Program Features Cedar Mill School Open House; Local Control Said Best

CEAR MILL—A splendid program attended by 100 school patrons and visitors marked the open house celebration of the new school Saturday evening. P. A. Thorne was master of ceremonies and the program was opened with the singing of "America" and the flag salute by the audience.

Following a short talk by Mr. Thorne on the history of the school, former teachers of the school responded with short accounts of their experiences. Three were present: Mrs. Ernest Gillard of Portland, formerly Miss Swan, who taught six years in the late thirties; Mrs. M. D. Brown of Springfield, Ill., who taught one year, 1919-20; and Mrs. J. P. Moore, two years, 1916-17 and 1917-18. Mrs. P. A. Thorne responded as the only graduate of the school in 1902.

C. F. Freeman, the architect, gave a review of the cost of construction and amounts raised by the district and appropriated by the federal government. Claud Cover, director during the building period, gave a short talk, followed by responses from the present directors: Harold Peterson, A. G. Larson and A. A. Pearson.

Main speaker of the evening was Paul Savre of the Portland school board. His theme was, "The Public School An American Institution."

He stated that the second act of the Oregon state legislature was to set up a public school system in the state and urged that the present school system be maintained and the trend toward leaning too much on the federal government be curbed. He spoke also of post war plans for education and advised that the schools should cater more to the training of individuals in vocations for life.

Dodd Berg of Beaverton sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Patricia Heinrichs. She also accompanied Miss Beverly Thorne, who rendered two numbers of bird whistling interpretations. Mrs. Zola Morgan of the county school superintendent's office responded with a short talk; also Mrs. Frank Young, as president of the P-T. A.

In the social hour that followed, several old residents of the district recounted experiences of former school days. Mrs. Louis Stark remembers when the old one-room school was located on the south side of the Cornell road on the property now owned by C. B. West, formerly a part of the original Walters homestead and the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Churchley. The school was later moved across on the north side, the land being donated from the Walters estate.

The school was first known as the Walters school.

The little one room has now been placed to a large four-room building with the most modern equipment, the cost of the new

Schools Conduct War Chest Drive

What are YOU sacrificing to speed the invasion?

● In swamps, foxholes, deserts and icy terrains . . . wherever men are facing the enemy . . . staggering sacrifices of life are made. What comparable sacrifice are YOU making? The very least YOU can do is to make a personal sacrifice to feed and equip these fighting men.

Buy War Bonds Up to the Hilt Every Month

● We're on the offensive now—actually invading the enemy's strongholds. That kind of a war costs more than $10,000,000 an hour. Figure it out for yourself. You've got to slash every unnecessary from your budget and buy all the bonds you can every month. We're counting on the boys who have invaded Italy, New Guinea and the Solomons to drive their bayonets to Berlin and Tokyo. They're counting on you to give them the surest protection possible—the best and most equipment possible NOW!
