

Edythe Tozier Weathered Dies; Historical Collection Given County

Mrs. Edythe Tozier Weathered, well known as an Oregon historian, lecturer and organizer, died in a Portland hospital Tuesday. Funeral services will be held at the Day's Sunnyvale funeral home at 10 a. m. Friday and interment will be in Hillboro cemetery in the Tozier family plot.

Mrs. Weathered had been living until recently at the home of Rev. Mrs. C. P. Blanchard in Portland. Born at Tuslaton February 4, 1884, she was the daughter of the late Charles T. and Zerilda P. Tozier. Mrs. Weathered lived for many years near Tuslaton and in Hillsboro. She attended Pacific university and in 1922 was married to W. L. Weathered, brother of the late T. S. Weathered of Hillboro, and in 1928 moved to Portland. Throughout the years she always maintained an interest in Hillsboro and Washington county.

Gave Collection Here

Mrs. Weathered, an ardent historian of the Oregon country, spent a great deal of time lecturing to clubs and schools on that subject. With her brother, the late Albert Tozier, she was for six years in charge of Champeau park in the early 1930s. Her historical collection, at one time considered to be one of the most extensive and valuable in the state, was turned over to the Washington County Historical Society and furnished the beginning for the Washington county museum now located in the basement of the Hillsboro library.

She was commissioner from Oregon to three different eastern fairs, including those at Buffalo, N. Y., Alton, Va., and St. Louis, Mo., and was active in the organization of the Lewis & Clark fair in Portland in 1905.

While in the east Mrs. Weathered edited for a while a northwest historical magazine and later was one of the originators of Sunset magazine. She was one of the directors of the state fair at Salem and first woman president of the National Editorial association, of which her brother, the late Albert Tozier, was one of the first presidents.

Active part in organizing the society of Veteran Steamboatmen of the West and also the Alaska Sound society was also taken by Mrs. Weathered. She was an active member of the Washington County Pioneer and Native Sons and Daughters association from the time of its organization and active in Grange work, being a past chaplain of the Oregon State Grange. Since suffering a stroke three years ago she had been out of active life.

Deceased is survived by a sister, Mrs. Nellie Cox of Hartford City, Ind., and three nieces, Mrs. Frank Sholes of Cornelius, and Tennessee and Eva Weathered of Hillsboro.

Her father, Charles T. Tozier, was an early Washington county judge and sheriff.

Home Canned Fruit Juices Will Add Variety to Diet; Suggestions Given

(Prepared by the Rural Press Section of the OWI News Bureau)

For variety—and to save food coupons next winter—home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are suggesting home-canned fruit juices. Those suffering from the homemaker must distrust in whole fruit canning will give excellent juice provided they are free from bruises and decay and not overripe.

You may use rhubarb, berries, cherries, currants, plums, cranberries, or grapes, preferably locally grown since freshness is important. To preserve the fruity taste, juice for beverages should be extracted from the raw or slightly heated fruit. Apples and peaches do not give up their juices readily when raw or slightly heated and are not recommended. Citrus juices are hard to put up at home and take a good deal of sugar.

How to Do It

To can fruit juice for beverage wash fruit but do not soak it. Remove any pits and crush the fruit. Heat it gently to 170 degrees Fahrenheit (below simmering) until soft. Strain it through a cloth bag, and if you wish, add sugar. One-half to one cup of sugar per gallon of juice is sufficient, but sugar is not necessary for the preservation of juice. Heat the strained juice to 170 degrees and then pour into hot jars or bottles, leaving 1/2 inch head space. Completely seal at once.

Combined U. S. forces have wiped out the Jap garrison and shot down 101 Jap planes. According to latest reports, the conquest of the island has been completed. Only 17 U. S. planes were lost.

Liquor Ration Reduced Again; Quart a Month

A further reduction in Oregon liquor rationing went into effect July 6 on orders of the state liquor control commission. Effective Tuesday, permit-holders can purchase no more than one quart or one-fifth of whiskey during any four-week period.

This applies to all Scotch, straight and blended bourbon and rye whiskeys. The drinker, however, will be permitted to purchase, in two pints, a quart or a fifth of gin, rum, brandy or cordial during the four-week period.

Whiskey Shipments Cut

Ray Conway, state liquor administrator, said that approximately the same amount of liquor will be consumed in the state in 1943 as in 1942, but from now on only 50 per cent of the liquor sold will be whiskey, whereas 63 per cent of the liquor sold in 1942 was whiskey. Only 50 per cent of each shipment to the agencies and stores will be whiskey. The managers will have to establish daily quotas which they may place on sale, making due allowance for increased business on Saturdays and for holidays.

Because of a shortage of pint containers, the permit-holder will not be allowed to buy two pints in any one week, but he may buy one other pint in the week following. Or he may buy the quart at one time.

of $2,000 in bonds. He graciously gave the first dance to War Bond Administrator Eccles. Dances with the attendants went for $1,000 in bonds each, the firemen buying these bonds.

