Fisher Seeks Congress Post

Campaigning for the republican nomination as United States senator for the six-year term Earl E. Fisher of Beaverton, former Washington county state senator, has announced his slogan as "Win the war! Get your heart in America and the Japs out!"

Fisher declares that he is making no glittering promises, offering consolation service based on 12 years' experience in the Oregon legislature. He declared that he would serve the best interests of Oregon, her people, her industries and will be present when the clerk calls the roll.

While it is important to have good committee assignments, Fisher contends that it is more important to be on the job fighting for Oregon, America's greatest job is to win the war and bring the boys home as soon as possible. Fisher declares he favors co-operation with our allies to guarantee world peace.

Other planks in Fisher's platform are: Abolish the big game of bureaus in Washington and restore constitutional government to the American people. Let's keep America American.

Return all Japs back to Japan after the war. Make the New America a better place to live in and enjoy the four freedoms.

Fisher has served the county as state senator, joint state senator and state representative. He will run against Rufus C. Holman of Portland, incumbent, and Wayne T. Morse of Eugene in the primary elections.
