Cedar Mill Club Makes Plans for Carnival, Dance

CEAR MILL — October meeting of the Community club was held last Wednesday evening at Grange hall. Mrs. Hazel Young reported that plans for the carnival were formulated and urged that a good attendance be present. Frank Young, chairman of the dance committee, announced plans for the hard time dance to be held October 27. Roach's orchestra will furnish music.

Club voted to start immediately on a membership contest, with the losing side treating the winners to a dinner. Tom Gallagher and Gertrude Pearson were named committee chairmen to head the contest.

John Kilpack, probation officer of the Portland public schools, gave a very worthwhile talk concerning delinquent children. He stated that delinquency in children often begins with truancy. Having worked in Portland since 1907 at this work, he is well informed as to need for more community recreation and is working wholeheartedly toward that end.

He suggested that since most trouble with children is caused from parental carelessness that there should be a way to discipline and train parents to become better citizens, which would in turn act as an example for children. Parents are the examples from which youngsters copy. Some interesting statistics were given by Mr. Kilpack, among which was the following comparison: Each year in the United States 14 billion dollars are spent on corrective schools and penitentiaries, while only 3½ billion is being spent for education.
