

School Teachers Solve Housing In Unique Way

BEAVERTON — Barnes school has been re-decorated inside. It is now being painted outside. Two sisters, Miss Helen Erickson and Miss Ruth Erickson are the teachers. They came from North Dakota to Oregon a year ago, and taught at Glenwood last year. They worked at the shipyard during the summer. Their parents are living at Vanport. The two young ladies have solved the problem of a boarding place in a unique way. They purchased a nice trailer house and have parked it on the school ground. Lights, water, and plumbing facilities, are all available from the school.

Cedar Mill Club Holds First Meet

CEDAR MILL—The Cedar Mill Community club held its first fall meeting Wednesday evening, September 13, at the Grange hall, after a summer of no regular meetings. It was decided to distribute a monthly calendar of business and social functions of all the different community organizations to each member. A harvest dance is being planned for October 28. Volleyball playing was resumed on Monday night at the Union school gymnasium at 8:30, immediately following the Boy Scout meeting.

New Scout Leader

A. R. Pearson has consented to be the scoutmaster with meetings each Monday night at 7:30 at the Union school gymnasium.

A Red Cross worker, Miss Louise Linthicum, spoke on arts and crafts, which are being taught to the wounded soldiers at Barnes hospital in Vancouver, Wash. She spoke of the workshops which have been set up in hospitals over the United States by the Red Cross and of the boys' enthusiasm about them. Several interesting articles, which the boys have made, were displayed by her, including a painting, a bolt of woven material, two ladies bags (one of scraps of wood and one of knotted crepe paper) belts, a leather bilfold, a loom woven rug of fine quality and beauty of workmanship, a painted marker for victory gardens, a painted bottle, a leather bookbinding, woven baskets, and a metal lapel pin. Miss Linthicum stressed that most of the materials are scraps from mills and that little expense is involved, also that the trained Red Cross workers in charge are carefully screened as to personality, ability and good citizenship.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stark sold their home on Leahy road to the Jackson family.

Club Hears Talk On Nutrition

SCHOOLS — Members of the Schools Women's club, meeting for an outdoor session at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Decker, on the former Chandise place, last Tuesday enjoyed an interesting talk by Laura P. Wells of Portland on "Nutrition." Part of her narrative was on the subject of dehydrated foods, their use in the present war, and in the future civilian life, describing a new meat substitute that is now being developed, and high in protein. Mrs. Wells displayed samples of the "K" rations, now being used by the armed forces, which includes a substance that can be used with water as a drink. The use of this material, she said, is being greatly extended by the resourceful WACS, who are using it as a wash for their hair, for stove polish and in other ways.

Another entertaining item on the afternoon program was a Swedish monologue by Mrs. Sewell Johnson of Portland.

During the afternoon, the new year books were distributed, and she said, is being greatly extended by the resourceful WACS, who are using it as a wash for their hair, for stove polish and in other ways.

The club also voted to have each member of the side not serving at each session, pay 25c instead of the usual 10 cents, the money to go toward the purchase of war bonds for the next bond drive.

A large box of donated clothing and one of games that the club had turned in, will be sent to this home. It was decided to donate articles to this home for the next year, as a letter was read by Mrs. Vinning, of articles they would be glad to receive for both boys and girls whom they care for.
