State President Visits; Camp Fire Groups Honored

Mrs. Frank von Borsell of Grass Valley, department president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will make an official visit to the Hillsboro unit Tuesday evening, February 1. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Earl Anderson of Salem, district president.

The meeting will be held at 6:30 o'clock for dinner and 7:30 o'clock for Auxiliary members and their families, and all are urged to attend.

Program will be in charge of the American committee, Mesdames E. L. Hurd, C. Eslinger and B. M. Goodman, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Kroeger. Hostesses will be Mesdames Morris Weil, Jake Weil, J. W. Poynter and A. M. Abrams.

Camp Fire girls and leaders will be guests of the Auxiliary and many will be presented with their citizenship awards. J. W. Poynter, superintendent of the elementary schools, will be the speaker, his subject being "What It Means to Be an American." A musical program will be presented by the two Camp Fire groups sponsored by the Auxiliary.

B. P. W. Program Given by PU Men; Club in Bond Drive

Members of Pacific university faculty presented the program at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club Friday night at the chamber of commerce.

D. Otis Smith, professor of history, gave the address of the evening, and a program of musical numbers by well known composers was given by Prof. Eldon L. McCollum, pianist, and Prof. George B. Williston, pianist. Miss Ann Laemmerman, program chairman, presided jointly with Mrs. Mabel Grant, president.

Mr. Smith spoke on "The Presidents" giving sidelights, humorous and otherwise, on the lives of presidents of the United States not recorded in history. He quoted Thomas Butler, author, as saying that ten were of high caliber. Excerpts from Mr. Smith's address were as follows:

Andrew Johnson's wife taught him to read. Thomas Jefferson, one of the best educated men of his time, spoke several languages and at 82 years of age founded the University of Virginia, observing that the world was progressing. The building he said, is one of the most beautiful in the nation. Jefferson was an inventor, having invented the swiveling chair and the spinning machine. Madison devised the short-hand system in 1836, but it was not disclosed to the public until 1930. Zachary Taylor did not vote until he was 62 years old.

Washington was inaugurated president in New York. Jefferson was the first to be inaugurated at Washington, D. C., and "Hickory" Jackson had the highest inauguration, his friends coming in their mountain clothes and having a general "good time," upsetting things with punch, etc.

James Buchanan was the only bachelor president, and his niece Harriet Lane, served as hostess at the White House. James Madison was the tallest president, being five feet and four inches tall, and weighing 100 pounds. J. Q. Adams had his clothes stolen while swimming in the Potomac and had to stay in the water until his passing boy brought other clothes.

Abraham Lincoln had smallpox while he was in the White House, contracted from a woman who came to see him as a soldier's son.

Grover Cleveland was the only president married in the White House. He was 49 and his bride 22 years of age.

President Taft's wife visited Japan when her husband was secretary of war, and admired the cherry trees so much that 2000 or 3000 were imported to this country.

Teddy Roosevelt could read faster and read more than anyone, sometimes reading two books in a day, and Mr. Smith, who wrote history in good style and was always authentic, Woodrow Wilson was the best educated of all presidents, according to the speaker, who said when he took the presidency of Princeton university it was practically an exclusive club for wealthy men's sons. Wilson predicted that it would soon be a "fraternal organization," which some of the students resented. Golf was Wilson's hobby.

Teddy Roosevelt lost an eye while boxing bull. He was a campaign speaker, but finished the speech, said the speaker.

Herbert Hoover married Lou Henry at Stanford university. A Catholic priest, acting as justice of the peace, performed the ceremony.

Franklin Roosevelt contracted infantile paralysis when a shot coming from a hike with his children, he jumped into the Bay of Fundy for a swim while he was contracting the disease.

Mrs. Paul Patterson, chairman of women's organizations on the war bond drive and J. L. Seary, chairman for Hillsboro, gave talks on the fourth war bond drive. The club voted to make the house-plant canvass for the drive, and Mrs. Merle Selfridge, war activities chairman, assigned territory for members to solicit. She announced that the report of individual members showed $425 in bonds and stamps purchased since last meeting. This made a total of $26,502.50 purchased by members since July 1.

The program and dinner was in charge of the international relations committee, Mrs. Ann Laemmerman, Mesdames Elva Betschler, Gladys Barton, Agnes Brown, Lillian Hibbert, Harriet Ford, and Miss Margaret Ruecker. Dinner was served in the dining room, tables being decorated in the Netherlands motif with tulips, stens and windmills. Menu cards also carried out the same motif.

