Teachers Plan Stronger Group Here Tonight

Outlining of a plan of action giving active support to the state teachers association's program for improvement of the teaching profession and the schools of the state will be undertaken here tonight (Thursday) by a representative group of Washington county teachers. The meeting is to be held in the office of County School Superintendent Austin Scrafford.

Program to be considered will seek to strengthen the county organization and will cover the balance of the current school year and continue into the following year. Insuring permanent financial state support for schools is one of the primary objectives of the state association.

Teachers attending the meeting tonight will include Beatrice V. Peterson, county teacher president; Dave Leger, Frances Deaville and Nellie Elwert, county teacher officers; John R. Cox, Hillsboro union high school principal; Keith Goldhammer, Gaston high school principal; J. W. Poynter, vice-president Oregon State Teachers association; Paul A. Menegat, Forest Grove union high school principal; Ray J. Haas, Aloha-Huber elementary principal; Margaret Goff, president elementary teachers; Marguerette Simon, principals president; Mrs. Zella Nelson, president of intermediate teachers; C. E. Werden, Sherwood high school principal; I. R. Metzler, Beaverton superintendent; Clyde Hopkins, Sherwood high school principal; William Stafford, Banks elementary principal; and Harriet Ford, Hevwood teacher.

Dinner meeting of the Washington county teachers association has been called for April 12 at the Cornelius grade school starting at 6:30 p. m.

Vanderschuere Farm Has Artesian Well

A. F. Vanderschuerer, who owns the old Robinson place near Farmington which he purchased from Mrs. Dalby, recently had a well drilled by Frank Gaunt of Aloha. It turned out to be an artesian well with an overflow of 4½ gallons per minute through a half-inch pipe—over 6000 gallons per day.

Marine Air Force Lieutenant Visits

Second Lieutenant W. V. Everett left Saturday by plane for Cherry Point, N. C., after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Everett of Hillsboro. It was a transfer from Jacksonville, Fla., that gave Lt. Everett the opportunity to visit at home. He will get his final 100 hours of flight training in the marine corps on his return.

W. V. Everett

Lt. Everett enlisted in the naval air corps in November, 1942, while a second-year student at Long Beach junior college in California. He received flight training at Lewiston, Idaho; St. Mary's college, Cal.; Pasco, Wash.; and Corpus Christi, Texas, where his wings and second lieutenancy were awarded last Christmas. He then transferred to the marine air corps and was sent to Florida.

The young airman attended Hillsboro grade and high school and was graduated from Gresham high school in 1940. (Cut courtesy Journal.)

Red Cross Fund Totals Increase

"Our showing in the war fund drive is one of which all of Washington county may well be proud," Gates declared. "It bespeaks the wonderful co-operation we have had from the public, the area and community chairmen and solicitors.

Final report cannot be made until all reports and remittances are in, Gates stated. He, therefore, asked that all area and community chairmen kindly rush in their reports and remittances by the end of this week. If unable to contact Gates, chairmen are asked to take the reports to Bert Hemsing at the Commercial National bank, who will issue receipts.

One Last Kiss

Up in Aberdeen, Wash., it was and some years ago.

"Good-bye, Sonny! Good-bye, till we meet on that other shore."

With that the aged woman reached up and gave the lad a goodbye kiss. They would meet on that other shore. Of that her Bible made her sure. They had Christ's word for it—"Because I live, ye shall live also."

Did you glance into the dining car of the road's crack train that Easter morning? Did you note above the fine linen and the silver service, the stately Easter lilies? They told the hope of the many, that after death comes resurrection—the blessed Easter hope. The many believe that the great God will raise all man-kind to glory.

Are they right in this? For said Christ—"No man cometh unto the Father but by Me." Neither is there any second name given among men whereby ye must be saved, so you also will be raised do we come to God, but only by Christ.

Receive Christ as Lord and Saviour and have the true Easter hope. Only then can you say that because Christ came from the grave, soy ou also will be raised to glory.

Baptist Pastor Resigns Pulpit

Rev. W. T. Mugford, who has been pastor of the First Baptist church of Hillsboro the past three and a half years, announced his resignation from the pulpit at the close to his morning service and sermon Sunday morning.

Rev. Mugford intends to enter the evangelist field and will continue his radio gospel ministry over Radio station KXL in Portland every Sunday morning from 8 to 8:30. While here he introduced to local churches "Singspiration," a monthly gathering of the local churches. He also served as secretary of the Ministerial association and took part in civic and patriotic meetings.

While at the local church he took steps in having a large service flag and honor roll, which includes the names and stars of the members of the congregation.

He came here from the Warren Baptist church in 1940.

Return to Hillsboro

Mrs. Mamie Cleveland and family have moved to Hillsboro from Portland.
