traffic contributed to the all defeats of the British and French before the evacuation at Dunkerque, he said.

Church urged all to enlist in the program of using their cars correctly to prevent accidents and at the same time conserve on tires and machines.

Accidents in Oregon since 1935 amount to 200,000 with 40,000 injured and 2,000 killed. The number killed, he said, is equivalent to losing all the people in a town the size of Forest Grove.

The traffic accident problem is being attacked on all fronts, such as through driving classes, movies in schools, newspaper and radios, engineering, education and enforcement.

A. M. Jannsen was program chairman. Paul Patterson will be in charge of today's program. A Rotary Ann meeting with a dinner at 6:30 p. m. February 12 will observe the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Judge R. Frank Peters is in charge of arrangement.