SUPERVISOR—Mrs. Elizabeth Heacock, recently appointed district traffic supervisor of West Coast Telephone company.

Elizabeth Heacock Assumes New Duty With West Coast

Mrs. Elizabeth Heacock, who was recently appointed district traffic supervisor of the West Coast Telephone company, attended a toll office management school in Portland the week of January 19, at the office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

O. E. S. Card Party Well Attended

The O. E. S. card party Tuesday night was a real success. Prizes were received by Mrs. Don Mesinger and Lloyd Ramp, high, and C. T. Richardson, consolation, in contract bridge; Mrs. Mary Walker and J. K. McGlasson, high, and Mrs. Jensen, consolation in 300; Mrs. John Cox and Harry Smith, high, with S. Wood in pinochle consolation. A social evening with refreshments was enjoyed afterward.

Another card party is planned for the near future and notice will be published in the Argus.

Women Recruiters Visit in Hillsboro

Lt. Karlene Amussen of Portland and Lt. Katherine Saramel of Milwaukee were Hillsboro visitors last Wednesday. Lt. Amussen is with the AIR-WACS and Lt. Saramel is with the WACS.

The lieutenants say the need for women to replace men in the service is much greater than the enlistment, and an urgent appeal is made for women to seriously consider whether or not they can enlist in the WACS, WAVES, SPARS, or any of the service groups.

Air force of the WACS is comparatively new to women, and its eligibility includes women from 20 to 49 years of age. There are 38 different jobs that women can do in this branch of the service without learning to fly.

Speakers will be sent if wanted to organization meetings at any time from any branch of women's war service.

Local Men in Contact

Beverly Jane Hurd, who has been ill for three weeks with the flu and spent one week at home convalescing, returned Sunday to Good Samaritan hospital to resume her duties as cadet nurse.

Circle One Meets—Circle One of the Methodist W. S. C. S. will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. Sherman, 248 South Eighth avenue. Members are urged to attend, and visitors are welcome.

Mrs. Hulit Honor Guest at Shower

Mrs. Curtis Hulit (Katherine Truett), a recent bride, was guest of honor at a bridal shower Monday evening at the home of Mrs. E. O. Sahnaw, Lorna Mullinax and Grace Sahnaw were co-hostesses.

Guesting games were the entertainment of the evening after Mrs. Hulit had opened her many lovely gifts. Guests were her co-workers at the Jones hospital, where she is a nurse, and a few close friends. Mr. Hulit is in the navy.

Cpl. Schulmerich Here

Cpl. Ted Schulmerich, former Hillsboro resident, was in Hillsboro Monday visiting friends and relatives. He has been in the army since for 14 months and is stationed at Dyersburg, Tenn. Cpl. Schulmerich, who arrived in Portland January 18 to visit his family, left Wednesday for Tennessee, to meet Lt. Norman McFrees, now in England, in the post exchange there several months ago.

Red Cross Requests Finished Kit Bags; Invalid Helps Out

An urgent call for finished kit bags is being sent out by the Red Cross production room committee. All people or clubs are asked to please finish bags and return to production rooms as soon as possible.

An appeal is made for more wool material to be used immediately in making hospital slippers. The first quota of 500 pairs has been completed and a request has been made for more. Material suitable is heavy wool overcoating or rippled type, and must be washed, pressed and ready for cutting. Faded material is not usable, but when ripped the error can be often found to be unfaded. Padding such as quilted table covers or mattress covers, if clean and pressed, can be used for insulation and would be greatly appreciated.

Experienced knitters are needed. V-neck sweaters for the army have just been received. Also white yarn for knitted bed socks and for stump socks for wrist, ankle and thigh.

One of the most faithful donors for the Red Cross is Mrs. C. S. Reynolds of Mountaineer, who has been invalid for more than 20 years. She has just completed more than 65 pounds of finished material clippings for the Red Cross, according to Mrs. Gene Mast, chairman for that district. Mrs. Reynolds, who has been bedfast for more than 15 years, has been very active in Red Cross work since the production rooms opened in Hillsboro three years ago. There is great need for these clippings as they are used to fill wheelchair cushions, arm rests, etc.