In urging the purchase of bonds, Bailey said "It is invasion time on the war fronts and we must supply what it takes."

Lieutenant Willard Newton, former Hillsboro resident, who served as a tail gunner in an army bomber in the Midway battle and at Guadalcanal, was introduced and spoke briefly.

Special tribute to Hillsboro folks was paid by Master-of-Ceremonies Richardson, who said: "They are a non-commercial, non-profit organization, organized for our benefit and our safety from fire. They have done a fine job and I am sure I express the thought of all those who are lucky enough to call Hillsboro 'Home' when I express the thanks of Hillsboro folks to Chief Wilbur Dillon and to each and every man of his department for their past efforts in our behalf and our confidence in being under their watchful care."

Richardson also called attention to the fact that the Goddess and her court were again sponsored by the Hillsboro Business and Professional Women's club for the ninth year with Mrs. Hilob Hagle as chairman and Mrs. Wilma Hall as co-chairman. Mrs. Maudie Stannard arranged and coached the groups that participated.

Dedication of the Washington county honor roll was held Monday morning with program in charge of the United Spanish War Veterans and Veterans of Foreign Wars, sponsoring organizations. The names already listed total 1,040 with the roll less than half complete. Ray L. Antrim, U. S. W. V. commander, presided.

Patriotic exercises in the Shute park auditorium followed the flag raising ceremonies. George Watts, new department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the principal speaker. The exercises were held under the sponsorship of the Allied Veterans Commanders Council.

The "Old Oregon Trail" parade with its live representation of more than 200 horses, the Flagola games every afternoon and the horse show Monday afternoon were so well received that there is considerable sentiment to develop the possibilities of horse events in connection with the celebration.

Members of the Washington county Red Cross motor corps, captained by Mrs. R. W. Well, conducted a first aid tent throughout the celebration and they had their station wagon on hand for ambulance service in case of an emergency. Minor injuries were reported including cuts, sunburns and a broken arm.

Certain Types Shoes Released

The OPA has disclosed that certain types of shoes formerly rationed will be released on July 7 if they already were manufactured or imported by that date.

Included are evening slippers with uppers of gold or silver leather, or imitation leather with gold or silver finish; baseball, track and football shoes; men's and women's knee-height riding boots (including boots without lacing and with lacing only over the instep, but not including full-lace boots, jodhpurs or cowboy boots).

Altering a shoe after manufacture in order to fit any of these specifications will not release it from rationing, it was emphasized.

Packaged Shoes Exempt

Also to be released from ration requirements July 7 are shoes completed, packaged and shipped from the factory before July 16 which contain no leather except as top lifts and in which the sole is made principally of rope, fabric or fiber in which rubber is used primarily as a binder.

Merchants were instructed to attach to their inventory form R-1701 within five days a record showing shoes released from or added to rationed inventories. Shoe dealers receiving increased purchase allowances from the district OPA should follow the same procedure.

Greater Care at Crossings Urged

Pointing to recent news dispatches telling of the burning of freight cars carrying war munitions in a western state, Secretary of State Bob Farrell today urged motorists to exercise greater care at grade crossings to avoid colliding with trains which may be carrying high explosives.

"Many trains today are loaded with war materials and supplies, munitions and other explosives included," he declared. "An accident involving such trains may well be catastrophic and it may delay vital shipments needed in our war effort."

"Most grade crossings in Oregon are now marked with stop signs, but reports indicate some drivers fail to observe them. Cooperation on the part of the motorist in this matter is an essential part of each individual's participation in the war effort."

Farrell also stressed the importance of observing care at branch lines not marked by stop signs. On many such lines, trains engaged in military transport may be encountered at any time, he said. Therefore, he suggested that drivers develop the habit of stopping at all grade crossings before proceeding across the tracks.

"Stop, look both ways, and proceed with care at grade crossings," he said.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO HOME CANNERS

The Glass Top Seal Fruit Jar Cap for Home Canning was developed as a wartime product to conserve metal. It consists of a Metal Band, Glass Lid and Rubber Ring.

Because of the difference in the nature of these three materials this Cap must be used differently from any other fruit jar cap. If used properly it will give excellent results. If not used properly, results will be bad, including failure to seal and breakage of jars. Following are simple instructions for use of the Glass Top Seal Cap and must be followed carefully.

1. Do NOT use in Oven Canning.
2. If processing, (cooking in jar), leave 1 inch space in top of jar. If using open kettle, leave 1/2 inch space in top of jar.
3. Fit rubber around projection on bottom side of lid.
4. Place lid so rubber lies between lid and top edge of jar.
5. Turn bands tight, then loosen slightly (about 1/4 turn). Bands must fit loosely during processing (cooking). This is important and must be done to insure best results. If using Open Kettle, screw bands tight as soon as jar is filled.
6. After processing, screw bands tight to complete seal. Remove bands 12 hours after canning.

DO NOT TURN FILLED JARS UPSIDE DOWN
